SENATE ASSAILS BUDGET; MOVES TO SUBMIT OWN

Attack Centered on Arms Program.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—After a two hour general attack on President Roosevelt's 8½ billion dollar budget recommendations the senate today adopted the Harrison resolution calling for a joint congressional investigation of the President's whole fiscal program. No dissenting voice was heard.

Senator Alva B. Adams.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, requires action by the house of representatives and the administration leaders in that body are distinctly hostile to the proposal for congress to conduct an investigation and prepare its own budget. Senator Harrison, however, has indicated that he will move for a separate senate inquiry if the house fails to adopt his concurrent resolution.

Emergency Items Attacked.

The main object of attack in the senate debate today was Mr. Roosevelt's so-called emergency armaments program, for which he proposed new taxes of 460 million dollars. The whole military and naval policy of the administration was the subject of questioning, with particular emphasis on the so-called neutrality belt around the western hemisphere which the navy is seeking to police and the revelation that the naval budget includes $4,000,000 for improvements on the Island of Guam, in the far Pacific.

Congress rejected an item of $5,000,000 for the beginning of fortifications at Guam last year, on the ground that it would be an unnecessary and provocative affront to Japan, but the new naval budget includes $4,000,000 for that purpose in a lump sum request for the 14th naval district.

Democrat Among Critics.

The severest indictment of Mr. Roosevelt's budget recommendations came from a Democrat, Senator Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.], a leading economy advocate on the appropriations committee. He intimated that Mr. Roosevelt deliberately slashed appropriation items dear to the hearts of most congressmen in the full realization that congress would restore them, in which event the President could place the blame upon congress for making it necessary to increase the statutory national debt limit.

The President's 8½ billion dollar budget for the next fiscal year estimates that the national debt limit of 45 billion dollars will be avoided by 62 million dollars on June 30, 1941, if congress does not exceed his expenditure recommendations and if congress votes additional taxes of 460 million dollars to finance the new armaments program.

"The President, with a twinkle in his eye, has again outsmarted congress," said Senator Adams.

Points to Cuts Made.

"He has submitted a budget with material cuts. The figures of the budget are such that if congress raises the appropriations we break thru the so-called debt limit or we must levy increased taxes. The President has cut certain items very dear to the hearts of congress. For instance, he has reduced aid for agriculture $423,000,000. He has reduced relief recommendations $562,000,000.

"He has reduced the National Youth administration $15,000,000. He has reduced the CCC $64,000,000. He has reduced the public roads fund $45,000,000. He has reduced the public building recommendations $20,000,000. He has reduced military posts, scattered thruout the country, $53,000,000. He has reduced flood control and river and harbor items $98,000,000.

Urges Approval of Cuts.

"I am merely saying that the President, with a twinkle in his eye, has put this baby on our doorstep. He is going to be in a position to say, 'I gave you a budget recommendation which will not increase the debt

FEAR MAJORITY LOST LIVES IN GAS EXPLOSION

47 Escape Without Knowing Tragedy.

Bartley, W. Va., Jan. 10 (AP).—An explosion, possibly presaging the worst West Virginia mine disaster in 10 years, killed at least two men and entombed an estimated 90 others two miles underground today in the No. 1 mine of the Pond Creek Pocahontas Coal corporation. W. C. Sturgiss, a district mine inspector, announced shortly before midnight that the number of men trapped had been revised upward from 85. Forty-seven men escaped.

Arrow indicates scene of explosion.

Eight rescue crews from this southwestern West Virginia village and nearby communities dug their way toward three blast wrecked sections of the mine, but progress was slow, and midnight found them still 2,500 feet from the estimated location of the disaster. Three hundred men stood by above ground to help when needed.

Twenty-five May Have Escaped.

Sturgiss expressed the opinion that a group of 25 miners in a western section of the mine had the best hance of surviving. He did not speculate on the fate of the others.

Company officials headed by Vice President R. E. Salvati of Holden, remained hopeful that a majority of the men had escaped. "The mine is not torn up at all, as one would think from an explosion of this kind," he said.

At Charleston H. G. Houtz, chief engineer for the department of mine safety, asserted, however, the chances were "slim" that the men still in the mine had been able to build barricades and conserve what pure air remained in the blast areas.

Salvati reported that the 47 men in the eastern section of the operation came out unscathed at 4 p. m., unaware there had been a blast.

In Busy District.

This valley mining community, scene of the blast, is in the southwestern tip of McDowell county, one of southern West Virginia's busiest and richest coal sections. Two other Pond Creek mines rear their shafts within sight of No. 1, along the banks of shallow Dry Fork river.

The cause of the blast was undetermined, altho Sturgiss said it was possible the men had cut thru to some long unused, gas filled entry.

The department of mines at Charleston said Bartley No. 1 was gaseous but was thoroly rock dusted.

Blast at 1:20 P. M.

On the western side the tunnel leaves the foot of the shaft and runs back several thousand feet and branches. Sturgiss fixed the possible location of the explosion in the western area and the time at 1:20 p. m. [Chicago time].

Progress toward the blast sector was slow and mine department officials said the ventilating system had to be rebuilt as the crews moved ahead. The main ventilating system of the mine continued in operation.

A crowd of more than 1,000 persons stood outside a roped area 300 feet from the mine, warming themselves at bonfires while they settled down to wait for word from the bottom of the shaft.

Another inclosure was roped off about 75 feet from the tipple, and into this area gathered more than a hundred wives and relatives of the men caught below.

Miner Killed, 2 Buried.

Bingham, Utah, Jan. 10 (AP).—One miner was killed today and two others buried under tons of débris by a dynamite explosion at the huge pit mine of the Utah Copper company here. Rescue crews recovered the body of Nikola Tomas, 24 years old. L. Buchman, superintendent, said it was doubtful whether laborers could reach the entombed men before morning.

British Invest Cash in Farms; Prices Boom

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Significant of the economic changes rapidly taking place in Great Britain is the disclosure that English investors have been buying farm lands since the beginning of the war.

The buying is said to be largely for investment purposes and the demand in the last few months has been such as to boost the price of agricultural land by about 10 per cent, real estate dealers say. Ordinarily Englishmen buy equities and farm lands have gone begging.

Universities Buy Land.

Universities, colleges, and insurance companies are reported to be consistent buyers of farm lands. Businessmen in syndicates or singly, who in the past have had interests in other forms of investments, now are turning their attention for the first time to agricultural land.

Real estate agents list three reasons for the tendency to put money in land investments:

FIRST—Farm lands now are regarded as the safest security that can be bought anywhere.

SECOND—Farm produce is of national importance and it is felt that the government will not prejudice the position and livelihood of the farmer.

THIRD—Farm land is a security that is not likely to be materially damaged by German aerial bombs.

England has no small holdings of peasant ownership such as exist in Germany and France. Some Britons are anxious to know how far the tendency to invest in farm land will go in the general economic transformation of this country.

Nine Scots in Cabinet.

London politicians have just made the startling discovery that Scotland is steadily pursuing its "conquest" of England.

Usually the British government is made up of about 20 ministers, which number was increased to the figure of 28 at the outbreak of the war. Of these nine are Scotsmen. Thus the Scots have nearly one-third of the ministerial strength altho Scotland's population is only 4,500,000 as against the more than 40,000,000 population of the British isles.

The Scottish ministers are: Malcolm MacDonald, colonies; Walter Elliott, health; Sir John Gilmour, shipping; John Colville, Scotland; Sir John Anderson, home office; W. S. Morrison, food; Euan Wallace, transport; Andrew Duncan, Board of Trade, and Sir John Reith, information. Duncan and Reith were added to the government last week.

WOMAN DRIVER LOSES HER WAY IN THE DARK AND HAS ADVENTURE

Mrs. Bernice McCabe of 7733 North Shore avenue set out about 5:30 p. m. Tuesday to drive to Arlington Heights, where she intended to go skating. She lost her way near Park Ridge, and after turning into what she thought was a dark little road, found that her car was skidding down the North Western railroad tracks. At that moment a red signal began to flash, signifying the approach of a train.

She tried to get back to the road, but found the rear wheels of her car were caught on the railroad track. The front wheels were dangling over an embankment.

A Park Ridge cab driver, Wade Robinson, saw her predicament and ran down the track with a flashlight. J. J. Carroll, engineer of the suburban train approaching on the northbound tracks, saw the dangling car and threw out a red flare in the path of the Viking, fast train soon due from Minneapolis. The Viking engineer saw the flare and slowed down, just as a tow car, summoned by the cab driver, pulled Mrs. McCabe's car to safety.

Taxidermist Outthinks Bear in California Trailer Crisis

Tulare, Cal., Jan. 10 (AP).—Floyd Baker, Los Angeles taxidermist, was hauling a 600 pound black bear from Hollywood when his trailer overturned spilling the bear onto the highway. Baker looked at his shattered trailer and at the bear, to whom he had been introduced only an hour before, and made a quick decision. "All right, boy, climb in," Baker invited, and opened the door of his sedan. The bear climbed in and rode with Baker 10 miles to Castaic, where the trailer was repaired.

Chief's Home Burns While He Studies Fire Fighting

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Jan. 10 (AP).—Fire Chief Fred Kirkpatrick attended a school for firemen today at Memphis, Tenn. While he was away, his house burned.

Otto Fisher.

"Burglars!" said he intuitively, and hopped out of bed, grabbing a .45 caliber pistol which is big enough to knock over an elephant.

Counting on surprise, Mr. Fisher tiptoed down the stairway in the darkness. There was another crash, but he gripped his weapon tightly and keyed up his courage. As he reached the kitchen door he knocked over a chair himself, and there was an answering racket from the living room.

Beats Strategic Retreat.

Retreating behind the kitchen door, which he held open a few inches, Mr. Fisher brought his gun to bear on the outer regions. The gun wavered a bit as he sighted his adversary. He saw two awful eyes upon him.

"Stop, or I shoot!" he cried, and at that instant switched on the lights.

Staring back at him solemnly from its perch on the mantel was an owl. On the floor were two mirrors, a ship model, and a heavy brass ash tray which the bird had knocked down.

It was Mr. Fisher's move, so he advanced, flapping the coat of his pajamas. "Shoo!" he said.

The Owl Dares Him.

With the baleful noise that is characteristic of owls, this one took wing and flew into the kitchen, where it took up a defensive position on the breadbox and dared Mr. Fisher to do his worst.

With discretion he shut the kitchen door, trapping the owl, and retired to bed, placing his pistol carefully under the pillow. In the morning he telephoned Chief of Police John De Smidt, who came over and drove the owl into a box, where it was secured with netting.

The owl now sits in its box in the front window of Fisher's Ermine cleaners establishment at 445 Waukegan avenue.

Workers Hail No-Union Vote in Gala Holiday

Binghamton, N. Y., Jan. 10 [Special].—Thousands of employés of the Endicott-Johnson Shoe corporation laid down their tools today and went out on a spontaneous all day round of festivities. They were celebrating the announcement that their own votes, in an election conducted by the National Labor Relations board, had been cast five to one against unionization of the company's plants.

George F. Johnson.

The full vote was 12,693 against any union, 1,612 for the American Federation of Labor, and 1,079 for the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Disregarding pleas of their executives that they stay at work, the employés started to parade through Binghamton, Endicott, and Johnson City, neighboring towns in which the company has plants.

Pay Tribute to George F. Johnson.

They tooted tin horns. Some of them blew the towns' industrial whistles. They tied up traffic in the city streets. Late tonight the less wearied celebrators were dancing.

In the afternoon the throngs paid their personal tribute to George F. Johnson, 82 years old, chairman of the company, who is ill at his home in Endicott. They marched to the house carrying banners inscribed: "We Trust George F." and "No Union News Is Good News." On one coffin shaped placard in the parade were the words: "Buried Forever—C. I. O. and A. F. of L."

Only when the aged chairman, recovering from pneumonia, had been propped up on pillows and pushed over to a window to wave them a greeting did the celebrators depart. Members of the Johnson family said that George F.—even the children call him that—just smiled.

Called Progressive Company.

Endicott-Johnson has long been known as one of the most progressive companies in the country in industrial relations work. George W. Johnson, son of George F., and president of the firm, said: "The vote told it all." He added that there had been constant efforts for two years to unionize the plants.

His brother Charles, also an officer, said the result proved that the company's policies were sound, and that the workers' loyalty to George F. and their faith in him had not been impaired.

"We want all the employés back at work tomorrow," he said. "The best way they can pay honor to George F. is to make better shoes."

Workers Share in Earnings.

Comment on the election, which is believed to be the second largest ever conducted by the labor board, was refused by officials of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. William Green, president of the A. F. of L., had come here to make a plea for support of his organization.

The rejection of this and all other union pleas was attributed to the

DETROIT MAYOR GIVES BUSINESS A SCOLDING FOR LABOR TROUBLES

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10 [Special].—Detroit's new mayor, Edward J. Jeffries, who took office Jan. 1, today warned several hundred business men at a Rotary club luncheon that the city is getting a bad reputation because of its labor troubles and other difficulties. He advised them to believe they have a good city and to sell the idea to others.

"You have forgotten or overlooked the fact," he said, "that our competitors have been making capital of our troubles and have advertised us up and down the country as the battleground for every known emotional and class conflict.

"They want what we have—and you, gentlemen, by joining their anvil chorus, have helped them. Instead of fighting, you gentlemen have been agreeing with them. In the last 10 years we have let Detroit slip into the doldrums. You should be leaders in Detroit, but you have flucked the job."

NAZIS PREPARE TO PAY WAGES IN CERTIFICATES

Work More, Consume Less! New Slogan.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, as dictator of Germany's economic life, has summoned all industrial leaders in the reich to Berlin for a general conference. The outstanding leaders conferred with him tonight to prepare for the meeting.

The Germans expect that the country's entire economic and financial life will be reorganized and that the production of goods for domestic consumption will be curtailed in favor of war requirements.

The Nazis told their followers today that their new slogan must be "Work More—Consume Less!" Plans are being made whereby workers and employers are to receive part of their pay in certificates which they can use to pay their labor fund dues, insurance, and similar obligations. The certificates could not be used to increase consumption.

Try to Halt Buying Wave.

According to the plan which experts believe has the best chance of being enforced, workers are to receive 10 per cent of their pay in certificates with half of these certificates being placed in compulsory saving accounts. The certificates would not come due for several years.

Authorities have been seeking a method to halt what is considered to be a wave of excessive buying of unrationed articles so that industries producing these articles may work for direct war purposes. By reducing the amount of money people have to spend, it is reasoned, the government automatically would stop such buying and thus make available more cash to pay for the war.

Das Schwarze Korps, organ of Heinrich Himmler, chief of all German police forces, warned the public that it must be prepared to make sacrifices in its daily life.

Restrictions Demanded.

"Restriction of purchasing power is the price that every single German must pay for Germany's entry into her position as a world power," the periodical said. "After our victory Germany will get her share of the world's goods. The restrictions that the German people must impose on themselves now will be the most profitable of all investments ever made in their history."

Businessmen described the plan to pay wages partly in certificates as a new step toward inflation. This fear of inflation was increased by the disclosure of the size of the nation's floating debt at the end of October. In that month the floating debt rose by more than 11 per cent to $4,448,832,500. The figure does not include the issue of tax certificates.

This issue aggregated $320,000,000 in October. In the same month advance payments on the increased income and war taxes were made, but this was not sufficient to cover war expenditures. Since May, 1939, the government has issued $2,000,000,000 worth of tax certificates. They will serve as additional currency with which taxpayers in coming months will pay part of their tax obligations.

Conquered Areas Warned.

Populations of newly conquered territories also were warned to work more and consume less by German authorities.

A representative of the leader of the German organization of artisans spoke to foreign correspondents today on the settling of skilled workers in the new German eastern districts.

After explaining that the Nazi party was picking the men on their ability and reputation as disclosed by the official records, the Nazi subleader said:

"Polish artisans will move from the territories now incorporated into Germany to areas that are not to be fully incorporated. They are expected to work."

He added that Germany needs the working power of everybody, including that of the Poles, which "will help Germany win the war."

Members of Hitler's elite guard are policing the Polish territory. Das

Schwarze Korps in an article on "wartime horrors in Poland," said:

"No German can be expected to breathe the same air as the Poles. There can be only one decision—a complete cultural and general human separation between the Germans and Poles."

Notices appeared on billboards in Berlin today ordering men of the "first reserve and second reserve," born in 1897 and thereafter, to report to military authorities.

However, the public does not expect a major offensive in the near future because of a cold wave. Last night the temperature dropped to 6 degrees below zero in Berlin. Residents suffered because of the coal shortage.

In an attempt to increase the transportation of coal to the big cities, German railroads eliminated a number of passenger trains.

Secret Police Seize Jews.

PRAGUE, Jan. 10.—Rigid enforcement of the 8 o'clock curfew decree for Jews in the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia began yesterday when the police raided restaurants and coffee houses. They arrested all Jews they found there or in the streets.

Police patrols stopped persons in the streets and demanded identification papers. Those without papers were taken to the police station, where, in some cases, fines were imposed.

Tonight all rooms reserved for Jews in public places closed at 8 o'clock.

16 BRITONS HURT BY TRAIN WRECK IN A BLACKOUT

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Sixteen persons were injured in the blackout near Manchester tonight when a suburban electric train crashed into a halted train. Four cars were partly telescoped and one coach jumped the rails and crashed thru the roof of a suburban station platform.

Two passengers trapped in the wreckage were kept warm with hot water bottles for two hours while workmen hacked away the side of a car and freed them.

A subway elevator in Birkenhead, loaded with seventy men, women, and children, fell 80 feet from the street level to the bottom of its shaft tonight, injuring 50. Forty suffered broken ribs and other injuries. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

MAGNETIC MINE AVAILABLE FOR U. S. SINCE 1925

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—Congress learned today that a naval official was granted a patent in 1925 for a magnetic mine similar to the type reported to be in use by Germany.

Rear Admiral W. R. Furlong, chief of naval ordnance, said Commander Glennon, in charge of the navy's mine laboratory, obtained the patent but that the navy never used his mine.

In response to questions, Furlong told a house appropriations subcommittee there was no protection against them nor any means of removing them. He indicated that means can be found and presumed the British will use them.

Brittanic Brings 128 War Refugees and Eight Horses

New York, Jan. 10 [Special].—The Cunard White Star liner Brittanic docked at the old North German Lloyd pier in the North river with 180 passengers today after a rough Atlantic crossing. On board were 128 central European war refugees and eight thorobred horses from the stables of the Aga Khan and Lord Derby. Most famous of the horses is Sierra Nevada, Payne stakes winner at Newmarket, which has been sold to Niel McCarthy of Los Angeles. Four others will go to the stables of Louis B. BRITISH FLYERS RAID GERMANS; FIGHT 2 BATTLES

Large Craft Drop Bombs Near Isle Air Base.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 11, Thursday.—Fierce battles between British and German warplanes over the North sea were announced in an air ministry statement early this morning.

[Associated Press dispatches reported four battles, three over the Island of Sylt and one over Heligoland bay.]

Twice yesterday British bombers on patrol flights were in action over the Heligoland bay area and the North sea, the air ministry reports. It declared the British lost one plane, while shooting down two German craft.

Island Air Base Bombed.

On the first occasion, in the early hours of yesterday morning, the British official communique asserted the planes dropped bombs near the German Island of Sylt, an important German air base north of Heligoland.

[Residents of Tondern, Danish town near the Island of Sylt, were said by the Associated Press to have reported that the British planes bombed the Hindenburg causeway leading from the island to the mainland. One bomb was believed to have hit the causeway and rail traffic to the island is said to have been stopped. The Island of Sylt lies from 7 to 12 miles from the mainland.]

In the second sortie, the British raiders were challenged by German fighters and went into close formation. According to the air ministry's version, they opened fire with their multiple guns and drove off their attackers after a running battle that raged for half an hour.

Bombs Hit Danish Soil.

Dealing with the attempt to bomb Sylt, the air ministry reported that Danish property near the frontier was damaged and promised restitution if British bombers are proved to have been responsible.

[An Associated Press dispatch stated a plane, presumably British, dropped three bombs on the Danish Island of Roem, near Sylt, doing little damage.]

The ministry statement this morning said the North sea battle took place about 200 miles from the English coast. A number of Germany's latest and fastest fighters, which the British class as twin-engined multigun Messerschmitt 110's, dived with the sun behind them and attacked. The British bombers, it was stated, met the challenge of their faster opponents by concentrated fire.

British Plane Falls in Sea.

In the first wave of the attack, one British plane, the air ministry admitted, crashed into the sea. A few minutes later, it said, a German fighter hit the water at high speed.

When the other German plane was shot down was not stated. This morning's statement contradicted an earlier communique that claimed at least two other Messerschmitt planes were damaged, and that one of them was forced down on Danish soil.

After beating off the Germans, the air ministry claimed, the British planes flew on for 130 miles on their reconnaissance flight and then returned to their base.

Germans Use New Type Plane.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Mysterious new airplanes of which the Germans have been whispering for three months made their first appearance today in a battle with nine British bombers over Heligoland bay.

The Germans declared four of the planes took to the air when the nine British Blenheim bombers, which are two motored planes with a top speed at 20,000 feet of 277 miles an hour, were sighted. They said the British tried to flee but that the Germans shot down three.

Since the end of the Polish campaign the Germans have been telling one another that all Germany's airplane plants were concentrating on the manufacture of new and superlative planes perfected thru knowledge gained in the Polish war.

[Another dispatch from Berlin stated the Germans may have developed a new type of Junkers pursuit craft for long range activity as a protector of bombers. Rumors say its maneuverability equals the Messerschmitt plane and that it is armed with cannon.]

Flyers Attack Steamer.

LONDON, Jan. 10 (AP).—Germany's aerial invasion of British coastal waters was extended today to the southeast Scottish coast. Watchers there said they saw two bombers attack an unidentified steamer with bombs and machine guns. The ship escaped by zigzagging.

The toll of mass attacks yesterday by German warplanes on British and neutral shipping was increased with the announcement that a second British steamer, the 1,985 ton Oakgrove, had gone down after an assault from the air. The Gowrie, a 689-ton coastal boat, also was sunk yesterday. The Oakgrove's casualties were not determined.

It also was disclosed that the 1,000-ton British ship Upminister was bombed but not sunk. Three of her crew were killed. Survivors said they were machine-gunned in lifeboats.

[Germans claimed eight British ships were sunk in Tuesday's raids off the east English coast, in which at least 12 ships were attacked from the air.]

French Ship Aground.

British fishing boat operators, five of whose vessels were raked by German machine gun fire yesterday, discussed defensive arming of fishing trawlers with admiralty and ministry of fisheries representatives at Hull.

The 4,191 ton French steamer Mantauban is reported to have run aground and broken her back off the northeast coast of England today.

The 7,016 ton British liner Rothesay Castle was damaged when it struck rocks on the west coast of Scotland the night of Jan. 4, it was disclosed.

It is reported that Britons, age 20 to 22 years, inclusive, who were registered in December, will soon be called to arms, bringing an additional 240,000 men under the colors.

French Repulse Grenadiers.

PARIS, Jan. 10 (AP).—German hand grenade attacks on two isolated French posts west of the Vosges mountains were repulsed with slight losses during the night, French military sources said today.

Tonight's communique stated: "Artillery action and activity of reconnaissance units on both sides, especially east and west of the Vosges mountains. Resumption of aerial activity."

A 40 minute air raid alarm was sounded at 9:20 tonight [4:20 p. m. Chicago time] in northwest France.

Air Battle Scenes

British sources yesterday reported two air battles with German planes while on patrol over Heligoland area and while bombing base at the Island of Sylt.

TWO CHICAGOANS SENT TO FIGHTING FRONT IN FINLAND

4 Americans Accompany Two Ambulances.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 10 (AP).—Four American volunteers arrived at the Finnish port of Turku [Abo] from Stockholm today with two ambulances and were assigned immediately to an undisclosed sector of the front. The Americans were John F. Hasey, Bridgewater, Mass.; F. Lewis Bartlett, New York City, and Robert H. Newman and William B. Mock, both of Chicago. [Mock is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Mock, 1616 Forest place, Evanston].

Permits to Ski in Sweden.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Five American aviators who fought in Spain, after failing to get jobs as ambulance drivers with American volunteers, who already have gone to Finland, have received Swedish visas to go to Sweden to ski.

Among them is Vincent Schmidt who, after fighting in the Chinese war, lined up with the Spanish Loyalists. Another is 18 year old Charles Stehlin, son of the Lafayette Escadrille ace of the same name who was credited in the great war with bringing down eight German planes. Young Stehlin was the youngest flyer with Gen. Francisco Franco's army. The others are Fred Ottesen, Marcus Clark, and George Folds. It is assumed here that they intend to join the Finnish air forces.

TELLS CANADIANS TO REGARD WAR MORE SERIOUSLY

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 10 (AP).—Premier Mitchell Hepburn opened the fifth session of the 20th Ontario logislature today by declaring Canadians were not taking the war seriously enough.

"I look for a long war—a horrible, bloody, brutal war—and I look for more vacant seats when this house meets again," Hepburn said at the opening of the session.

The customary speech from the throne said Ontario had ample electric power resources for present needs and that plans to take care of future demands were under way. This was interpreted generally as a reference to the negotiations with the United States of America concerning the St. Lawrence river seaway and power project.

KILLS SELF WITH GUN.

Oscar Slater, 53 years old, 6154 Kimbark avenue, was found shot to death yesterday in his room at 4845 Irving Park boulevard. He left a note saying he had taken his life because of illness.

GERMAN COTTON SHIP QUITS BRAZIL TO TRY TO RUN SEA BLOCKADE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 10 (AP).—The German freighter Sao Paulo, 4,977 tons, heavily loaded with cotton, sailed from Cabedello last Monday, joining one other German ship attempting to run home thru the British blockade. Cabedello is at the eastern tip of Brazil, near Pernambuco. The Bahia, 4,118 tons, sailed from Bahia, Brazil, last Saturday and has not been reported since.

The German freighter Rio Grande, 6,062 tons, which sailed from Rio Grande do Sul the same day, put back into port on Sunday, reporting her engines damaged. Brazilian naval planes reported the British cruiser Ajax was sighted off Rio Grande do Sul at about the same time.

GERMANS BREAK MARRIAGE AND BIRTH RECORDS

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The year 1939, which saw Germany plunged into war, was a record year for marriages and brought a further increase in the birth rate, it was disclosed by vital statistics issued today.

Tho final figures have not been compiled, it was stated that the 1934 high of 740,161 marriages will be exceeded. Births are expected to total about 1,640,000, including those in Austria, the Sudetenland, Memel, and Danzig.

In the first three quarters of last year 58,165 more children were born in old reich territory than in the previous year. Including Austria, births exceeded last year's by 91,084 for the same period. It was emphasized that the birth figures will surpass those for France for 1938 by more than a million, while exceeding by more than 300,000 those for France and Great Britain combined.

CONGRESS QUITS IN PARAGUAY TO REVAMP PARTIES

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Jan. 10 (AP).—The Paraguayan congress, composed entirely of Liberal party members, has decided to resign so the opposition National Republican party can participate in a reorganization.

The senate voted at a closed session last night to submit its resignation, following the lead of the chamber of deputies. The party directorate will decide when the resignations are effective.

The National Republicans, contending "There are no liberties in Paraguay and the rights of her citizens are not respected," refused to take part in the last elections on April 30. On Dec. 26, the Liberal party directorate suggested reorganizing the congress, it being understood the National Republicans were willing to participate, if general elections were called.

SAYS ROOSEVELT HAS NO RIGHT TO DICTATE PEACE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Under the heading "America's Attitude to War," Baron Davies, bank and railway director and former private secretary to David Lloyd George, prime minister during the world war, today expressed several grievances in a letter to the Yorkshire Post.

He wrote:

"If, as Franklin Roosevelt says, America is not willing to make a sacrifice now in order to establish a durable peace, what moral right has he to suggest that his country will have any claim to leadership when the war is over?

"One understands the reluctance of the American people to participate in what they believe is an imperialistic war, but one fails to understand their half-heartedness in coming to the aid of a small democratic country like Finland. This attitude is a negation of democracy and of all those principles which one always imagined the great republic in the west stood for and was prepared to defend.

"America has abandoned the freedom of the seas and is definitely on the run. It is therefore preposterous to suggest that when the next armistice comes this nation, which is more concerned about its own safety and the dollar, should pretend to leadership which it will have done nothing to deserve."

STUDENTS SHOUT AS POPE FAILS TO ADDRESS THEM

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 10.—A group of 100 Italian Catholic students shouted in annoyance today because Pope Pius XII. neglected to address them during the pope's customary Wednesday public audience. As they left the Vatican they sang their federation song. Vatican sources said the pope was irritated by the demonstration.

The incident occurred after the pope had addressed several hundred newlywed couples. Then he spoke in German to a group of German pilgrims and departed slowly.

The students, who are members of the "Fuci" [Italian Catholic university federation], shouted "We want an audience for the Fuci!" "Fuci" sounds like "Duce" in Italian and those present thought the students meant Premier Mussolini. The students began singing their song, which stresses the word "youth" [giovineza]. That is the theme of the Fascist hymn.

Italians' Coffee Ration to Be 1¼ Ounces a Month

ROME, Jan. 10.—Having expected coffee to be available again on Feb. 1, Italians were disappointed today to learn that it will be rationed at the rate of 1¼ ounces monthly a person. It was announced that public bars will be permitted to sell the usual number of cups of coffee to customers.

British Issue 5,000 Permits for Shipping; U.S. Gets Most

LONDON, Jan. 10 (AP).—The ministry of economic warfare today announced that 5,000 navigation certificates—most of them for American shippers—had been issued since introduction of the "navicert" system Dec. 1 to expedite shipments not contraband thru the British-French blockade. Argentina was issued the second largest number, Brazil the third, and Uruguay the fourth. The ministry said the navicert system was solving many war trade problems.

RUMANIA READY FOR PARLEY, BUT WON'T CEDE LAND

Vows to Keep Territory Hungary Seeks.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Jan. 10 (AP).—Rumanian officials asserted tonight that Rumania was ready to settle long standing differences with Hungary, but that any territorial cession was out of the question.

Hungary wants Rumania to give up Transylvania, part of the territory Rumania won when the Austro-Hungarian empire broke up after the world war.

Despite the insistence of Rumanian authorities that they would not even discuss cession of any soil, the feeling grew among foreign diplomats that King Carl of Rumania might yield soon to an Italian-backed plan for settlement.

Program Worked Out.

Budapest reports said that the Italian and Hungarian foreign ministers, Count Galeazzo Ciano and Count Stephan Csaky, in their meetings at Venice last week-end, had worked out such a program.

Under this plan, to which the Budapest government is said to have agreed, Hungary would give up claims to Transylvania for the present in return for a Rumanian promise of territorial revision after the present European war.

In payment for that promise, which would be guaranteed by Italy, Rumania would receive assurance of full Italian and Hungarian support against any Russian attack on Bessarabia, the former Russian province Rumania gained after the world war.

International Poker Game.

Rumanian officials, in informally rejecting the idea of territorial concessions, said that Rumania was quite willing to begin talks for economic concessions and other moves to improve relations with Hungary.

Budapest sources considered this Rumanian attitude as a natural starting point in the international poker game and professed belief that Bucharest was striving for the best possible terms.

Italy also was understood to have a plan for settling differences between Rumania and Bulgaria, which desires return of the Dobruja district. Dobruja is an area of mixed nationalities that Rumania gained in a settlement of the Balkan wars.

Balkan Entente to Meet.

The Italian plan was understood to call for outright cession of purely Hungarian and Bulgarian districts contiguous to Hungary and Bulgaria and for plebiscites in districts of mixed nationality. A transfer of nationalities from districts not adjacent to the present frontier also was envisioned.

Reports from Belgrade indicated that Italy also was trying to draw Jugo-Slavia into her front against possible Russian expansion into southeast Europe.

The Jugo-Slav government announced that the Balkan entente would meet in Belgrade Feb. 2-4. Entente members are Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, Greece and Turkey. It was assumed that Italian efforts to line up a southeastern European front would be the center of entente attention, with the Italian and Bulgarian ministers in Belgrade keeping in close contact with the conference.

American Envoy Sees Ciano.

ROME, Jan. 10 (AP).—American Ambassador William Phillips and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano discussed the international situation briefly today. Phillips was believed eager to obtain information on how Italy's reported new defensive pact with Hungary would affect Italian policy in the Balkans.

JANE DRUMMOND.

Jane Drummond, a Chicago model who obtained a Hollywood contract without so much as a screen test, left for the west coast yesterday on the Santa Fe Chief.

Miss Drummond, who has posed frequently for The Tribune color studio, was spotted by a talent scout for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in a performance of "Anna Christie" at the Goodman theater, where she had been studying dramatics for three years. Other critics, from New York and Hollywood, came to view her, and the contract was hers.

She first studied at Northwestern university school of speech, and later continued with the Goodman group. During the summer months she played in the Woodstock summer theater.

As she boarded the train with an M.-G.-M. official, Joan Crawford popped up, en route back to Hollywood from New York, and cordially offered herself as a Hollywood guide

REDS OUST PLANE BUILDING CHIEF; CLOSE TO STALIN

MOSCOW, Jan. 10 (AP).—Mikhail M. Kaganovich, commissar for soviet Russia's aviation industry, has been relieved of his duties and transferred to another post, Tass, the official soviet news agency, announced tonight. His successor is M. Shakhurin, a newcomer among the commissars.

Appointed as assistants to Shakhurin were Y. A. Yakovlev, chairman of the credentials committee of the All-Union congress, and Prof. V. Voronin, long recognized in Russia as an authority in airplane construction and design.

Kaganovich is a brother of Lazar Kaganovich, who is a confidant of Dictator Josef Stalin and administrator in several successive key posts of the soviet. Mikhail formerly was assistant commissar of the defense industry and in that capacity visited Washington, D. C., in 1937. He was interested in promoting the soviet Russian distance flights over the polar route to the United States of America in 1937.

Scandinavians to Seek Air Line to United States

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 10.—Representatives of three Scandinavian aviation companies, the Danske Luftfartselskab of Denmark, the Aero Transport company of Sweden, and the Norwegian Aviation company, together with postal representatives of their countries, will sail for New York tomorrow to discuss the possibilities of opening a direct air route between the United States and Scandinavia.

FINNS SAY THIRD RED DIVISION IS CAUGHT IN TRAP

Recover Posts on 30 Miles of Soviet Frontier.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 10 (AP).—Finnish troops in central eastern Finland were reported to have surrounded a new soviet division today after hurling the remnants of the routed Red army's 44th and 163d divisions back into Russia east of Suomussalmi.

This third Russian division was reported trapped at Kukkammo, about 60 miles south of the recent victories at Suomussalmi. Details of the action there were lacking.

The Finns set up positions along 30 miles of the Russian frontier east of Lake Kianta and Suomussalmi. This covers four points at which Finland has thrown the invaders back on to their own soil.

A Finnish communique said that a Red army battalion had been dispersed northeast of Lake Ladoga with the enemy leaving "200 dead on the field." The Finns took 40 prisoners.

Drive Right Up to Border.

"At Suomussalmi our troops, advancing in the direction of Raate, have reached the frontier and cleared the area of enemy troops," the communique said.

[The Russian military communique covering operations of Jan. 10 said: "Nothing of importance took place at the front. Activities of scouts were noted and in some places artillery fire. Owing to unfavorable weather soviet aviation made only scouting flights."]

Associated Press Correspondent Thomas F. Hawkins, with the Finnish army at Raate, reported the Russians in full flight as the Finns drove right up to the border in cleaning up operations. It was the first time the Suomussalmi sector had been cleared of Russians since the war started.

Hawkins, telling of the huge war stores left on the battlefield by the fleeing Red army, said that evidence on the bodies of the dead Russians indicated the 44th division was one of the Red army's crack units which had been engaged in the Polish campaign.

Capture Hundreds of Shells.

He found the town of Suomussalmi, which once had a population of 2,500, completely demolished by savage warfare, with only blackened chimneys and shell riddled frame buildings left standing.

Hundreds of Russian shells, guns, trucks, and tanks were seen abandoned in wild confusion along the 4½ mile stretch of twisting highway which served as a battlefield for the 44th Red division and attacking Finnish troops.

A Finnish colonel at Raate told the Associated Press that Finland's losses in the battles against the 44th and 163d divisions were comparatively small "altho there are casualties of course in a heavy battle." Thousands of Russians were reported killed and more than 1,000 captured.

One a Rout, Other a Battle.

A Finnish general said that victory might have belonged to the Red army if it had counterattacked strongly. He expressed belief that the counterattack was not made because of lack of reënforcements and disorganization.

In comparing the battles against the two Russian divisions, the Finns said the fight with the 163d division was a rout while that with the 44th was bitterly contested. Victory came, they declared, thru superior strategy with a measure of luck.

The turning point in the bitter battle was at the frontier when Finnish ski patrols succeeded in destroying a highway bridge which kept the Russians from bringing up reënforcements.

The Finnish army communique said there was comparative quiet on the other fronts yesterday. Only minor engagements were reported in the air and on the sea.

GERMANS CHARGE BRITISH PREMIER IS EMBARRASSED

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP).—Authorized German circles today interpreted Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's mansion house address yesterday as "that of a greatly embarrassed old man who, to hide his own discomfiture," bitterly assailed the enemy.

The British prime minister's reference to the Russian-German pact as "unholy" evoked smiles from Nazis.

"If Britain had succeeded in concluding a similar arrangement with the soviets it would have been proclaimed holy," these sources said.

SWISS MAY BAN EXPORTS OF KEY RAW MATERIALS

Seek Relaxation of British Sea Blockade.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland, Jan. 10.—The Swiss government tonight was reported unofficially to be planning to prohibit the exportation of a number of key raw materials in the hope of inducing Britain to lift the blockade which is crippling many industrial enterprises here.

Crude rubber and various metals useful in manufacturing armaments are expected to come under the export ban on the grounds that a shortage exists in this country. Some finished goods, such as tires, also are mentioned in this connection.

There is no question that a serious shortage of raw materials exists. Some factories, especially those making rubber products, are working only two or three days weekly when they have orders enough to work to capacity if the British would release raw materials from their custody.

Shipments from Neutrals.

Hundreds of tons of goods destined for Switzerland, including shipments from other neutrals, such as America, are seized on the high seas by the British navy on the excuse that their ultimate destination might be Germany.

This attempt to throttle Germany is throttling Switzerland at the same time, many businessmen assert.

The Swiss government already requires export licenses. "Naturally we are not going to issue licenses for exports of any raw materials we are short of ourselves," a government spokesman said today. "Our exports have been stringently controled right along."

Despite this, however, British agencies in Switzerland require very thoro assurances from Swiss firms that their imports will not find their way to Germany. Many companies which filled out countless documents find that their goods nevertheless are unaccountably delayed.

British Point of View.

In well informed commercial circles it is said that an outright ban would come closer to meeting the British point of view than the export licensing system. By making it unlawful to reëxport certain goods the Swiss would, in effect, be giving the British a guarantee that the merchandise would not be reshipped to the reich.

The prohibition of exports probably would arouse the ire of Germany, businessmen say, but they declare that such a move would be perfectly legal from the Swiss standpoint.

Pressure on the Government.

The British practice of blockading shipments to Switzerland even after all the formalities are complied with is believed here to be an attempt to force the Swiss businessmen to bring pressure on the government to give Britain a guarantee that no goods will be shipped across the border into Germany.

This would make Britain's task considerably easier. The Swiss government has refrained from stating its attitude on the British seizure of imports from other neutrals, but in trade circles this action is arousing widespread indignation, even among persons sympathetic to Britain and France.

CONGRESS GETS BILL FOR COSTS OF 'EMERGENCY'

$267,000,000 Measure Up in House Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congress was presented today with an appropriation measure carrying $267,000,000. This was the bill for military and naval expenditures incurred under the emergency proclamation issued last fall by President Roosevelt.

The so-called emergency appropriation is for the present fiscal year and will not affect the 1 billion, 800 million dollar program demanded by Mr. Roosevelt for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1.

The army and navy already have received more than 1½ billion dollars for the present fiscal year, and the pending appropriation will swell their expenditures for this year to 1 billion 787 millions. Thus more than 3½ billions are scheduled to be spent on armaments in the two year period between July 1, 1939, and July 1, 1941.

Members Cool Toward Increase.

Several members of the house appropriations committee seemed disposed to question the necessity for these huge appropriations. At a committee hearing, a transcript of which was made public today, Representative George W. Johnson [D., W. Va.] quizzed Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, concerning the need for such an enlarged program.

"We do not contemplate going to war with anybody, do we?" Johnson asked.

"I see no signs of it in this program," replied Gen. Marshall.

"It seems to me that the people across the Atlantic have about all they can do to take care of themselves, on both sides," commented Johnson. "I wonder whether it is absolutely necessary to enlarge our program to this extent at the present time. There is the question of taxation and there is the psychological effect it might have on other nations if we start in here all of a sudden to build up the defense program of the army nad navy."

Up for Debate Today.

The appropriation bill, first of the session, will be taken up in the house tomorrow. Expenditures in the measure were itemized as follows:

ARMY—$116,000,000 to pay for an increase in the enlisted strength from 210,000 to 227,000 men; an increase in the enlisted strength of the National Guard from 210,000 to 235,000; and for equipment and material consistent with these increases.

NAVY—$145,000,000 to pay for 518 new navy planes; recommissioning of 64 old destroyers for the neutrality patrol in Atlantic waters; and an increase in the enlisted strength from 116,000 to 145,000.

The remaining $6,000,000 in the bill is for the coast guard and the federal bureau of investigation, which was ordered by President Roosevelt in his emergency proclamation to conduct a special investigation into the activities of foreign agents in the United States.

36 Ships Found Defective.

With Rear Admiral S. M. Robinson, chief of the navy bureau of engineering, in the witness chair, the committee inquired at length into the disclosures of defective ship design which resulted in a shakeup of the navy department last fall.

Robinson admitted that defects in structural design had been found in 36 new 1,500 ton destroyers. These small warships were found to lack stability.

"The corrections were nothing unusual," he declared. "We make changes, either to correct mistakes or to improve military characteristics, on every ship that we build. The ships were not liable to capsize. They would have been dangerous only under extraordinary conditions, such as when they might have been lightened by firing all their ammunition and then facing a heavy sea."

SEEK TO ATTACH RUSSIAN FUNDS IN FRENCH BANKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 10.—A French petroleum company is attempting to attach thru court action the 75,000,000 francs [about $1,618,875] belonging to the soviet trade corporation here as compensation for losses the company alleges it suffered thru Russian seizure of its oil wells in Poland.

The company, the French Industrial and Commercial Oil syndicate, claims that it owned or represented a 37,065 acre concession in Poland that now is occupied by the Reds. The company further says that it had nine separate enterprises in operation.

The Russian trade corporation, called the Torgpredstvo, has its deposits in three French banks, including the Bank of France. The president of the civil court will give his decision tomorrow.

Pleads for Husband

Mrs. Liselotte Hinsch, wife of second officer of scuttled German liner Columbus.

New York, Jan. 10 [Special].—Action was taken here and in Washington today to free members of the crew of the scuttled German liner Columbus after decision of the United States to allow the crew to return to Germany by way of the Pacific. Fritz Weidemann, German consul general at San Francisco, arrived in Washington by airplane to discuss with officials how to return the seamen of military age to Germany by way of San Francisco and Asia.

Meantime Mrs. Liselotte Hinsch, wife of Kurt Hinsch, second officer of the Columbus, appeared in federal court here to plead for her husband's release from Ellis Island. She said they were married in Mexico just before the ship sailed on its fatal voyage. Her plea was denied.

EX-FELON SEIZED IN GARY RAID IS FREED ON BOND

John Sawochka, 36 years old, seized with three other former convicts last Saturday night in a raid on his bungalow at 702 West 19th avenue in Gary, was freed from the Lake county jail at Crown Point last night in $10,000 bond. Sawochka is charged with harboring criminals and possessing explosives. The bond was supplied by his brother, Michael Sawochka, assistant business agent of the Milk Drivers, Chauffeurs, and Dairy Employés' union, local 142.

John Sawochka was paroled from the Stillwater, Minn., prison in 1936 after serving nine years of a five to 40 year sentence for robbery with a gun. He since has been discharged. He has been a truck driver for the Gary street department since Jan. 1, 1939.

He said he did not know his bungalow guests were wanted for robberies in South Bend and Muncie, Ind. He charged one of them must have owned the two sticks of explosive gelatin found there. Since his release, Sawochka said, he has been writing a book of prison experiences. Police examined the 500 page manuscript and also Sawochka's library of 400 volumes of the classics.

JAPAN'S PREMIER TO RESIGN UNDER ARMY'S PRESSURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 11, Thursday.—Premier Gen. Nobuyuki Abe has decided to resign, it was learned on good authority this morning. He is expected to call an extraordinary session of the cabinet early next week and ask for its resignation.

The premier was understood to have made his decision after War Minister Gen. Shunroku Hata told him that the army desired stabilization of the political situation.

Conferences at which a successor to Premier Abe was considered already have been held, it was said.

ACTS TO INSURE NEUTRALITY OF AMERICAN SHIPS

Bill Would Restrict Switch to Alien Flag.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—A bill making it unlawful to sell, lease, or transfer to foreign registry any American vessel for the purpose of circumventing the neutrality act of 1939 was introduced in the senate today in behalf of Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.]. Senator Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] introduced the bill at the request of Senator Clark, who is in a hospital.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark.

Senator Clark's bill was offered as a result of the maritime commission's action in granting permission for the United States Lines company to transfer eight of its ships to Norwegian registry, under a purported sale to a Norwegian corporation. Permission for the Norwegian transfer was granted after a storm of opposition in and out of the Roosevelt administration had forced abandonment of the original plan, approved by the commission and favored by the President, to transfer the eight vessels to the registry of Panama.

Won't Let Issue Die.

Senator Clark, it was learned, does not intend to let this matter drop with the introduction of his bill to prohibit future flag switching schemes to circumvent the act, under which American ships are barred from the European war zones. The Missouri senator has expressed his determination to demand a senate investigation of the maritime commission's action and of lobbying activities on the part of two or more persons in behalf of the United States Lines.

Among those mentioned as lobbyists for the United States Lines are a former high official of the Roosevelt administration and a former New Deal governor who is a frequent caller at the White House. Senator Clark is said to be interested in reports that a $200,000 slush fund was placed at the disposal of the lobbyists.

Commission Withholds O. K.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull and many supporters of the Roosevelt administration in congress denounced the original plan to transfer the United States Lines vessels to the registry of Panama as a palpable subterfuge to circumvent the neutrality act.

The maritime commission thereupon withheld its approval of the transfer but agreed, on Dec. 29, to permit the purported sale of the North Atlantic Transport company, a newly formed Norwegian corporation.

In announcing its decision the commission said that Norwegian citizens owned 60 per cent of the new corporation and the United States Lines owned 40 per cent.

Affiliate of I. M. M.

The United States Lines company is an affiliate of the International Mercantile Marine company, which is owned in part by British interests. Vincent Astor, a close friend of President Roosevelt, is a director of I. M. M. Kermit Roosevelt, who recently became a British subject in order to be eligible for a commission in the British army, is vice president of the United States Lines. John M. Franklin is president and a director of both companies.

Senator Clark's bill would amend the merchant marine act of 1936 by making it unlawful to sell, mortgage, lease, charter, deliver, or in any manner transfer to any person not a citizen of the United States or transfer or place under foreign registry any vessel owned in whole or in part by an American citizen while any proclamation issued under the neutrality act is in effect.

STOP SHIPPING ARMS TO CHINA, FRENCH WARNED

Japanese Say They'll Bomb All Bridges.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—The Japanese army and navy have served notice upon French authorities here to the effect that munitions shipments over the Haiphong-Kunming railway into Yunnan province must cease within the fortnight ending Jan. 23. This was learned authoritatively today.

Map locates strategic railway.

Failure to comply, it was said, will result in a Japanese attempt to destroy every bridge on the railway between Kunming and the borders of French Indo-China. The route is strategically important to the Chinese military machine, much of whose supplies flow over it.

French military authorities here last week approached Japanese military authorities asking cessation of the bombing of the portion of the railway lying within Chinese borders. The plea was referred to Tokio, it was reported, and the reply received resulted in the Japanese decision to set the two week time limit.

Abundance of Arms.

The French are understood to have told the Japanese that there is already landed at French Indo-China ports enough munitions, grenades, artillery, and machine guns to tax the railway's maximum hauling capacity for the next two months. These materials are all either of Austrian or Czecho-Slovakian manufacture. China is said to have bought them from Germany under a barter agreement concluded before the outbreak of the European war and therefore they are not subject to French seizure.

Three Are Missing.

The French press indicated that if the Japanese ruin the railway these war materials will be trans-shipped to Rangoon and will reach China over the Burma highway, but the Japanese have failed to react to these hints.

A Domei dispatch from Hankow today reported the Japanese river steamer Simeu Maru had sunk after "striking something like a mine" 35 miles down the Yangtze from Hankow.

One of her crew and two passengers were missing.

Jap Troops Loot Mission.

PEKING, China, Jan. 10 (AP).—A belated dispatch from an American missionary received today said that Japanese troops had looted and burned the American Christian and Missionary Alliance mission at Lungchow, Kwangsi province, in southern China near the Indo-China border.

Harry Ernest Lang of Detroit said that during a brief occupation of the city the Japanese had looted the mission Dec. 21 and burned it Dec. 22.

$200,000 Warehouse Fire Perils Big New Theater

Pittsfield, Mass., Jan. 11, Thursday (AP).—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a four story warehouse building in the center of Pittsfield's business district early today and slightly damaged the large new Capitol theater. Loss was estimated at $200,000. The theater entrance, which passed through the warehouse building, was destroyed, but firemen kept the flames from the theater building. Two nearby apartment houses were damaged by smoke and water.

6TH CORPS AREA LEADS NATION IN ARMY RECRUITING

Quota Under New Program Is Filled.

The 6th corps area of the army for the second consecutive month led all other corps areas in the country in recruiting during December, Lieut. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commanding officer, said yesterday. In the last two months of the year 3,815 new men were enlisted. This was 154 more than were enlisted in any other area.

For November, the total was 2,037 and for December, 1,778. The year's total was 10,331, of whom 6,739 were recruited in the last four months. In 1938 there were 3,167 enlistments.

Drive Follows Proclamation.

The recruiting drive followed the President's limited emergency proclamation last September, under which the regular army was authorized to increase its strength from 167,000 to 227,000 men.

The quota for the 6th corps area, embracing Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan, was approximately 6,785. This was filled last Saturday, when the last of 45 vacancies remaining at the end of last year were filled. It was the greatest peacetime expansion in the ranks of the regulars in the history of the nation.

Response Gratifying, Says Ford.

"The response of the public has been most gratifying," Gen. Ford said. "There is also great satisfaction in the fact that the army has been able to assist materially in the nation's unemployment problem while giving the newly enlisted men an opportunity to be gainfully employed, a chance to learn a trade, attend one of the many army schools, or perhaps travel.

"Entering the army is like going into business. And there aren't many businesses which offer the inducement of good pay after retirement that the army does. After a man has served 30 years in the army he is eligible for retirement at three-quarters pay."

Recruiting in this area is being continued to fill routine vacancies resulting from retirements, expirations of enlistments, and other normal factors.

Baronial Hoax Girl Let Off with Suspended Fine

Anna Schneider, 19 years old, who is the daughter of a farmer instead of a baron, was fined $25 for disorderly conduct yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude of the Municipal court. The judge, who described her as a malingerer, then suspended the fine because she had been in police custody since Dec. 27. Miss Schneider had reported the burglary of $33,000 in jewels, saying an Austrian baron was her father, but later admitted her story was a hoax. Her father is an Austrian, but he's a farmer.

MURDER OF HVID STILL UNSOLVED AFTER 2 WEEKS

Sift Maze of Evidence, but Find No Clews.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

Mrs. Marinus Hvid asked last night —14 days after her husband was fatally beaten by labor goons—what had been done to catch the slayers.

"Have the police and the other investigators accomplished anything?" the widow asked. "Is there any indication that they are progressing? Will they ever discover who struck down my husband?"

She asked the questions as she and her four children sat in their home at 438 Briar place.

Slugged 15 Days Ago.

It was on the night of Dec. 27 that Hvid, 55 years old, drove from his garage at 3514 North Halsted street in a customer's car to 655 Buckingham place. This was the home of the customer, Milton Cohen.

Buckingham place is well lighted. There is a flow of traffic even at that hour—11 p. m. Hvid and Cohen stepped from the car and the latter walked toward the building.

Cohen has told how he heard sounds of scuffling, turned, and saw two men beating Hvid with a plank or baseball bat. Hvid was fighting back with his fists. Cohen has told how he ran to his home on the second floor and shouted to his wife to call police.

He has told how, from his window, he saw the two sluggers drive east in Buckingham place. Cohen thinks they were in a black sedan without license plates.

Hvid lay in he street. His jaw, skull, and vertebræ had been fractured. Police took him to the John B. Murphy hospital. Hvid never recovered consciousness. He died on the morning of Dec. 30.

The Search Starts.

Since that time the search for the slayer has been conducted by Capt. Patrick O'Connell of the Town Hall station and Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford. This is what the police did yesterday:

Emil Mermall, Edward Gale, and William Bibby were called to the Town Hall station at 2:30 p. m. by Capt. O'Connell and Supervising Captain Andrew Barry. Mermall was called because he is executive director of Affiliated Garages of Chicago, a garage owners' association which expelled Hvid last March.

Gale is secretary and Bibby is business agent of the Auto Livery, Chauffeurs, Taxicab Drivers, and Garage Helpers' union. A few days after the garage owners' association expelled Hvid the union called a strike at his garage and picketed the place—the picketing continuing until the attack.

Mermall, a glib speaker, told the two captains that Hvid was put out of the association because he failed to pay dues and a $75 fine imposed for caring for a car which Cohen had removed from the garage of another association member.

"Members Kept Contented."

"How does your organization enforce discipline on its membership?" Capt. Barry asked.

"We do our best to keep our members contented," Mermall replied.

"Does the union help you collect fines from your members?" Barry asked.

Mermall answered: "No."

He insisted he did not know of any connection between the expulsion of Hvid and the strike at Hvid's garage. He denied that the association compensated the union for the $4,000 paid out to pickets at the garage. Mermall then was excused and asked to appear at the next session of the Hvid inquest Jan. 16.

Gale and Bibby were next. They denied any stronger tieup between the union and the owners' association than a contract for working hours and wages of union members. Both admitted they were arrested in 1935 for slugging two Oak Park florists.

One Fined; Other Freed.

Bibby was fined $100 at that time and the charge against Gale was dropped. The slugging victims had refused to join the florist drivers' union, which is affiliated with the garage helpers' union in the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

"Did that union reciprocate and furnish sluggers for you in the Hvid case?" asked Barry.

"O, no," answered Gale and Bibby.

They were allowed to go after promising to attend the inquest.

"We'd certainly like to solve this case," said Capt. O'Connell afterward. "But we don't know what our next move will be."

What Courtney's Office Did.

B. B. Adams, president of the garage owners' association, was taken before the grand jury. He was questioned about the formation of the organization, its history, and financial affairs. His office assistant, Miss Mary Alice Mack, told of Mermall's withdrawal of funds "for promotional purposes."

THE STATE'S RECORD

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

And this, like the record of the police investigation reviewed here Tuesday, is an account of what the state's attorney's office has done in the other 13 days since Hvid was beaten into unconsciousness:

DEC. 28.

9 a. m. State's Attorney Courtney, his first assistant, Wilbert F. Crowley, and his chief investigator, Capt. Daniel Gilbert, held a conference. Each had read about the brutal assault in THE TRIBUNE. There was no official report from the police.

10 a. m. Gilbert telephoned Capt. Patrick O'Connell at the Town Hall station. O'Connell said he had one prisoner, a union picket who had been stationed in front of Hvid's garage. The picket wouldn't talk. There were no clews.

11 a. m. Gilbert ordered raids on the headquarters of the Auto Livery, Chauffeurs, Taxicab Drivers and Garage Helpers' union, and the Affiliated Garages of Chicago, the association to which Hvid once belonged.

1 p. m. Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford was placed in charge of the investigation.

2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Emil Mermall, executive director of the garage owners group, Miss Mary Alice Mack, his office assistant, Ben Chase, field agent of the organization, and Edward Reilly, president of the union, were questioned by Crawford and released. Books, papers and records taken from both offices were examined.

DEC. 29.

Secretary Edward Gale of the union, who had charge of the strike called against Hvid, and Business Agent William Bibby, were questioned and released. John Burns, an auditor, was assigned to examine the books of both organizations.

DEC. 30.

2 a. m. Hvid died.

10 a. m. Crawford questioned three who testified before the coroner's jury. A writ of habeas corpus was issued on behalf of four pickets being held by O'Connell. Assistant State's Attorney Walter McCoy resisted the writ but permission to retain custody of the prisoners was denied. Crawford spent the afternoon questioning the four pickets. He also questioned a garage employé who had been slugged by Business Agent Bibby.

DEC. 31.

Calls made to several garages mentioned in correspondence taken from Mermall's office which showed that the union had been notified of the ouster from the organization of 35 garage owners. Crawford learned that the union immediately took action against ex-members of Mermall's group.

JAN. 1.

Crawford spent the afternoon in the criminal courts building. He had several detectives helping Capt. O'Connell.

JAN. 2.

Crawford started questioning 29 garage owners continuing thruout the week. Telephone calls were made to every person named in the seized correspondence. Police were sent to interview some. He questioned Mermall, Miss Mack, and Chase again.

JAN. 3.

Crawford learned that Mermall withdrew by check $14,000 of the garage owners' funds between Jan. 1, 1938 and Oct. 1, 1939. Questioned, garage men said they had received no explanation of these withdrawals.

JAN. 4.

Assistant State's Attorney John Long appeared in the Felony court and obtained a continuance of the cases against the four pickets. Crawford questioned four officers of Mermall's association.

JAN. 5.

Several garage owners questioned. Crawford took statements from a man and woman arrested as suspects in a west side hotel. The man had an alibi and was released. During the week three other suspects were questioned and their alibis verified.

JAN. 6.

Crawford questioned four garage owners. He investigated records of Mermall, who had been sentenced to 10 days in jail in 1932 for conspiracy to defraud a cab company thru fake accident reports of Bibby, who had been fined $100 for slugging a nonunion florist, and of Gale, who was arrested as a slugger but was not convicted.

JAN. 7.

Four detectives canvassed garages and homes of persons who had trouble with Mermall's group.

JAN. 8.

Crawford again questioned William P. Enzweiler, treasurer of Mermall's group, who said he had been misquoted regarding statements he knew nothing about Mermall's withdrawal of association funds. Crawford also questioned Enzweiler's wife, Flora. Enzweiler was interested in a garage near Hvid's and in competition with Hvid.

JAN. 9.

Crawford questioned four garage owners in preparation for presentation of evidence to the grand jury. He talked with Enzweiler, Mrs. Enzweiler, in his office. Enzweiler appeared before the grand jury from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Assemblyman Indicted in $49,102 Estate Theft

New City, N. Y., Jan. 10 [Special].—Lawrence J. Murray Jr., Democratic assemblyman from Rockland county, was released in $15,000 bail today after pleading not guilty to charges of embezzling $49,102 from the estate of Miss May A. V. Dunnigan of Haverstraw. Miss Dunnigan is a patient in the Rockland State hospital, an institution for mental cases. Murray, described as the former agent and attorney for Miss Dunnigan, was indicted on two larceny counts by the county grand jury yesterday.

VOTE TO INDICT TWO IN BUTCHER GOON SLUGGING

Head of Union Questioned on Bribe Charges.

The inquiry into the labor slugging of a butcher's helper, who was attacked last Saturday by two union business agents in a shop where he was working as a porter in exchange for food for his children, was marked by two important developments yesterday:

1. John Pobuda, president of local 638 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters' union, was questioned after Chester L. Mikolajczyk, the victim of the slugging, told the grand jury that Pobuda came to him in County hospital and offered him a good job if he would forget about the beating. Pobuda denied the charge and was released.

2. The grand jury was reported to have voted a true bill charging John Kopsky and Henry Hlavacek, business agents of local 638, who are accused of the attack on Mikolajczyk, with assault with intent to commit murder, assault with intent to commit mayhem, assault with a deadly weapon and conspiracy to commit these three crimes.

Probe Other Connections.

Police of State's Attorney Courtney's office were investigating reports that Kopsky and Hlavacek were involved in other labor troubles. James Burian, 2513 South Hamlin avenue, notified the state's attorney's office early yesterday that newspaper photographs of the two agents resembled two men who had threatened him. He will be questioned today.

Mikolajczyk said his meeting with Pobuda took place Tuesday when he was taken to the hospital after a relapse from the beating.

"I was leaving the examining room and walking back to another room where the policemen who had brought me were waiting," Mikolajczyk said. "Suddenly Pobuda, who is a butcher in the hospital commissary, walked up to me. He said, 'Lay off this and we'll get you a good job.'

"I refused and walked on. The policemen didn't know what was happening, as Pobuda was beside me for only two or three seconds."

Seized in Hospital.

When Mikolajczyk told of the meeting before the grand jury, the Lawndale police were notified to pick up Pobuda and bring him to the state's attorney's office for questioning. They found him at County hospital talking with Kopsky, who is free on bond of $5,000.

Policemen Stanley Bartnik and Frank Plettl said that Kopsky seeing them approach, ducked into one of that they were not after him. Pobuda was taken to the state's attorney's office.

Before voting the true bill against Kopsky and Hlavacek the grand jury heard ten witnesses. Two of these—Mrs. Mary Melichar, 2448 South Lawndale avenue, and Aldrich Drahotusky, 2227 South Springfield avenue—saw the attack on Mikolajczyk in the butcher shop at 2710 West 26th street. They said that Kopsky, a 230 pound ex-wrestler, and Hlavacek, took Mikolajczyk into the back of the shop. They then saw Kopsky raise his hand. A few minutes later, they said, Mikolajczyk came running out, his face covered with blood, and his hands pressed to his abdomen.

Officials Deny Attack.

Dr. Charles A. Chval testified that Mikolajczyk sustained lacerated lips, groin injuries, and possible spinal injuries from the beating.

In a statement to Morris Meyers, assistant state's attorney, the union officials denied the attack. They said that Mikolajczyk had written letters to the union local denouncing it as a racket and complaining that it had failed to get him a job. He held a withdrawal card from the local.

"When we got in the back of the shop Mikolajczyk grabbed a shovel and threatened us," Kopsky said. "I drew my gloves from my pocket and hit Mikolajczyk in the face like a gentleman. He fell backward over a butter tub."

Fleeing Robber Killed by Own Nitroglycerin

Wilmington, O., Jan. 10 (AP)—His nitroglycerin brought death to a robber today less than 10 minutes after he seized $330 in a Port William bank. Lifting a bottle of the explosive, the robber threatened to blow up the bank unless tellers gave him the money. Something went wrong with his car as he sped out of town, the state highway patrol said. It was blown to bits, and the robber's body was mangled. The $330 was found nearby.

CITY LEADERS MEET TODAY TO FURTHER WAR ON RACKETEERS

The committee of business, civic, religious and educational leaders formed last week by the All-Chicago council of the Chicago Association of Commerce will meet in the La Salle hotel at 2:30 p. m. today to make further plans for its antiracketeering campaign. Frank Hecht is chairman of the committee.

Yesterday he named a special committee to confer tomorrow afternoon with Mayor Kelly. Members of this group are Hecht, Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co.; Merle C. Trees, vice president of the Chicago Bridge and Iron company; Newton C. Farr, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards; Attorney Floyd E. Thompson, James S. Knowlson, president of the Stewart-Warner corporation; Frederick A. Virkus, head of the Illinois division of the Small Business Men's association, and Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Association of Commerce.

TELLS OFFICIAL HE FAVORS C.I.O.; NLRB HIRES HIM

Memo on Trial Examiner Read at House Quiz.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—Evidence that the National Labor Relations board had employed Eugene P. Lacy of Tupelo, Miss., as a trial examiner a short time after he had told a board official that he was pro-C. I. O. was received today by a house investigating committee.

Edmund M. Toland, counsel for the committee, produced the information at the outset of an inquiry into a case in which Lacy was the trial examiner. That case was the complaint of an A. F. of L. union against Godchaux Sugars, Inc., of Reserve, La., which the board dismissed after once directing that a decision be prepared ordering an election to determine whether the A. F. of L. or an independent union should bargain for the company's employés.

Branded "Limited in Intellect."

Touching upon the employment of Lacy, the committee attorney introduced notes by Mrs. B. M. Stern, assistant secretary of the board, concerning Lacy's application.

This memorandum said the Mississippian was very limited in viewpoint and intellect, but that he had a nice personality, was all for the New Deal, and professed great sympathy with the Wagner act.

"He is anti-Rankin and anti-Harrison," Mrs. Stern added. "When asked, he said with a gulp that he is pro-C. I. O. . . . he will not make a trial examiner."

The committee attorney inquired of Mrs. Abe Fortas, a young attorney who formerly was in the board's review division, whether any member of the board or its staff had told her, between the time the board decided to order an election and the time it dismissed the case, that any individual was interested in the case.

Senator Interested in Case.

Mrs. Fortas said she remembered that Senator Allen J. Ellender [D., La.] had been interested, but that she could not recall when that was.

The committee received evidence also that Ellender had at one time requested postponement of a hearing in the Godchaux case, "because of the rush to get in the sugar crop before frost," and that, with the consent of the A. F. of L. union, the hearing had been postponed.

The board's dismissal of the Godchaux case, despite the fact that its regional director at New Orleans had reported it would be a cut and dried affair to prove a violation of the act and miserable bad faith on the part of the Godchaux interests, was explained to the investigating committee in this manner:

Lacy, the trial examiner, had excluded from the record material concerning the company's contention that the A. F. of L. union had agreed to drop its charges, in view of the company's and the independent union's consent to an employé election which was held prior to the board's hearing on the controversy.

The board learned of this exclusion belatedly, overruled the examiner, and dismissed the complaint on the ground that the A. F. of L. union had agreed with the company not to press its complaint.

NLRB OFFICIALS TO DECIDE ACTION IN INLAND CASE

Officials of the National Labor Relations board in Washington, D. C., will decide the next step in the Inland Steel company case, in which the United States Circuit Court of Appeals upset the board's ruling, I. S. Dorfman, Chicago attorney for the board, said yesterday.

The board may either order a new hearing of the case or ask the United States Supreme court to review the decision handed down on Tuesday by Judge J. Earl Major, Will M. Sparks, and Evan A. Evans. These judges ruled that the national labor relations act does not require a signed contract and that the Inland company failed to get a fair hearing from Trial Examiner Charles A. Wood of the board.

Charles Fahy, general counsel for the labor board, assailed the appeals court in a statement issued last night in Washington. He objected strenuously to one line in the decision, which read: "This record as a whole discloses the danger of imposing upon a single agency the multiple duties of prosecutor, judge, jury, and executioner."

"No order of the board is final until approved by the court," said Fahy. "It hardly seems proper to refer to the board as an executioner. I am not attacking the decision, but the non-judicial statement of the court."

FARM WORKER FOUND HANGED.

The body of Carl Benson, 52 years old, farm worker of Batavia, Kane county, who had been missing since Jan. 1, was found hanging from a rafter yesterday in the granary on the farm of Harry and Levi Elliott near Elburn, about six miles from Batavia.

JURY ABSOLVES UNION HEAD FOR LAWYER KILLING

Tells of Fight Over Gun in Office.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of justifiable homicide absolving John Martin, president of the Scrap Iron and Junk Handlers' union, of blame for the slaying of Leon R. Cooke, former attorney for the union. The verdict came after Martin had told his story of a fight for a pistol in the union's office at 3159 Roosevelt road.

"It was him or me," Martin said.

He testified that Cooke had had no connection with the union for some time and that the lawer was a continual source of trouble around the union office, especially in his constant use of the union's telephone.

Quarrel Over Telephone.

"I came into the office on Dec. 8 and found Cooke sitting there," Martin testified. "Neither of us spoke. He preceded me into my private office, where he picked up my telephone. I told him to put it down.

"He pulled a gun and smashed me in the face with it and knocked me down. The gun went off when he hit me and Cooke dropped it."

Martin then told of the fight that followed and the attempts of both men to reach the gun. "I got it first," he said. Police have not been able to find the gun used in the shooting.

Surprise Witness for Martin.

Harry Winnick, 4802 Bernard street, an employé of the state department of labor, was a surprise witness presented by Attorney George Crane, representing Martin. Winnick asserted that he formed the junk union nearly three years ago at the request of the American Federation of Labor.

Cooke, soon after he was shot, told police that he was the founder of the union. Winnick testified that he was the union's first president and that he left the union because of Cooke's strong arm tactics.

"Cooke was tough and inclined to be a muscle man," Winnick said. "He wanted to operate the union from the angle of both labor and the junk dealers.

Tells of Lawyer's Threat.

"I told Cooke we were operating the union for its members and that he would have to get out. Cooke pulled a gun and said, 'I'll push this right down your throat.'

"That finished me—I—got out."

A charge of assault with intent to kill is still pending against Martin in the Felony court, with a hearing scheduled for Monday. Assistant State's Attorney Emmett Moynihan said he would confer today with First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley to decide whether further steps will be taken in the case.

Shoe Workers Pay Tribute to Aging Employer.

good relations promoted by George F. Johnson's policies. He has referred to his business as an industrial democracy in which the workers share in the earnings, and an enlightened leadership does as much as it can to fulfil the workers' wants as human beings.

Johnson came to work in Lesterville [now Johnson City] about 60 years ago. He was an employé of the Lester Shoe company. A few years later he borrowed $150,000 from the chief creditor of the firm, Henry B. Endicott, and purchased a half interest. By improving methods of manufacture and sale, he quickly built up a fortune of millions.

Suddenly, according to his own statement, he discovered that money didn't amount to much.

"It seemed to me," he said, "that an industrial leader should consider other responsibilities beyond making profits, and I started a reorganization plan."

At his own expense he paved the streets of Endicott and Johnson City and installed lighting systems for both. For Binghamton he bought and equipped a park. He provided medical, surgical, and dental care to his employés without any cost to them. He built swimming pools, tennis courts, a golf course, all for the employés. He specified there should be no "Keep Off the Grass" signs in the parks he endowed.

Johnson also built houses for his employés and financed them on easy terms, selling them at cost. He provided public markets where necessaries were sold at cost.

Endicott-Johnson, which has made as many as 45,000,000 pairs of low priced shoes annually, weathered the depression with a good record. Even in the worst days the workers had at least three days' work a week.

"This business doesn't belong to me," said Johnson. "It belongs to the workers, to the customers, to the public as well." It has been reported that he has given away $20,000,000, but he has never confirmed the figure.

He has said: "I expect to end up with just what I started. That is—with nothing."

NLRB UPHOLDS FIRM IN OUSTING 14 SIT STRIKERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—The National Labor Relations board ruled today that the refusal of an employer to reinstate workers who had taken part in a sitdown strike was not an unfair labor practice.

The board's ruling was contained in a decision dismissing charges that the Reading Batteries, Inc., Muhlenberg township, Berks county, Pa., had discriminatorily refused employment to 14 men after a layoff and a strike in 1937.

The board said eight of the men had taken part in a sitdown strike and that five of them were arrested and convicted of "forceable detainer."

The Supreme court in 1939 ruled that seizure of property in a sitdown strike was ground for discharge and ruled out a board order which directed the Fansteel Metallurgical corporation of Chicago to reinstate sitdown strikers.

BIOFF INDICTED ON INCOME TAX FRAUD CHARGES

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10 [Special].—William Bioff, motion picture union leader and former associate of Capone gangsters in Chicago, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of income tax fraud.

William Bioff.

The new action against him came in the midst of attempts to have him extradited to Chicago to serve a jail sentence imposed 17 years ago for pandering.

Bioff is head of the American Federation of Labor conference of studio unions and representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employés. Last November he led a film technicians' movement for higher wages which was successful after threats to plunge the nation's theaters into darkness.

The federal grand jury charged that Bioff had an income of $33,573 in 1936 and reported only $5,720 and that the following year his income was $176,416, altho he reported only $7,205.

Dr. W. H. Haines Named to Behavior Clinic Post

Appointment of Dr. William H. Haines as assistant to Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, director of the Cook County Behavior clinic, was announced yesterday by Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board. Dr. Haines is assistant professor of neurology at Rush Medical college and a member of the Psychopathic hospital staff.

CHICAGO BUDGET CUT $1,493,005; PASSAGE TODAY

Mayor's Suggestions for Savings Accepted.

Reductions totaling $1,493,005 in the proposed city operating budget were recommended yesterday by the finance committee of the city council. The revised budget, cut from $58,078,392 to $56,585,387, will be submitted to the council at its meeting tonight. It is expected to be passed.

The new figure falls below that of the 1939 budget, which was $57,793,369, and is also under the 1938 appropriation of $57,830,977.

The finance committee followed recommendations of Mayor Kelly and city department heads in slashing the proposed budget. It also effected saving brought to light by its own staff in a survey begun Dec. 21 when the tentative budget was first submitted.

New Threat by Carrozzo.

A public hearing on the budget last night was marked by a new strike threat from Mike Carrozzo, boss of the street laborers' union. The finance committee ignored the union's demand for raises of from 7 to 12¼ cents an hour for 2,691 laborers in the street and water departments.

"That raise will be in the budget tomorrow or there'll be a strike called," said Samuel Kart, attorney for Carrozzo. The total expense of the boost would be $154,600. Not all of the union members work in the winter. At present there are 200 employed in the sewer repair division and 600 in the water pipe division.

Representatives of the City Chauffeurs' union protested against the committee's plan to put 350 city truck drivers on an $8 a day basis rather than the present scale of $192 a month.

Expect 200 to Lose Jobs.

It was estimated that about 200 persons, most of them temporary employés, would lose their jobs thru the proposed economies. Most of the wage and salary savings are to be effected thru refraining from filling vacancies that existed before Dec. 1. This policy will be followed in all departments.

The change in the status of the board of local improvements, which eventually is to lead to the virtual abolition of the board, brought an immediate cut of about $150,000 from the $429,475 appropriation first proposed. Employés are to be transferred to other departments and a skeleton staff will continue the work of settling 24 million dollars in accounts involving special assessment notes. Personnel of the board is to be revised and its members will serve without compensation instead of for from $4,000 to $6,000 annually, as before.

All Departments Affected.

While all departments will be affected, the most important of the proposed reductions that will be submitted to the council with the budget tonight are these:

Police department, $480,000; fire department, $150,000; board of health, $150,000; department of streets and electricity, $110,000; board of local improvements, $150,000; department of public works, $274,735; bureau of sewers, $91,160; bureau of parks, recreation and aviation, $50,000. All figures are approximate.

Police savings, in addition to those thru nonfilling of vacancies, were made by lopping of a dollar here and a dollar there thru the whole department, the committee said. An item of $27,500 was pared from the fire department's proposed appropriation for motor apparatus.

Transfer Health Board Item.

Part of the health department reduction came from transfer of a $23,222 item, the salaries of employés in the plumbing and new building section, which now will be under the building inspection department. The department of streets and electricity trimmed off 20 lamp maintenance men getting $2,880 a year. The department of public works' appropriation for laborers was cut. Commissioner Oscar Hewitt will continue a survey to see if it is practical to use roving crews of bridge tenders in the winter when river traffic is slight or nil.

ISABEL DESHLER.

San Francisco, Cal., June 10.—[Special].—When John B. Adams, finance company executive, attempted without success for five days to see his sweetheart, Isabel Deshler, he appeared in court charging the girl was being held a prisoner and demanding a writ which would cause her to be brought into court. He took his cue from the case of George Lowther and Eileen Herrick, who were married a few days ago in New York.

The court here issued a writ ordering Isabel and her mother to appear in court. Miss Deshler, who is 24 years old, wants to see him just as much as he wants to see her, according to Adams. She was his secretary until her mother learned of the engagement.

24 HOUR STRIKE HALTS WORK IN 2 MEXICAN STATES

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—The states of Puebla and Vera Cruz were brought to a complete standstill, and the states of Mexico and Hidalgo were partly paralyzed today as a result of a lightning 24 hour strike declared by workers belonging to the Regional Confederation of Mexican Workers and the Workers and Farmers Federation, two independent labor organizations opposed to the semi-official Confederation of Mexican Workers.

The strikers complain they are victims of various persecutions on the part of the authorities because they refuse to intervene in the presidential campaign in favor of the government candidate, Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho. They promise to effect other strikes without notice until the authors of past persecutions are punished and adequate guarantees given for the future.

Electric power was off in Puebla and neighboring states, halting industrial plants. Service on the Mexica City-Vera Cruz railway was interrupted. Gasoline retailers also struck with the result that all vehicular traffic stopped. In the city of Puebla only hotels, theaters and restaurants continued business as usual.

The appointment of Myron C. Taylor to represent the President at the Vatican, Pickett said, was mentioned.

REDUCED SCHOOL BUDGET ADOPTED FOR NEXT YEAR

Economy Makes Longer Term Possible.

The board of education's 1940-'41 budget—providing for restoration of the 10 month school year despite a decrease of $3,369,076 in total appropriations—was adopted by the board trustees yesterday. Passage came after a four hour public hearing in which most of the representatives of 38 teacher, labor, church, and civic groups commended the board for efficient administration and restoration of the full term.

The big reduction was made in the building fund, which was sliced from $14,422,890 to $10,660,941.

Extra Funds Found.

A rise in the educational fund from $52,443,457 to $52,583,103 will make possible the addition of a week during the Christmas vacation to the present 39 week term. In the tentative budget, on which President James B. McCahey and departmental heads began work early in October, the educational fund figure had been set at $51,846,103. This represented all resources then believed available—$43,200,000 from taxes, $2,031,103 from surplus funds, and $6,615,000 from miscellaneous revenue.

In ensuing budget conferences, however, close scrutiny of expenditures showed that an additional $272,000 would be available in surplus 1939 funds because of various economies. In addition, instead of the regular 2 million dollar allotment from the motor fuel tax fund, the board will get $2,147,000. Finally, the board also will receive $318,000 in extra payments from the state distributive fund, which contributes to the upkeep of each school child.

These extra funds totaled $737,000, and President McCahey urged further economies in less essential branches of the educational fund to allow for restoration of the extra week, which would cost the board an estimated $1,100,000. A careful examination resulted in further reduction and made the addition of the extra week a certainty.

Despite the increase in the educational fund, there will be no corresponding increase in taxes for educational purposes, McCahey said. The state legislature has pegged the gross tax levy at $48,000,000 and the rest of the appropriation represents money from sources other than direct taxation. The total tax levy will be $65,567,254. This is higher than last year's $65,190,971, chiefly because of an increase in the free textbook fund of from $740,325 to $1,035,122.

Praised for Restoring Term.

At the public hearing Douglas Sutherland, executive secretary of the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency, complimented the board for restoring the full school term to predepression levels without any increased tax burden. He emphasized that the increase in the term means an average raise in the pay of the school system's 20,000 employés of 2½ per cent.

"Full restoration of employés' salaries to 1928-'29 levels," Sutherland said, "would cost in the neighborhood of $3,500,000 additional. We think that restoration now on your existing revenue base would be very unwise. We do not feel that Chicago school employés are poorly paid even at present, but if restoration to boomtime levels is ever to be made it should not be at the expense of the general taxpayer."

Pay Restoration Asked.

John Fewkes, president of the Chicago Teachers' union, also thanked the board for lengthening the school year. He also recommended that the board now consider restoration of the remaining 7½ per cent cut of the 15 per cent slash suffered in 1932, and urged adoption of a single salary schedule for teachers.

Others who appeared at the hearing included Attorney Arnold R. Baar and Dr. John A. Lapp of the citizens' schools committee; Morgan L. Fitch, president of the Chicago Real Estate board; Aldermen Paul Douglas [5th], Earl Dickerson [2d], Benjamin Grant [3d], who recommended improvements in housing Negro students on the south side, and leaders of taxpayer groups, parent-teacher organizations, and civic clubs.

SLEUTH'S $5,235 SUIT AGAINST TINPLATE HEIR IS DISMISSED BY COURT

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—The suit brought against Henry J. [Bob] Topping by a private detective for $5,235 he claimed the tin plate heir owed him for seeking divorce evidence against Topping's first wife, Jayne Shadduck Topping, was dismissed today in federal court.

Judge Clarence G. Galston also ruled out a claim for $235 expenses sought by the plaintiff, Harold Mayhew. Meyhew had claimed Topping promised him a $5,000 bonus, plus expenses, for obtaining evidence of alleged adultery on the part of Topping's first wife, an actress and aviatrix, now Mrs. Jane Durant.

Judge Galston said no evidence had been offered meriting such a bonus, altho Mayhew had introduced two affidavits by a Hempstead, N. Y., apartment house superintendent and a Negro maid testifying that the first Mrs. Topping had been intimate with an aviator named Cordova.

THE WORD GETS AROUND!

By CALEB

AMONG our oldest instincts is wanting to know sources. If we hear a song—who sang it? If we read a book—who wrote it? If we view a picture—who painted it? If we pick up an object, create a device, observe a scene—what is it called? In veriest fact, the names attached to things are as vital to us as the things themselves.

Look carefully into this idea, and you discern that without "naming" there would have been no evolution on the planet from beasthood to manhood. We would still be mumbling and hairy skulkers in jungles or on hilltops, instead of modern scholars probing the cosmos, or industrialists surveying acres of busy manufacture.

Names—words—have become our single most civilizing agency. Communication—originally, the mere possibility of it; today, the nearly infinite variety of it—is a mundane miracle. Look what it has done to shrink the globe and abolish time; to make practically everything happening no longer historical, but contemporary! When Jackson and the British fought at New Orleans, peace between England and America was a fortnight old—and news of the battle was nearly a month old before it reached Washington. The word hadn't gotten round! Today, Chamberlain talks to Parliament, and his words are as instant to the listener in Keokuk as to any M. P. in London.

An exciting double miracle, really! For man first invented the word; then he invented space-defying means for transporting it. As a result, no place where the means can reach—and that is literally everywhere—is impervious to the word. And that veritable marvel has given words a power surpassing the hurricane's—influence excelling that of race or climate or even time. . . .

When the force of such facts comes home to one, he begins to appreciate what the world owes to that final composite masterwork of brilliant experimenters, technicians and engineers through the years—the Radio. As I stood among the numerous new models by famous makers set in shining exhibit on our Wabash fourth floor, I was almost impelled to make a gesture of reverence. Yet this globe-girdling miracle is already so commonplace in our environment that such a gesture would have been considered eccentric.

But Marconi would have made it! So would de Forrest! And Franklin, and Washington! And can you imagine what da Vinci would have said, listening in at Field's on London, or Rome, or some far-voyaging liner at sea?

HOUSE APPROVES ANTI-LYNCH BILL; SOUTH PROTESTS

Expect Measure to Face Filibuster in Senate.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—With southern Democrats protesting to the last that the legislation is a vicious attack upon the south, the house today passed, 252 to 131, a bill aimed to discourage lynching.

Rep. William M. Colmer.

The Democratic majority was divided in the final vote on the bill, 109 Democrats joining with 140 Republicans, two Progressives and one American Labor party member in approval of the measure. Opposed were 123 Democrats and 8 Republicans.

The measure was sent to the senate where two other similar house bills have expired previously because of filibusters, threatened or actual. This third act is expected to encounter the same fate.

Labor Killings Included.

Lynching is defined in the bill as violence by a mob [consisting of three or more persons] which results in the death or maiming of the victim or victims thereof. The measure provides that the victim must be in the custody of a peace officer and suspected of, charged with, or convicted of some offense.

The measure originally carried a provision that lynching should not be deemed to include violence occurring during the course of picketing, boycotting or any incident in connection with a labor dispute. A fight led by Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] to elliminate this provision was victorious. It was knocked out of the bill by voice vote.

Representative William M. Colmer [D., Miss.] argued for an amendment extending provisions of the bill to gangland murders, but his motion was voted down, 105 to 53.

Reviews Gang Killings.

The Colmer amendment found the southerners making a last desperate stand against the bill.

"The crime of gang murders in the north ought to be recognized as being as reprehensible as lynchings in the south," declared Colmer. "There were only three lynchings in the south in 1939, while there were 272 gang murders in New York City alone."

"There's a mob threatening a lynching in Mississippi this very minute," retorted Representative Joseph A. Gavagan [D., N. Y.].

"The state is protecting those two Negroes from lynching," interrupted Representative John E. Rankin [D., Miss.]. "The south doesn't need federal interference to cope with its own problems."

Representative William R. Poage [D., Tex.] warned that passage of the bill will only stimulate lynchings in the south. He asserted that sheriffs and peace officers will not take suspected persons into custody, thus avoiding provisions of the law.

Fears Roosevelt Dilemma.

"This is nothing but a renewal of a vicious attack upon the white people of the southern states," shouted Rankin. "It's a plot to injure President Roosevelt, who will face a political problem if this bill is laid upon his desk for his signature."

The bill provides federal prison penalties and fines for state or county officials found guilty of neglect of duty in protecting persons from lynching. They also would be subject to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, and to a fine not exceeding $5,000, for failure to prosecute members of a lynching mob.

The attorney general of the United States would be charged with the duty of investigating complaints against local peace officers and prosecuting them in federal courts.

Counties would be civilly liable for any lynching occurring within their limits. Dependents of a mob victim would be empowered to sue for damages ranging from $2,000 to $10,000. The attorney general also would be called upon to prosecute this civil claim in the federal courts.

SENATE ASSAILS BUDGET; MOVES TO SUBMIT OWN

Attack Is Centered on Arms Program.

limit. If the members of congress see fit to put back these items, you are the ones who are responsible for going thru the debt limit or else you should levy additional taxes'."

Senator Adams urged that congress take the President at his word and say, "You have made these cuts. They are your recommendations and we will stand by them." But even tho congress restores some of the cuts, he said, it can avoid the responsibility for exceeding the debt limit by rejecting the proposed increased appropriations for what he termed so-called national defense.

Denies Emergency Exists.

"The President recommends 1 billion, 800 million dollars—32 per cent of the estimated revenues of the government—for national defense, increasing the defense provision hundreds of millions of dollars above the amount for the current fiscal year," said Senator Adams. "It is suggested to us that we are confronted with a national emergency, that we must cut relief to the farmers, cut relief to the unemployed, cut relief here and there, in order to build more battleships, provide more soldiers, manufacture more munitions—to fight whom?

"To fight nobody. Nobody has anything we want, and we have nothing any one else wants. I think we can make the saving by reducing appropriations for a war which is not coming. I have the apprehension that once we have built up a navy, once we have fortified islands so far off that we do not know where they are, there is a temptation to use them. The United States has no occasion to be uneasy, I think, about international troubles now."

No Easy Way, He Says.

Senator Adams warned his colleagues and the people who demand larger appropriations that there is no painless way to balance the budget. It never will be balanced, he said, until administrations and members of congress are willing, "as the soldiers in war, to go out in the front line trenches and sacrifice their political lives for the sake of their country."

"I have been disappointed to find that while a few years ago we were talking of balancing the budget, now the question is as to reducing the deficit," he said. "Apparently a sincere desire for balancing the budget has given way to argument as to the extent to which the deficit is being reduced.

"Merely discussing reduction of the deficit as distinguished from balancing the budget is saying, let us postpone disaster rather than avoid it. Unless we do set our house in order—if we accept deficits as inevitable—disaster and catastrophe will be inevitable."

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] asked Senator Harrison specifically whether the proposed committee would consider the question of the necessity of expenditures that have been recommended for national defense. When Harrison assured him that the question would be thoroly explored, Senator Borah continued:

"Take for instance the matter of the Panama declaration. If we should assume to put sanctions behind that proposition we will need all the appropriations which have been recommended. Those are matters which to my mind are a part of this investigation.

"I say that Mr. Chamberlain [the British prime minister] said last night complimentary things about the President's peace movement and his recommendations, but he said the time was coming when we had to have men, when blood would have to be spilled, and that these other things were nice, but that they would not meet the situation. These are the matters which are approaching, and which are all a part of this question of the investigation of the proposals for the national defense."

Vandenberg Raises Question.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] demanded to know how congress, which last year rejected the proposed fortification of Guam, would have an opportunity to pass upon the navy's plan to go ahead with the improvements by including the item in a general lump sum appropriation.

Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.], a member of the appropriations committee, replied that it would be Senator Vandenberg's privilege and responsibility to make a point of order against the appropriation if he could find no legislative authorization for it.

Referring to the item of 65 million dollars in the naval budget for fitting out vessels for neutrality patrol, Senator Vandenberg declared:

"It seems to me that we cannot have a realistic approach to this problem until some of the fundamental questions like the neutrality patrol are settled. What this means is that we are asked to implement the so-called safety belt. Upon our own responsibility we are undertaking to extend from 300 to 1,000 miles into the Atlantic ocean, making perhaps a provocation belt out of it instead of a safety belt."

Walsh Attacks Naval Items.

Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the naval affairs committee, denounced the administration's proposed new 1 billion, 300 million dollar naval expansion authorization program now pending before the house naval affairs committee.

Walsh explained that congress two years ago authorized a naval expansion program of 1 billion, 200 million dollars, under which annual appropriations are being made.

"What has happened in one year in the world to undo the program of 1938 which all said was ample and sufficient of that date and time to provide for a 25 per cent expansion of the navy?" asked Senator Walsh. "Is the idea that we should go into war? Of course not. No one claims that we are going into war.

"With an authorization of a billion dollars yet to spend on the navy I should like to know why we should give another authorization until that money is spent. There is an impression that we have gone wild over our naval and military defense. I personally feel, in the absence of some information to the contrary, that the paper navy which we already have should be made into a real navy before we have another paper navy."

LAWYER FOR DIONNE SAYS QUINTS MAY BE SHOWN AT FAIR IN N. Y.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 10 (AP).—Henri St. Jacques, the legal representative of Oliva Dionne, said today that it was likely the quintuplets would be shown at the New York World's Fair this summer. Authorities closer to the little girls were not so certain, however, and there was definite opposition in some quarters.

At Ottawa the lawyer said he believed the Ontario government would allow the quintuplets to be shown at the fair, which the parents are reported to favor.

"It will have to be done by an arrangement between New York state and the Ontario government," he said.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn said that "the decision is up to the quints' board of guardians and their doctor, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe." Dafoe declined comment but Judge J. A. Valin of North Bay, one of the guardians, said "It's too risky."

COURT UPHOLDS CITY WAGE TAX IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10 (AP).—The hotly contested tax on wages, passed by the city council to help balance Philadelphia's 1940 budget, was ruled constitutional today by Common Pleas court.

The ruling was the second court setback for opponents of the levy which is expected to bring 18 million dollars a year into city coffers. Yesterday a federal court dismissed a test case against the tax on the grounds it did not have jurisdiction.

Gilbert J. Kraus, attorney for the tax opponents, said "they intend to appeal immediately to the Supreme curt of Pennsylvania."

The Common Pleas court said: "All that our constitution requires is that taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects. The tax imposed by this ordinance is uniform if it falls equally upon all members within each class."

7TH WARD G. O. P. INDORSES GREEN; 18TH FOR LYONS

Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor in the April primaries, was indorsed yesterday by the 7th ward Republican organization. The 18th ward Republican group announced its indorsement of Richard J. Lyons for governor and of C. Wayland Brooks for United States senator. It was also announced yesterday that Otis F. Glenn, Republican candidate for senator, will address an open forum, headed by James B. Waller, in the Hamilton hotel, 18 South Dearborn street, Monday night. Brooks also may speak.

THE BETA LOVING CUP OVERFLOWS; SWEEPS 10 AWAY

Now a Brother Will Pass Brother By.

O, pass the loving cup around,
Nor pass a brother by;
We all drink from the same canteen
In Beta Theta Pi.
—Hymn of Beta Theta Pi.

The University of Chicago, from whose ivory tower pale browed intellectuals stare dreamily out on a strange, brisk world, is believed to have achieved a new ascent into the metaphysical stratosphere last night which transcended even the altitude recently attained when it discarded its football team as a survival from the dark ages.

This time, after an evening of heavy intellectual debate, a schism developed in the ranks of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, a social brotherhood founded 101 years ago at Miami university, Oxford, O., which in turn founded its Midway chapter on the night before the university opened in 1892.

Coherent Account Lacking.

The issue was of such a metaphysical nature that after it was over, and 10 of the 23 members of the chapter had seceded, spokesmen for both sides found difficulty in giving a coherent account of the difference which split the house in two.

Altho even such dialecticians as President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the university and Prof. Mortimer Adler might have difficulty expounding the trouble, the main idea seemed to be that one group of the brothers was composed of conscientious, if somewhat dull, plodders with a belief in fraternal sentiment. The other consisted of individualists of somewhat erratic type, natively brilliant but not particularly social.

A Midway Paradox.

Group No. 1, the conscientious brothers, were known on the campus as the "anti-intellectuals," and Group No. 2, the individualists, as the "intellectual" element in Beta. But, by one of those paradoxes common to the Midway, the anti-intellectuals had a better scholastic average than the intellectuals, altho it was conceded the latter had higher I. Q.'s.

An ideological warfare went on for some time, coming to a head Tuesday night when both sides insisted that the other get out. The matter was submitted to arbitration last night by a board of three prominent alumni.

They were Albert S. Long, an attorney, president of the Chicago chapter alumni; Nelson Fuqua, broker, and Clifford Gregg, vice president of the national fraternity and director of the Field museum.

After hearing briefs in bar, the alumni council ruled in favor of group No. 1, the conscientious element, which now assumes control of the house. The individualists will withdraw from all fraternity participation and become inactive, altho they cannot surrender their pins under national rules of the fraternity.

57 ARE ORDERED TO MILK CASE HEARING TUESDAY

Leo F. Tierney, special assistant attorney general, announced yesterday he had served notice on the 57 individual and corporate defendants in the government's milk case to appear Tuesday before Judge Charles E. Woodward in federal District court for arraignments and the setting of a trial date. They are charged with conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade thru violation of the Sherman antitrust act.

On Dec. 4 the United States Supreme court ruled that the defendants were not exempted by more recent legislation from prosecution under the antitrust act. This ruling reversed a decision July 13 by Judge Woodward, who dismissed the indictments on the ground that milk and other agricultural commodities were removed from the purview of the Sherman act by the agricultural marketing act.

CONNIE BENNETT IS THANKFUL FOR MOTHER'S ADVICE

Glad She Left Hollywood for Stage Venture.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Constance Bennett is grateful for a persistent mother. She said so yesterday while munching a graham cracker and tossing off a glass of milk in her dressing room at the Selwyn theater. But if she is trying to crack a hundred, it's not worth the struggle, according to her admirers. They think she looks like a million at 98 pounds.

Constance Bennett.

Miss Bennett is starring in Noel Coward's "Easy Virtue." It is her first venture on the legitimate stage. After her mother, Adrienne Morrison, had picked out this vehicle for her daughter it took five years of persuasion to get her to agree to give up the movies for a while and take the plunge into legitimate drama.

But her mother knew she would win, she said yesterday. After all, weren't there eight generations of actors and actresses on her mother's side alone? [That's without taking into account her father, Richard Bennett and his forbears.]

Now Constance Is Glad.

Now — after just 11 days on the stage—Miss Bennett is happy she took the step. And her mother, who saw the play Monday night for the first time, is proud of the job she does.

Yesterday before her mother returned east they talked over the play Miss Bennett will do on W-G-N and the Mutual network next Sunday. Miss Bennett is to be presented from 3 to 3:45 p. m. in W-G-N's parade of fine performances which are to continue thru the year.

Last time Miss Bennett made a radio appearance in Chicago—three years ago—she did a scene from "Gone with the Wind" which had just been bought by Selznick for the movies. That radio appearance made her the first actress to play Scarlett, the rôle finally given to Vivian Leigh in the picture. Bob Montgomery supported Miss Bennett.

Approves Choice of Play.

Mrs. Morrison, who picked "Easy Virtue" for her daughter, thought that her daughter's choice of Coward's "Shadow Play" from the series "Tonight at 8:30," for next Sunday on W-G-N-Mutual, a good one. So that's what she will do if permission can be obtained. Seems the movies have acquired the rights to it. This sketch is a fantasy. The central character has a dream in which she relives her life, and to her ultimate advantage.

If it is unavailable, Miss Bennett will do a sketch by Dorothy Parker titled "Dusk Before Fireworks." In either case she will be supported by Richard Ainley, young British actor, who will be making his American radio debut.

All who have admired the electric Miss Bennett in the movies ought to be told that they tell only half the story. In three dimensions, she's double everything. Particularly in that violet ensemble topped with a tricky straw hat [of London tan, she says it is!] which she wears in the opening scene of "Easy Virtue."

TEST YOUR HORSE SENSE

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D.

Below are questions for a woman to ask herself and then answer about her husband. Each question has a maximum score—indicated in parenthesis. However, any number of points less than the maximum may be noted:

DEMERITS.	MERITS.
1. Makes fun of wife's hats or frocks. [6 points.]	1. Usually comes home with a smile. [6 points.]
2. Blames wife for everything that goes wrong. [6 points.]	2. Thrills wife with his affection. [30 points.]
3. Will not help wife's relatives as much as his own. [6 points.]	3. Kisses wife when leaving for work or a journey. [6 points.]
4. A bookworm. Doesn't talk to wife enough when he is home. [6 points.]	4. Doesn't quarrel with wife before the children or the public. [6 points.]
5. Tells embarrassing things about his wife before the public. [6 points.]	5. Even tempered. Doesn't fly off the handle easily. [30 points.]
6. A gambler. Childishly thinks he can "win" success instead of "earning" it. [30 points.]	6. Well read. Can discuss current events in addition to athletics. [6 points.]
7. Not forceful and masculine enough. Lets wife treat him as a door mat. [6 points.]	7. Has a trade or profession. Gives his wife a sense of security. [30 points.]
8. Tries to put on airs. Snobbish and affected in speech or manners. [6 points.]	8. Polite and mannerly, even when alone with his wife. [6 points.]
9. Has little business ability. Can't hang on to money. Usually broke. [30 points.]	9. Has social accomplishments. Can make a speech, sing, do magic tricks, etc. [6 points.]
10. Keeps wife awake with his snoring. [6 points.]	10. Well liked by men. Not a sissy. [6 points.]
Total demerits.....	Total merits.....

Now subtract total demerits from total merits and interpret score as follows: 0 to 27, very poor [failure]; 28 to 43, poor; 44 to 61, average; 62 to 80, superior; 81 and up, very superior.

[Watch for another test tomorrow.]

CONFER ON PLAN FOR BUILDING OF U. S. HOSPITALS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—President Roosevelt and members of the American, Catholic, and Protestant Hospital associations, and the American Medical association today discussed plans for establishment of small hospitals in communities now without hospital facilities.

Dr. Fred G. Carter of Cleveland, president of the American Hospital association, said afterward that emphasis was placed on the experimental character of the hospital program, the necessity of building so there will be no competition with existing institutions and the need of local guarantees for maintenance costs. The problems of providing competent personnel also were stressed, he said.

The $10,000,000 program, announced by the President at a recent press conference, contemplates erection of one-story frame hospitals to cost perhaps $100,000 to $150,000 each. The government would buy the land and retain title to the hospitals.

NEGLECT OF DUTY CHARGES HEARD BY COAST GUARD

A summary court of four coast guard officers met yesterday at Michigan City, Ind., and tried Surfman Horace Carlisle, lookout at the station there, on charges of dereliction of duty preferred by Harry Gardner, ship instrument manufacturer of Michigan City.

Gardner charged that last Sept. 25 when his yacht Clarissa ran into trouble on Lake Michigan Carlisle failed to send help when he flew a distress signal. Coast guardsmen said that Gardner's signal, a flag flown upside down, was not properly displayed.

The trial board's recommendation in the case was sent to the secretary of the treasury in Washington, D. C., who is to make the final ruling. Penalties if the charges are sustained include dismissal, loss of pay, or a fine.

Waves Lash Beach and Hunters Get Treasure

Redondo Beach, Cal., Jan. 10 (AP).—Hundreds of treasure hunters worked the beach today as giant combers washed away upper levels of sand, revealing lost coins and other valuables. One unidentified woman found a diamond ring. Many coins of all denominations were found. The searchers, adults as well as children, are using bare hands, shovels, and mesh wire sand-sifting contraptions.

PROTEST CHOICE OF MURPHY FOR SUPREME COURT

Other Appointments Given Quick Approval.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—A number of protests against the appointment of Attorney General Frank Murphy to the Supreme court have been filed with the senate judiciary committee, Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.] said today.

Burke, who is chairman of a subcommittee named to consider the Murphy appointment, said he would call this group together tomorrow morning to go over the protests.

Most senators predicted prompt confirmation for Murphy. They recalled that the red-haired former Michigan governor won senate confirmation as attorney general by a 78-7 vote last year.

Senator Ellender Complains.

A telegram from Senator Allen J. Ellender [D., La.], now in Louisiana, was among messages received by the committee.

The Louisiana senator said he was sending the committee some newspaper clippings about Louisiana state affairs and added:

"I do not want to believe that the head of the justice department is aware of how his assistants are misusing their sacred trust."

Three other senate committees recommended prompt confirmation of numerous other nominations recently submitted by Mr. Roosevelt.

Charles Edison's appointment as secretary of the navy was approved by the naval affairs committee. Edison has been acting head of the navy since the death of Secretary Swanson.

Treasury Aids Approved.

The finance committee approved Daniel W. Bell to be undersecretary of the treasury and John L. Sullivan to be assistant secretary of the treasury.

The foreign relations committee approved the following nominations:

James H. R. Cromwell, husband of Doris Duke, minister to Canada; Breckinridge Long, assistant secretary of state; George Messersmith, ambassador to Cuba; John Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium; R. Henry Norweb, minister to Peru; Robert M. Scotten, minister to the Dominican republic, and Clarence E. Gauss, minister to Australia.

All the nominations must be ratified by the senate.

2 SENTENCED FOR CHICKEN THEFTS.

Clarence A. Beilke and L. C. McMillen, both of Dysart, Ia., were sentenced yesterday by Judge Win Knoch in Du Page county Circuit court, at Wheaton, to 1 to 10 years each in Joliet penitentiary for stealing 32 chickens.

BILL OF RIGHTS CITED BY NINE IN ANNENBERG CASE

Attack Maneuver with 2 Grand Juries.

Nine of Moses L. Annenberg's business associates, under indictment in the United States District court, charged yesterday that the government maneuvered them into testifying against themselves in violation of the bill of rights in the federal constitution. They said that testimony they gave last summer before one grand jury, which had granted them immunity from prosecution, was used to support indictments voted by a second grand jury sitting at the same time.

The nine defendants therefore asked dismissal of six of the indictments. All told, there are ten indictments against Annenberg and 19 associates. The bills charge income tax evasion, conspiracy to evade income taxes, supplying horse race results to bookies in violation of the lottery laws and several other offenses.

Time Limit Law Cited.

Thirteen of the defendants, including Annenberg, his son, Walter, and six of those who asked dismissal on constitutional grounds, also asked yesterday that various counts in the indictments be canceled on the ground that the statute of limitations bars their prosecution. No requests were made in behalf of four of the 20 defendants.

Government lawyers now have five days to answer both sets of petitions, after which Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson will rule.

Two grand juries sat simultaneously in the courthouse last summer. One of them investigated the so-called monopoly phases of the Annenberg operations. The other grand jury inquired into the incomes of Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher and New Deal critic, and his business partners and the enterprises under his control. This jury returned most of the indictments.

Get Promise of Immunity.

The defendants who ask for dismissal on constitutional grounds testified and produced business records before the monopoly grand jury. The government, they claimed, promised them immunity under a statute enacted by congress to aid antitrust prosecutions.

According to yesterday's petitions, however, the nine defendants later were indicted by the second grand jury on the same information which they supplied the antitrust jury. This, they contend, is a violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution, which provides that no one can be required to be a witness against himself in a criminal case.

The defendants who raised this question and their connections with the Annenberg subsidiaries are Herbert S. Kamin, general counsel; Joseph E. Hafner, Fred W. Minicus, and Ernest B. Fischer, officials of the Min-Haf corporation; William Molasky, Consensus Publishing company; Arnold W. Kruse, Cecelia corporation; Charles W. Bidwell, Bentley Murray Publishing company, and James M. Ragen Jr. and L. Stanley Kahn, Nationwide News Service, Inc., key Annenberg service for supplying horse race results to bookies which was dissolved several weeks ago.

Argument of Prosecutor.

William J. Campbell, United States district attorney, has contended that the immunity granted before one grand jury had no connection with the investigation conducted before the the other jury. The government also holds that the immunity extended only to prosecutions for antitrust violations.

Campbell announced yesterday that Samuel Klaus, one of his special assistants, will be sent to Indianapolis within a few days to aid an inquiry into the bootlegging of race results to bookies in large cities. Klaus on Tuesday filed an affidavit in Los Angeles, Cal., alleging that a horse race news service of nation-wide proportions is being operated from Indianapolis, manned mostly by former employés of Annenberg.

ST. CHARLES GRAD GETS 28 YEARS IN FARM MURDER

Judge William L. Pierce of the McHenry county Circuit court at Woodstock yesterday sentenced Charles Allen Dain, 15 years old, to 28 years in the state penitentiary for murder, in accordance with a jury verdict of Dec. 21. Dain, a former inmate of the St. Charles Training School for Boys, clubbed, shot, and stabbed Lester Groth, a McHenry county farmer, to death on Sept. 26. Three years before he had been given a foster home with Groth by the St. Charles institution. The jury verdict held that no parole should be granted Dain until he had served at least 14 years.

A COUNTY CHARGE FOR 40 YEARS HAS $12,000 ESTATE

Family Told; Pay Keep to Save Reputation.

The taxpayers feed and clothe John Blease, for he has been an inmate of Oak Forest infirmary since 1918, Judge John F. O'Connell was informed in Probate court yesterday. Relatives told the judge that Blease, now 75 years old, has been a county charge for 40 years. Yet the elderly poorhouse ward has an estate of $12,000.

Judge O'Connell ordered an investigation when he heard the story. He recommended that the county make a cleam against the estate for its bounty to a man of means.

A Reputation to Keep.

To five of Blease's kinsmen who came to court to ask that the family be given management of his estate, the judge said:

"The pride and reputation of your family can be saved only by tendering the county a part of the cost of maintaining this man. It was never intended that persons with estates should be 'county charges.'"

Then the judge began computing, on an arbitrary rate of $1 a day, the cost of keeping Blease. The total would be $14,600 for 40 years.

Blease's story was disclosed when relatives asked the appointment of a successor to the deceased conservator of Blease's estate and the $25,000 estate of his brother, George, 73. The judge was informed that the brothers had been declared incompetent in 1899, and that George Blease lives with his sister, Mrs. Alex Seyfarth of 6103 Peoria street.

Refuses Family Plea.

James A. Russell, who was attorney for the conservator, asked that a trust company be appointed. Mrs. Seyfarth's husband asked the appointment of his daughter, Mrs. Elsie Burchett, 7914 South Morgan street. The relative said that the Seyfarths have insufficient facilities to care for both the brothers.

The judge refused to appoint the daughter or a trust company. Instead he appointed Attorney Francis H. McKeever, who was recently chosen guardian to protect the brothers' interest pending choice of a new conservator. Judge O'Connell instructed McKeever to determine whether or not the income from the estates had been used for the benefit of the brothers.

2 QUIET WORKERS FACE TRIAL FOR STEALING STEEL

40 Tons of It Slips Away in 5 Ton Lots.

Henry Tripp and Walter Neargaard were known as good, quiet workers at the Central Steel and Wire company, 4545 South Western avenue. Tripp took down orders and Neargaard, as assistant warehouse superintendent, saw to it that they went out. They were industrious, on time at work every day, and often worked overtime.

But on Jan. 29 they go on trial in Felony court on two charges of larceny each. They are accused of having stolen 40 tons of steel—not in little bits, but in sheets done up in five ton packages. Accused with them are six alleged accomplices, and a seventh is being sought.

Goes Back to 1938.

The theft, as recounted yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Francis McCurrie, began in June, 1938. At that time, McCurrie said, Tripp was approached by Ray C. Greenberg and Lewis Fischer, president and vice president of the Apex Ventilating company, 215 South Peoria street, old customers of Central Steel and Wire.

As McCurrie related the charges, this is what followed:

Greenburg and Fischer had a simple little request to make: They wanted to buy steel at half its market price. Tripp, surprisingly enough, agreed. So did Neargaard, two loaders [one not yet apprehended], and two truck drivers. The drivers' reward was to be $20 apiece a load. The total price for each five ton load was between $200 and $250.

Look for More Business.

This worked out so beautifully [altho the truck drivers quit after the fourth load], and no one seemed to notice the absence of the steel, that the two good, quiet workers looked about for more business. They found it in the City Radiator Cabinet company, 2508 Van Buren street, and Elmer Werner, its president.

So smoothly did matters run that on several occasions the Apex company sent its own truck over for the steel. Its last load, however, was on Jan. 4, and the last load to the cabinet company was on Dec. 30, for to satisfy the caprice of some one in the steel company an inventory was made of steel going out—and Tripp and Neargaard confessed.

After all their quiet industry, however, the two men's profits totaled only about $1,400. They, the receivers of the stolen steel, and the truck drivers all will be up for trial Jan. 29.

Fox in Neighborhood; Police Have Man for Job

Policeman William Sommers of the Jefferson Park station has made frequent trips to the wilds of Canada, where he stalks deer and moose with the cunning of an Indian. Three days ago members of a squad told him they had sighted a red fox near Montrose and Harlem avenues. Sommers got on the trail. He tracked the animal for three mornings. Yesterday he came upon the fox in a brush pile at Harlem and Touhy avenues and killed it with his service revolver.

THE RULES

WHO CAN ENTER? This offer is open free to men, women, boys and girls everywhere — except employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families. No person may submit more than one entry.

WHAT TO DO? Each week day a puzzle picture representing the name of a popular orchestra leader will be printed in the Daily Tribune until 42 have appeared. Solve the puzzle pictures and write the names in the space provided, or on a facsimile. Hold all answers until you have the complete set of 42. Do not send them in separately. It is not necessary to solve ALL correctly to win. Prizes will be paid for entries ranking highest.

WHERE TO SEND? Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Rhythm Kings," Chicago Tribune, Postoffice Box 1539 Chicago, Illinois. A ballot will be printed with Puzzle Picture No. 42. Each contestant must vote for the orchestra he or she likes best and state the reason for such choice in 25 words or less. Contestants may use the printed ballot or a facsimile. Ballots will be considered only if two or more persons submit equally correct solutions to the puzzle pictures; in which event judgment will be based on sincerity and originality. Entries must be in by midnight February 24, 1940.

JUDGMENT: Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree that the judges' decisions will be final. 430 cash awards totaling $5,000 will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved, complete sets of puzzle pictures. Elaborate entries will receive no more consideration than simple ones. In case of ties duplicate awards will be paid.

INSURANCE FIRMS CONCEDE CRATER DEAD; WILL PAY

Widow of Missing Judge to Get $20,561.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10 [Special].—Two insurance companies finally have conceded the death of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater, who stepped into a taxicab and vanished one summer night in 1930. They have agreed to pay the judge's widow a total of $20,561.

This new and perhaps final chapter in the Crater mystery saga was disclosed today by Emil K. Ellis, attorney for the widow, Mrs. Stella Crater Kunz, now the wife of a New York civil engineer. Ellis said his client would receive the money by tomorrow morning.

According to Ellis, he had made a lengthy investigation into the nine and a half year disappearance and uncovered new evidence of the judge's death to prove his case to the insurance concerns.

Believes He Was Murdered.

"I believe Judge Crater was murdered the night of Aug. 6, 1930, when he was last seen," Ellis asserted. "It is my theory he was the victim of an extortion plot."

Since the attorney and the widow were unable to produce the body, they were unable to claim double indemnity on the insurance policies. It would be necessary to have an autopsy performed and medical testimony offered to show the death was caused by external violence. A third policy for $10,000 on the judge's life had lapsed in 1930.

Ellis announced, however, the other two policies would be paid off in full. One is with the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York in the amount of $15,561, and the other with the Fidelity Life Insurance company of Philadelphia for $5,000.

Widow Must File Bond.

Under the agreement Mrs. Kunz will file a surety company bond of $23,500, costing her a premium of $675, to reimburse the insurance companies if at any time in the future Judge Crater should reappear.

Judge Crater, who had a marked penchant for chorus girls and dined with two of them at a cabaret the night he vanished, left a number of tangled clews behind him. These pointed to an almost inescapable conclusion that the background for the crime—if crime there was—lay in New York politics.

Senator Robert Wagner, who had been Crater's law partner, was unable to give any information of a concrete nature which would solve the mystery. Some investigators have expressed the conviction, nevertheless, that the judge fled voluntarily to avoid questioning in inquiries going forward into municipal affairs at the time.

Charge Never Proved.

One of these investigations involved former Magistrate George W. Ewald and Martin Healy, a Tammany leader, who were charged with the sale of a magistracy, a charge never proved to the satisfaction of a jury, altho it was tried three times. Healy was the leader of the district in which Crater lived and the judge had presided over a testimonial banquet celebrating Ewald's appointment as a magistrate.

Some time after Crater vanished it was discovered that prior to his appointment to the bench he had been a receiver for the Libby hotel which the city took in condemnation proceedings. The price of $2,850,000 which the city paid was assailed in the courts as having been too high.

Note Tells of Sum Due.

Crater spoke of this deal in a note which his wife found in a dresser in the home after the disappearance. The judge had scribbled down a number of debts owed him, mostly by politicians, and one of the items read:

"Libby hotel—there will be a very large sum due me for services when city pays the 2¾ millions in condemnation."

At the same time Mrs. Crater found more than $6,000 cash in the dresser. This was six months after the disappearance. The judge had drawn $5,150 out of the bank on the day of the disappearance.

"On the day Crater vanished he carried with him this note, his last will and the insurance policies," said Ellis. "He knew then his life was threatened. The people who killed him placed the cash in the dresser at the Crater home after the immediate excitement had died down."

HEARS ARGUMENT ON JURY BLAST AT MUNICIPAL COURT

After hearing extensive arguments yesterday Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court announced that he would rule next Wednesday on Municipal Judge George B. Weiss' request that portions of the September grand jury's report be expunged from the records.

The report charged that the Municipal court and law enforcement agencies were engaged in a sham battle against gambling and that they "passed the buck" without getting results. Judge Weiss contended that the grand jury had no right to make a general condemnation of the court.

In yesterday's argument Attorney Myer N. Rosengard, for Judge Weiss, declared that the report gave the Municipal judges no recourse, altho they had been libeled. First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley asserted the grand jury had power under the statutes to make the report and added that Judge Weiss had not been harmed.

SEEKS FREEDOM, SAYING ANOTHER MAN CONFESSED

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 10 [Special].—Harley M. Highsmith, 51 years old, former oil company sales executive, began a court fight for release from the Michigan City, Ind., prison today by declaring that another man has confessed to the crime for which he was sent to jail.

In a suit on a writ of error Highsmith alleges that the other man is Austin Knickelbein, 26, of South Bend, now serving a life sentence as an habitual criminal after being sentenced in Laporte, Ind.

Highsmith is serving a 10 year sentence under conviction of holding up and robbing Albert J. Bendit in the Gulf Refining company bulk plant in Mishawaka March 24, 1938. Highsmith alleges that he met Knickelbein in prison and wrung from him the admission that Knickelbein held up Bendit.

ROBBER REACHING FOR CASH FELLED BY BARTENDER

A young man holding his right hand in his overcoat pocket as if he had a gun entered the tavern at 511 Jackson boulevard early today. He was wearing a handkerchief mask. At his order one of the owners, Edward Gaenzle, put $42 on the bar. As the robber reached for the cash the bartender, Jack Greeson, smashed him over the head with a beer bottle, knocking him unconscious. The intruder was taken to the county hospital and then to the Des Plaines street lockup. He gave two names, Joseph Auriana and George Gilio, and two addresses on De Koven street. He then claimed to be secretary to Ald. William Pacelli [20th]. The alderman said he did not know the prisoner.

G.O.P. COMMITTEE CALLED TO PICK CONVENTION DATE

Session Has Advantage of Following Democrats.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—A meeting of the Republican national committee to fix the time and place of the Republican national convention was called today for Feb. 16 by John D. M. Hamilton, committee chairman.

The call puts the meeting of the Republican committee eleven days later than the gathering of the Democratic national committee for the same purpose, Postmaster General James A. Farley, Democratic committee chairman, having fixed Feb. 5 as the meeting date for the Democrats.

The Feb. 16 meeting date will give the Republicans the advantage of knowing when and where the Democratic convention will be held before they pick the time and place at which they will select candidates for President and Vice President.

At a meeting of the Republican executive committee early in December no decision was reached as to whether the Republican party will hold its convention after the Democratic gathering in order that the G. O. P. may have the added advantage of knowing who the Democratic candidates will be and on what platform they will seek office.

Hamilton Favors Delay.

Chairman Hamilton is in favor of a convention after the Democrats have acted, because he feels the party out of power should have the advantages arising from a later convention. Other leaders feel that the G. O. P. should ignore the opposition and hold their convention early in June, as usual.

Many Republicans acknowledge that a later convention date would be desirable, but feel that the party cannot afford to outwait the Democrats, because it will need to spend more time in organizing than the party in power.

Raising of the funds necessary to wage a national campaign is the crux of the matter, and it cannot be done in a hurry. Contributors usually want to know who is to be the party candidate and what he stands for before they put up cash. This matter may in the end govern selection of the G. O. P. convention date.

Democrats First Only Twice.

Twice the Democrats have held their convention before the Republicans. The first time was in 1854, the first year of the Republican party, when Gen. John C. Freemont was a candidate against James Buchanan. The second time was in 1888, when President Grover Cleveland was renominated to run unsuccessfully against Benjamin Harrison.

With the Republican committee meeting Feb. 16, the earliest probable date for the G. O. P. convention would be Monday, June 17, as party rules provide that the convention call must go out at least 120 days in advance of the gathering.

If the Democrats should decide to hold their convention late in June or early in July, it is considered likely that the Republicans will postpone their convention until the country has the answer to the question of whether Mr. Roosevelt will seek a third term.

Both Favor Chicago.

In both parties, leaders favor Chicago as the convention city because of its central location and other advantages, without regard to the money offers that may be made by other cities. Cities which are expected to make strong bids to influence committeemen of both parties are Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit, Minneapolis, Cleveland, and San Francisco.

Usually a city is expected to put up about $200,000 for the privilege of playing host to a party convention.

ARRAIGN DOCTOR IN THEFTS FROM TWO SURGEONS

Dr. Leon Boim, who has confessed stealing $128 from two surgeons while they were performing operations in Waukegan hospitals, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of larceny. Police Magistrate Clarence L. Brown of Waukegan bound him over to the grand jury. Unable to furnish bail, Dr. Boim was locked up in the Lake county jail.

Dr. Boim, who has an office at 738 Sheridan road, is 43 years old. He is a former medical school instructor. He has confessed taking $55 last Sept. 7 from the clothes of Dr. Louis F. Kompare at St. Therese hospital and $73 last Friday from the clothing of Dr. William L. Ewald at Victory Memorial hospital.

HELD ON CHARGES OF LURING YOUNG GIRLS TO HIS FLAT

Charles Riamondi, 58 years old, will be questioned today at the state's attorney's sex offense bureau as the result of statements given to the Chicago avenue police yesterday by five girls, 11 and 12 years old. Riamondi was held overnight at another police station when the male relatives of 25 other girls, involved in the case, begged police to let them deal with him.

The girls told Policewoman Helen Bowden and Juvenile Officer Patrick Condon that Riamondi lured them to his flat at 1132 Orleans street with promises of food, and then attempted indecencies. Riamondi denied the charges.

CHAMPAIGN PINBALL MACHINE MAN TELLS PAYOFF TO SHERIFF

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 10 [Special].—Various sums of money were paid to Clarence W. Roth, then sheriff of Champaign county, late in 1936 for the operation of pinball and marble machines in Champaign county, Fred Bongart of Champaign testified today in the bribery trial of Roth. Bongart in 1936 was president of the pinball and marble machine operators of Champaign county.

Roth was indicted on a bribery charge by the January, 1939, grand jury, which investigated charges of vice and corruption in Champaign.

Bongart testified that a meeting of the association was held each Monday night in late 1936 and each operator paid $1 for each machine he was operating. This money was given to Bongart who said he in turn saw Roth on a Wednesday or Thursday and handed to him an envelope containing the money collected. Bongart testified specifically that he handed Roth an envelope containing $73 on Nov. 26, 1936.

Court's Behavior Clinic Studies 2,219 Cases in '39

The Municipal court phychiatric clinic examined 2,219 persons in 1939, Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the court reported yesterday. Dr. David B. Rotman, director of the clinic, said that 34.2 per cent of the patients were sent to institutions.

SECOND WOMAN HELD IN ROUNDUP OF 'FAGIN' GANG

Mrs. Catherine Gurke, 59 years old, 2217 Cortland street, was arrested yesterday by Sergt. John Nolan of the Shakespeare avenue police as the receiver of goods stolen by seven young men who operated, police said, under the direction of Mrs. Rose Slinwinski, 55, of 1874 North Leavitt street, accused as the woman Fagin of the gang. Mrs. Slinwinski is accused of having disposed of an estimated $5,000 worth of loot taken in 100 burglaries.

Sergt. Nolan said Mrs. Slinwinski told him that the gang was turned over to her by Mrs. Gurke when the loot got to big for one woman to handle. About $300 worth of stolen merchandise was recovered in Mrs. Slinwinski's apartment.

Held with the two women are Leonard Zielinski, 21; Frank Malek, 17, Frank's brother, Joseph, 19; William McKomiskey, 17; Carl Burski, 19; Arthur Choslewinsky, 18 and Harry Koda, 17.

2 Saved from Execution by Governor of New York

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10 [Special].—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman added to his record of leniency toward convicted murderers today by commuting to life imprisonment the death sentences of John Keough and Anthony Lategano, both of whom were scheduled to die tomorrow night in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

BURNS PROVE FATAL.

Louis Hoptner, 84 years old, died in county hospital yesterday of burns suffered when he was trapped by flames Tuesday in his room at 1453 Clybourn avenue.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."—From the Farewell Address.

HANES ON NULLIFICATION.

On Dec. 31, the resignation of John W. Hanes as undersecretary of the treasury became effective. Because he was practically the only person in high position in Washington who believed in letting private business flourish, his statements in the past have attracted wide attention. The administration has taken full advantage of this from time to time—and even to his last official day. For just as he was leaving office Mr. Hanes wrote a letter attempting to take the heat off the treasury caused by its revival of the tax on undistributed earnings of corporations in defiance of the act of congress in repealing that tax and repudiating the principle of it.

Mr. Hanes' letter, addressed to John W. Benke Jr., a Democratic congressman from Indiana, must have been written as he was about to put on his hat and step out of official life. It was made public six days after he became a private citizen. Mr. Hanes promised that the treasury would be fair and reasonable in exercising its discretion when to tax corporations for failure to declare earnings as dividends and when not to tax them.

The country thought that the tax on corporations for retaining profits for growth had been knocked out for good by act of congress. But this was a tax for which the Roosevelt administration had fought stubbornly. In opposition to the spirit of the repealer the treasury within a month after congress acted issued instructions to its agents to lay a heavy tax upon corporations which retained a substantial portion of earnings in the business.

An old section of the tax law which had not been disturbed was claimed as authority for the treasury's amazing action in nullifying the act of congress. That provision, section 102, adopted some years before to get at personal holding companies, which have no valid need to keep their earnings, was interpreted by the treasury to apply to other corporations, which must keep profits in the business if they are to grow and improve their products and methods of production. The treasury told its agents that corporations which paid out less than 70 per cent of earnings were to be presumed tax dodgers and subjected to a surtax of 25 per cent on undistributed earnings up to $100,000 and 35 per cent on any excess. The proof that it is entitled to exemption is upon the corporation.

The treasury's tax on undistributed earnings is worse than the statutory one. The other one was calculated to prevent private business from growing. It penalized companies which saved money in good times so that they could operate in hard times. The two taxes were alike in these particulars. But the tax congress voted was definite and could be determined in advance. It was uniform and no one could be excused from paying it at the caprice of a burocrat. The old tax was harmful. The new tax is both harmful and arbitrary.

There might have been some confidence in Mr. Hanes' statement that the treasury would be fair in administering its undistributed earnings tax if Mr. Hanes had remained in the treasury. He is no longer there. But with or without Mr. Hanes to oversee it, the tax is bad. Congress repealed the enacted retained earnings tax. Congress should make short shrift of the proclaimed earnings tax which is a whole lot worse.

WHY RAILROADS GO BROKE.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, wants to meet the competition of the buses by making train travel cheaper. He says he is confident that his company will earn more money by carrying people in day coaches at 2 cents a mile than if he must charge 2½ cents. He favors a comparable lowering of Pullman fares.

Mr. Willard finds himself in a curious position. He wants to sell his wares to the public at a lower price, but he finds the so-called representative of the public, the Interstate Commerce commission, standing in his way. He can't do his part to lower the cost of living without first obtaining permission.

Worse still, he finds himself opposed by representatives of other railroads who are given a respectful hearing by the commission. They may lack Mr. Willard's energy, his courage, his acumen, or his initiative. Perhaps they don't care whether the bus lines take away their passenger business. At any rate, they are trying to keep Mr. Willard from selling his services at prices which would certainly be advantageous to the traveling public and in his opinion would be advantageous to his company as well.

Here is presented a beautiful example of government regulation at work. To call it intolerable is to flatter it. Mr. Willard is trying to meet competition with reduced prices and thus prove to the world that the railroad industry can save itself. He is seeking to demonstrate that the railroad is not an obsolescent form of transportation. In a rational world he would be given every encouragement. Instead, encouragement is given to other railroad companies to hold him to their backward standards. If they are stuffy and dead from the neck up, he is supposed to be stuffy and dead from the neck up, too.

Two-thirds of the railroad mileage of the country is in receivership. In view of the kind of stultifying regulation to which the industry is subjected, the wonder is that any railroad has been able to keep ahead of the sheriff.

WE CAN STAY OUT.

The war in Europe is in its fifth month. Before it began, a good many wiseacres were saying we couldn't stay out. They predicted disorganization of our economic and political life to the point where we would have to intervene. These forecasts have not been realized. The experience of the last four months suggests plainly that we can stay out of the war and do very nicely.

The rival blockades, to be sure, have interfered with our European trade, but the loss is only partial and we may hope to recoup it by doing business with countries which formerly traded with the warring powers. As our exporters and importers become more familiar with this business it should increase provided our government does not interfere and the communists in the various seafaring unions do not halt the movement of ships in and out of our ports.

The outlook is therefore not nearly so dark as was foreseen and in some particulars is fairly bright. We may expect, as a result of our staying out of the European war, to see European activities in this hemisphere diminishing. In trade, this is already apparent. Germany has been excluded from the Latin-American markets, and Britain's war effort is making it increasingly difficult for her to provide the manufactured goods which Latin-America wants.

A parallel development is taking place in political arrangements. The 300 mile zone around our hemisphere, within which no belligerent activity is supposed to be permitted, was an improvisation which sprang from a fondness for the spectacular rather than a realistic sense of the limitations of our power to enforce the decree. It should be possible, however, to whittle the area to be patroled to practical size. We can and should keep the European war out of the Caribbean, which should become an American lake thru the transfer to our government of the foreign possessions there.

Likewise, we should have the Galapagos Islands. They are of little or no value to Ecuador, which now has nominal possession of them, but would prove of great value for the preservation of peace in this hemisphere if they were held by the United States as a naval and air base for the protection of the Panama canal and the western coast of South America.

America did not want the war and will be happy to see it ended, but all the evidence thus far available suggests that this country need take no desperate steps in the hope of bringing about a prompt conclusion of hostilities. The war is anything but a boon to this country, but we seem able to get along despite it and even to find some compensations for the dislocations it has caused here.

WRITE OFF THE LOSSES.

The Inland Waterways corporation was born when congress, after the world war, found the government in possession of an assortment of river equipment purchased to help government-operated railroads handle war traffic. The corporation was organized by congress with the declared purpose of demonstrating to shippers the practicability and economy of water transportation. That demonstration accomplished, it was stated, it was the purpose to dispose of the properties to private capital and take the government out of the transportation business.

Whatever else government operation of the barge lines may have disclosed, it has proved anew the virtual indestructibility of the burocrat. It was expected when the corporation was organized that the experiment would be finished in five years. It is still going on after twenty.

Maj. Gen. Thomas Q. Ashburn, who was dismissed last fall as head of the corporation's executive board, tempered his statements of policy to the winds of Washington. After following the expressed purpose of the act pretty closely for a decade, he had been brought by 1934 to the position that the Inland Waterways corporation should be operated according to the same principles enunciated by the Tennessee Valley authority.

Following Gen. Ashburn's dismissal, J. Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce, said at St. Louis that the barge line would be "shed of every government earmark and, as soon as possible, turned over to private business as a going concern." Was Mr. Johnson talking just for Mr. Johnson? The government can get out of the barge line business if congress will repeal the section of the present act requiring that the property be sold as a whole. Twenty years of operation have been sufficient to show which of the corporation's routes are economically justifiable and which are kept in operation to appease local political demands.

Congress is close to the statutory debt limit. It can stave off the day of reckoning if it will liquidate some of the assets that the government never should have purchased, sell them to private operators, and increase the property subject to local and federal taxation.

It is possible that the barge lines would bring something approaching their book value. Sale of many of the New Deal fantasies, of course, would entail enormous writedowns from the book values representing the tax funds sunk into them. Such bookkeeping losses would be more apparent than real. The money spent is lost anyway. Sales would save the government the further operating deficits. The national economy would benefit by efficient private operation of such of the enterprises as can be so operated. Those enterprises would be transformed from tax sink holes to revenue producers.

THIS LITTLE GAL STAYED AT HOME.

Outside, small glittering hunks of snow are falling,
And the state of my mind is simply appalling,
When I think of those people all spread around
On the sandy white beaches within sight and sound
Of them roaring blue waves and them gleaming blue sky,
It withers my soul that those people ain't I.

Germs don't attack them with colds in the noses;
Why,
Their bugles are probably buried in roses,
And they prowl about in new summer clotheses.
When I pick up the news to peruse the events,
I see hundreds of pictures of ladies and gents
Attractively posed by some swanky pool
And, amid summer heat, looking charmingly cool, and
People on luxury yachts happily sailing,
People large sea fishes expertly nailing,
People in swimming and people out dancing,
People in tropical settings romancing,
People on golf links and people at races,
And all with big smiles on their loathsome faces,
Why shouldn't they smile when they're there in the sun,
And I'm where the winter has barely begun!

Re numbers for football players [Jan. 9]:

Dr. Williams, coach at Minnesota, 1900-'21, was the originator, and I believe the lone user, of box car numbers on football uniforms. He used a combination of the digits 3, 6, 8, and 9—all well rounded, so that it was almost impossible to distinguish one number from another.

That was not his only idiosyncrasy. I well recall one Saturday afternoon at Evanston, when Minnesota was scheduled to play Northwestern. We had daylight saving time in Chicago and Evanston, but they did not have it in Minneapolis. The game was scheduled for 2 o'clock; the crowd gathered for that time, but Dr. Williams refused to let his players go out on the field until 2 o'clock Minneapolis time, which was 3 o'clock Chicago time. Of course, at that time Northwestern was considered to be a minor factor in the football world, and Dr. Williams was in his ascendancy. You can imagine the feelings of the crowd!

Still Harping on "the Pure Quill."

If you want the true origin of "the pure quill" as a synonym for value, see Bernal Diaz' memoirs of the conquest of Mexico, published in 1601:

"Then we went to the great temple, and when we were approaching its great courts, before leaving the market place itself, there were many more merchants who, as I was told, brought gold for sale in grains, just as it is taken from the mines. The gold is placed in thin quills of the geese of the country, white quills so that the gold can be seen thru, and according to the length and thickness of the quills they arrange their accounts with one another."

"TOUCHY" OR SENSITIVE SKIN.

In the colder months most of us don more or heavier clothing. On zero days we may bundle up to the eyebrows. Women resort to furs and, in consequence, an irritating dye may come in contact with the skin. We have learned that the epidermis of some individuals is highly sensitive—especially to substances utilized to tint furs and woolens. In fact, the cuticle is as touchy as a skittish horse. It dislikes insults of all sorts and is likely to rebel if pushed too far. It regards itself as an outer fortification protecting the more delicate tissues within.

Now, this external layer has its own methods of sounding an alarm. Redness, swelling, the formation of blisters—all give the signal. If the appearance is that of acute inflammation we may know that a rather powerful offender is operating. Unfortunately, removing the excitant will not bring healing immediately. Several days—even weeks—may be required before the area will return to normal. This is particularly true if the origin is not recognized and eliminated. Occasionally, eczemalike lesions will be followed by oozing and peeling.

One woman applied a certain hair dye to the eyebrows and the regions of the temples. Within a short while she developed puffiness and itching of the lids, and within 24 hours the neck, chest, and spaces beneath the arms were grossly inflamed, the surface covered with tiny blisters. The preparation in question had been used by a number of her friends without the slightest harmful effects. She, on the other hand, happened to be susceptible and weeks elapsed before all manifestations disappeared.

A lady of my acquaintance wakened every Sunday morning with her cheeks and neck swollen and scarlet colored. During the week the trouble receded gradually. Numerous tests for allergy were negative. The pillow cases were finally suspected because they were changed each Saturday. The culprit proved to be a bleach used by the laundry. Omitting the chemical solved the problem.

A single encounter is rarely much more than annoying. Just the other day I met a friend, the back of whose neck was ablaze. There were no pimples or pustules—just an even but angry-looking surface. The trouble was traced to an irritant in the starch or wash water used in laundering his collars. Sutton reports that in one case the strap of a wrist watch was responsible for a true dermatitis. After laying the object aside no improvement was noted for more than a week. Shortly thereafter recovery occurred.

We should understand that before applying any new and strange material to the epidermis it is well to test a small segment [approximately an inch square] to see what happens. Several hours should be allowed—to make sure that the substance is innocuous.

In the case of furs and other articles of clothing, we assume that they may be worn safely unless symptoms develop. Should irritation of the body covering appear, however, the garments used recently will need to be investigated.

The first rule in treatment is to wash the skin thoroly with benzine or ether. Then apply white vaseline and keep the area moist with a solution of aluminum acetate—1 to 500 parts of water. Even bran water will be helpful. Aspirin will aid in relieving pain and itching. Care must be taken to avoid secondary infections [growing bacteria] which may be planted by the finger nails. All remedies should be mild. We must not forget that a sensitive skin will not withstand strong chemicals.

HAVE A CHECKUP.

C. W. writes: What causes the hands to tremble and jerk? It is almost impossible to hold a pencil. Some one suggested shaking palsy. I am 20 years old.

REPLY.

Probably a nervous condition. Many young people notice this symptom, particularly in the presence of others or when under tension. At your age, Parkinson's disease would be most unusual. A careful checkup is suggested, as overactivity on the part of the thyroid may be to blame.

BE QUIET AND WAIT.

I. T. writes: What is the best thing to do in an acute attack of appendicitis before the doctor comes?

REPLY.

Keep quiet, take no food, water, or laxative of any kind. After the physician has made an examination he will advise the necessary steps.

IT CARRIES OXYGEN.

T. M. writes: What is hemoglobin?

REPLY.

The red coloring matter of the blood. It has the power of uniting with oxygen and acts as a carrier, transporting this vital gas to every part of the body.

LOW BODY RESISTANCE.

T. C. writes: What is meant by "low body resistance"? What is the treatment?

REPLY.

Resistance is another term for immunity—or the ability of the body to ward off, fight, or prevent disease. A person under par possesses little reserve. He is like the runner at the end of a race. Rest, proper food, regular living habits, and treatment of anemia and chronic infections are of value in raising the level. The avoidance of overfatigue is an important factor.

INSURANCE.

Chicago, Jan. 8 [Legal Friend of the People].—My father was insured by a company in 1899. In 1905 father and mother were divorced. Mother continued to pay on policy, altho father disappeared about 1907 and was never seen or heard from by his parents, sisters or brothers from then until now. Father would now be 72 years old. In 1925 mother filed a disappearance claim with company. For seven years they investigated and found no trace of father, dead or alive.

1. In 1932 company told mother she had no claim to benefit because she was divorced, but that I, the only child, could file claim. Thru an attorney I collected half of policy, company telling me if I could furnish proof of father's death policy would be paid in full. Since 1932 no premiums have been paid as company agreed.
2. After 32 years' disappearance is this company obliged to pay policy in full?
3. Is it necessary for me to have father declared dead by court?
4. How do I go about this and is there somewhere I may have it done gratis?

A. K. B.

1. This would depend on the wording of the policy, which you have not placed before us.
2. Seven years' unexplained absence creates a presumption of death, but if the company is unwilling to pay, it would be necessary for you to bring court proceedings.
3. See 2.
4. Employ an attorney. There would appear to be some danger that your rights have been barred by the statute of limitations. This would depend on what the company has said along the line of new promises.

ESTATE EXPENSES.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 9 [Legal Friend of the People].—I hold notes for $500 against my wife's mother. Her estate consists of her home, which is possibly valued at $900. My wife's brother, who is only other heir, has been appointed administrator [1] by some course unknown to her as she was not consulted. His attorney has requested us to sign deed for sale of this property and stated that there are obligations of about $1,200, consisting of hospital, undertaker, doctor, and monument bills, and advises that these bills have preference over other debts, so would thank you to furnish me information on following questions.

2. Was it lawful for my wife's brother to be appointed administrator without her consent? If she refuses to sign deed [3] will estate have to be put thru court?
4. About what would be the cost of same?
5. Is this cost taken out of estate? Are [6] hospital, [7] doctor, [8] undertaker, and [9] monument bills given preference over other bills in court?
10. In case the estate does not pay the bills could creditors demand any payment from my wife or us jointly?

P. R. M.

1. An administrator obtains appointment by presenting a petition to the Probate court.
2. Yes, as far as the facts stated are concerned.
3. Yes. It seems probable that probate will be necessary anyway.
4. Depends largely on the attorney who is employed.
5. Yes.
6 and 7. Yes, as far as they relate to the last illness.
8. Yes, as far as it is reasonable.
9. No necessarily.
10. Not on the bare facts stated.

JOINT OWNERSHIP.

Chicago, Jan. 9 [Legal Friend of the People].—Father and mother own a home in joint tenancy. 1. Can father run up bills without the knowledge of mother and have them charged against the house? Father got old age assistance for 20 months at $17 a month, which has now been stopped.

2. Will this be against the property? Father is a heavy drinker, has been in Elgin getting the drunk cure.
3. Can anything be done to get him to sign over his part of the property to mother?
4. Can anything be done to stop him from putting bills of any kind against the property?

J. L.

1. Yes, if the bills are for family expenses they can be charged against husband and wife. If they are not for family expenses they would be charged against only the husband's half.
2. It will not stand as a lien on the title, but the accumulated pension payments are a charge against any estate that the recipient holds at the time of his death.
3. Obviously one thing that can be done is to ask him. You do not indicate what possibilities have been exhausted.
4. The facts might be such as to justify application to a court for the appointment of a conservator. Your family physician would be in a better position to advise you than we are.

How Our States Got Their Names

4. CALIFORNIA.

California is thought to have been named after an island mentioned in a Spanish romance published in 1510 or 1511. It is believed to have been so named by Cortez when he discovered it in 1533. The island was described by the author Montalvo as being "on the right side of the Indies, near the Terrestrial Paradise." Other authorities believe the name came from Indian, Greek, or Latin sources, or possibly from the words "caliento forno" [hot furnace]. California became a state on Sept. 9, 1850.

The California state seal. Scene shows Minerva, with Golden Gate and ship in full sail in foreground, and Sierra Nevadas in background. Beside Minerva is bear feeding on clusters from grapevine. Miner is at work at left. State motto, "Eureka" [I have found it] is surmounted by 31 stars, the number of states in Union after California was admitted.

California first was called El Dorado [the gilded] because of the gold discoveries, and later was known as the Gold state and the Grape state. It also is known as the Land of Gold and as the Eureka state, the latter because of the state motto "Eureka," which means "I have found it." California's flower is the golden poppy, her bird the California valley quail and her tree the redwood. The state song is "I Love You, California."

NOT SO UNFORTUNATE.

Maywood, Ill., Jan. 4.—To the "unfortunate family" living in the government housing flats, who must move because they have a raise in salary, let me say I know it is tough to be without a gas range and electric refrigerator. And if one was just coming out of a charitable institution maintained by one's tax paying neighbors, where all these things are furnished gratis, it probably would seem tougher yet. And it is indeed unfortunate that they hadn't saved at least a down payment while they were on easy street.

But some of us who haven't had the narrowness of heart and mind to take advantage of charity that ought to go to the aged, crippled, and widowed, and those who have no jobs at all might just suggest a way out of this "desperate" condition; the second hand store keeper is trying to make a living for himself and he has some fairly decent, or at least usable, things.

So just dry your eyes and rub a bit of sand on that jellied spine. Be thankful you have a job and live in a free country where you could get charity were you really in need. Look God's good world in the face and say, I am ashamed of myself. I never again will expect my neighbors to keep up a better place for me than many have for themselves. Then move any place and start life over and bring up those poor children to love their country instead of chisel it, and be lifters, not leaners.

A good bedtime story is the one about the little Finns who paid for everything they got.

SECURELY TIED.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—It seems to me that many lives could be saved and that a great deal of suffering could be averted if we would take the time to examine our surroundings and prepare ourselves for that unexpected fire.

For many years I have made it a practice of having in my bedroom closet a new clothesline of double length ready to be tied to the radiator which is near the window. This rope will reach the ground of a three story building and is strong enough to support the weight of a medium build person.

COLD FEET IN SCHOOL.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—My two children go to the Peter Reinberg school. They have complained many times of being cold; have had to sit with their coats on and even teacher had to wear her fur coat. It is not an uncommon occurrence on Monday mornings, but on Tuesday of this week it was thoroly disgusting. One of my children, in spite of a silk and wool stocking and cotton sox inside of his hitops still had cold feet at noon.

THE PLUMBERS' SIDE.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—In regard to the strike of plumbers and steamfitters on the University of Illinois buildings at Urbana, Ill., I should like to say that all plumbing contracts must be let to a licensed master plumber who is qualified by our state laws to do plumbing work. Where does the writer of your article think a plumbing contractor makes a living? Surely not on labor. And if he does not make a legitimate profit on his material and managing his business, he usually goes broke, a sadder but wiser man.

The plumber in recent years has accomplished much in legislation, not to gouge the public, but to protect the general health of the entire nation. This in spite of severe opposition from handy men, real estate boards, and other illegitimate sources. The writer of your dispatch claims the U. of I. wants to do the work with its own union men. Who believes such a misstatement of facts? In the first place they have no union men [unless he means the regular plumbers' local at Urbana]. Other charges in his article are too ridiculous to answer.

I also wish to say our organizer, Mr. Cunningham, is a very fair and impartial man, and stands ready at all times to render a decision, justly and honestly, and he does not take all his orders from Washington.

QUESTION ABOUT THE SUBWAY.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—The residents of the northwest side, in the vicinity of Logan square and Humboldt park, are very much concerned as to what will become of their present means of connection with the Lake street elevated at the Paulina street transfer and with the Garfield park and Douglas park branches at the Marshfield avenue transfer if the Logan square and Humboldt park branches enter the subway at Paulina street and Milwaukee avenue.

Will the elevated company maintain the present structure, between Damen and Marshfield avenues or will the northwest side patrons desiring to travel westward be compelled to ride thru the Milwaukee avenue and Dearborn street subway and transfer to the Lake street and Garfield and Douglas park branches? If so, many patrons of the Logan square and Humboldt park lines will be given delayed transportation instead of rapid transportation.

Incidentally, the service on the Humboldt park branch is deteriorating rapidly. For several years there has been no service out of the Wells street terminal during the rush hour period. The 5 o'clock loop trains are packed like sardines when the train leaves the Marshfield avenue transfer.

ACT TO UNIFY JOB OF TAKING SNOW OFF CITY STREETS

City, County, State and Transit Officers Meet.

BY HAL FOUST.

A coördinated and enlarged program for snow and ice control on a 750 mile system of Chicago streets and boulevards was planned yesterday at a meeting of city, county, and state employés with representatives of the street car and bus lines. The system, to be mapped for another meeting next Wednesday, would include boulevards, car line, and bus line streets, and other important traffic carriers in Chicago's 3,500 miles of pavements.

E. J. McIlraith, Surface Lines engineer

The group indorsed a proposal for an ordinance to ban all parking between midnight and 7 a. m. during and after snowstorms on this 750 mile system.

Called by Motor Club.

The meeting, held in the Illinois Athletic club, was called by the Chicago Motor club and was also attended by district chairmen of its area councils of local civic and neighborhood improvement associations.

Discussion brought out that there is much room for improvement in snow and ice removal methods. City, state, county, parks, the street car company, and the motor coach company—each dabbles at the problem with only a fraction of maximum efficiency, and each operates independently of the others.

E. J. McIlraith, engineer for the Chicago Surface Lines, advanced the suggestion for a restriction on parking and it was immediately seconded by Leslie Sorenson, traffic engineer for the city, and by B. J. Pepperman of the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Would Extend Plow Blades.

"We plow the tracks," said McIlraith, "and street cars could be kept moving were it not that trucks and passenger cars crowd the tracks, many of them stalling. If parked automobiles were removed from the curbs, the blades of our plows could be extended to clear a lane for vehicles on each side of the tracks."

"We, too, operate plows," said the bus man, "but at many locations the parked cars don't give us room to clear lanes for two way travel."

McIlraith said that in Washington, D. C., and in Montreal a parking ban effectively aids snow removal.

City Getting Equipment.

E. L. O'Brien, maintenance engineer for the Illinois highway department, said the state was getting additional equipment to extend its plowing and cinder spreading on state routes within the city. W. J. Galligan of the city department of public works said the council has authorized purchase of 15 additional plows, the first to be bought in almost 15 years. The city's present 43 plows are used at the airport and in the central business district.

A draft of an appropriate parking ordinance will be presented at next week's meeting. Also, on a map of the 750 mile system, each of the several agencies will be assigned sections to plow and to cinder.

SELECT 8 JURORS IN MURDER TRIAL OF POLICE KILLER

Eight jurors qualified to inflict the death penalty were selected yesterday in the trial of Jerry Mangano, 22 years old, for the murder of Park Policeman Harry François. François was shot to death when he frustrated a holdup by Mangano and two other young hoodlums Nov. 20. The trial is before Judge John Sbarbaro in Criminal court.

Italo Begani, 16, one of Mangano's co-defendants, pleaded guilty Monday despite a warning from the court that the plea might not save him from the electric chair. The other, Joseph Russano, 18, has been granted a separate trial.

St. Charles Grad Caught in Burglary Gets 20 Days

Walter Likowski, 18 years old, 4757 South Hoyne avenue a former inmate of the St. Charles School for Boys, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Frank M. Padden of the Boys court to 20 days in the Bridewell for attempted burglary. His companion, William Switalski, 18, of 4719 South Elizabeth street, was placed on probation for four months. Switalski, son of a policeman, was shot and wounded Dec. 7, while the two young men were trying to break into a store at 2025 West 51st street.

Common Sense About Constipation

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with constipation is get at its cause. That way you don't have to endure it first and try to "cure" it afterward—you can avoid having it.

Chances are you won't have to look far for the cause if you eat the super-refined foods most people do. Most likely you don't get enough "bulk"! And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this is what you lack, try crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains just the "bulk" you need.

Eat All-Bran often, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

DECLARE TRUCE IN WYOMING ROW OVER SNOW PLOW

Jackson, Wyo., Jan. 10 (AP).—A truce was declared today in the Teton pass snowplow conflict between aroused Jackson Hole residents and the state highway department.

Under the agreement, a rotary snow plow and a huge seven ton flange seized by a citizen force of 200 men to clear three feet deep drifts blocking the 26 mile pass highway were surrendered to a highway department engineer.

When 15 armed sentries guarding the plows were withdrawn, District Engineer Bill Sutton pledged that the highway commission would consult with Jackson representatives on their demand that the pass be kept open all winter.

Earlier today the commission said clearing the 8,249 foot pass route to Victor, Idaho, this northwest Wyoming big game region's nearest rail outlet, was too costly.

Father Refuses to Permit Operation to Save Baby

Chandler, Okla., Jan. 10 (AP).—The father of a baby girl born with a portion of her brain exposed refused today to permit an operation which might save her life but leave her subnormal. Without the operation, physicians informed the father, Ray Calvin, death is certain within two or three weeks. The baby, a week old today, has a hole about the size of a 25 cent piece in the skull. There is a tumor on the brain at the opening.

DIES AT 84 AFTER A FALL.

Albert Sonnenberg, 84 years old, 819 Hannah avenue, Forest Park, died yesterday in county hospital of injuries suffered in a fall in his home.

PLAN FOR BUSES IN SUBWAYS IF FRANCHISE FAILS

5 Million Fund Asked to Insure a Tenant.

The city council finance committee yesterday recommended $5,000,000 be appropriated from the city's traction fund for operation of buses in the subways if present traction franchise negotiations fail. The city's purchase of buses would have to be approved at a public referendum.

The proposal was made by Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the local transportation committee. It is subject to approval by the council tonight. The appropriation has no effect on the city's corporate budget of operating expenses.

Ald. James R. Quinn.

Franchise Stumbling Block.

Quinn said the city must have a tenant for its eight mile subway when it is completed by the end of this year. Franchise negotiations now under discussion include a plan for a unified transit company to operate the subway. The city and the lines have failed to agree on terms for a franchise.

"We must show the companies we mean business in seeking reasonable terms for a unified franchise," Quinn said. "If they refuse to make reasonable terms, the city must run the subway. Trolley buses could be purchased on a down payment plan and run in the subways."

$500,000 Needed for Vote.

Approximately $500,000 of the five millions would be needed for a referendum on the proposal. The remainder could be used for equipping the subway, Quinn said. He said the city could operate the buses or lease the right to some company.

The subway will cost $46,000,000, of which the Public Works administration is contributing $18,000,000. The PWA can cancel the grant if the subway is not equipped and placed in operation.

Two aldermen opposed the action.

Newspaper Advertising Termed Most Economical

Newspapers are the most economical mediums for advertisers, Kenneth Collins of New York told members of the Chicago Federated Advertising club at a meeting last night at the Hotel Sherman. He said that newspapers make it possible to time advertising. Collins is assistant to the general manager of the New York Times and a former vice president and director of Gimbel Brothers, Inc.

EXECUTIVE DIES WHEN AUTO HITS FREIGHT TRAIN

Joseph B. Hanzel, 50 years old, of 814 Park avenue, River Forest, was injured fatally early today when his automobile rammed the tender of a freight train at a crossing on Division street near Hooker street, on Goose island. Hanzel died in St. Mary's hospital. He was vice president of the Joseph B. Klicka company, manufacturer of mouldings at 1826 South Washtenaw avenue. The train, a Milwaukee road freight of 64 cars, was in charge of Engineer Daniel Daley, 5140 Bloomingdale avenue. The crossing watchman, Edward Geary, 2436 Pershing road, said he attempted to stop Hanzel, but the latter apparently did not see him.

Rudolph Paepke, 42 years old, 267 South Clifton avenue, Elgin, was killed late yesterday when his automobile collided with another at the intersection of Dunham and Wayne roads, west of Wayne, in Du Page county. Harry Becker, Oak Ridge camp, St. Charles, driver of the other car, was slightly injured. Paepke was traffic manager for the Hawley Products company of St. Charles.

In the 24 hours ended at 4 p. m. yesterday there were no fatal automobile accidents in Chicago and Cook county. At that hour 26 persons had been killed in the county since Jan. 1. Of these 18 were killed in Chicago, where 579 were injured in the same period.

170 NORTH SHORE POLICE ATTEND FBI CRIME SCHOOL

One hundred seventy suburban and state police and deputy sheriffs attended classes of the federal bureau of investigation's police schools yesterday in Winnetka and Lake Forest. Sixty were present at Winnetka in the afternoon and 110 at Lake Forest in the evening. William S. Devereaux, special agent in charge of the Chicago FBI office, conducted the classes, which are sponsored by Chiefs of Police William M. Peterson of Winnetka, Frank Tiffany of Lake Forest and Jacob Novak of North Chicago.

SOBRIETY TEST OF DRIVER VOID IF COMPULSORY

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10 (AP).—Compulsory drunk tests in criminal investigations were held illegal today by Attorney General John E. Cassidy in a ruling which attorneys said may affect drunken driving prosecutions in many parts of the state.

Cassidy's opinion was addressed to State's Attorney Rayburn L. Russell of Pekin, who asked for a ruling on validity of blood tests to determine sobriety of a man suspected of causing the death of another.

The attorney general held that blood tests imposed against a person's will violated the constitutional guarantee against unreasonable search and self-incrimination. Cassidy held the tests were legal if agreed to voluntarily, but outlawed if compulsory.

IGOE DENIES PLEA TO OUST SHAW AS TRANSIT ADVISER

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday denied permission to Attorney Charles P. Schwartz to file a petition asking the dismissal of Walter A. Shaw as traction adviser to the federal court. Schwartz represented three bondholders of the surface lines, which is in federal court receivership. Last week Judge Igoe dismissed objections brought by Schwartz in behalf of the three bondholders to a court order authorizing payment of fees to Shaw. Schwartz said he would appeal yesterday's ruling to a higher court.

Auto of Safety Leader Runs Wild; Six Children Injured

Roseland, N. J., Jan. 10 (AP).—Six Caldwell township children were injured today, four seriously, when an automobile driven by the chairman of the borough public safety committee struck a group in front of the township school. Police Chief Robert Henning said Borough Councilman Clinton D. Harrison told authorities he had been working all night and fell asleep at the wheel. Harrison had asked the council last night to form a junior patrol to protect the crossing where the accident occurred.

$1,250,000 WON BY WIDOW OF DANIEL DODGE

Inheritance Taxes Take 6 Millions of Estate.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10 (AP).—Under a decision of Probate Judge Thomas C. Murphy today, Annie Laurine Dodge, former Canadian telephone operator, will receive $1,250,000 from the estate of her husband, Daniel D. Dodge, who was injured fatally in 1938. The estate is estimated to total nearly $11,000,000.

The decision also gives $3,500,000 to Dodge's mother, Mrs. Mathilda R. Wilson. State and federal inheritance taxes will take 6 millions.

Receives $5,000 Monthly.

Mrs. Dodge will continue to receive the $5,000 monthly widow's allowance, which has been paid to her since Daniel Dodge's death, until litigation over the estate ends.

Dodge was one of several heirs to the millions left by his father, John Dodge, automobile manufacturer, who died in 1920. At the age of 25 young Dodge was to have received 10 millions from a trust fund established by his father. He was 21 at the time he was injured when he and his young bride were honeymooning.

Worked for $18 Weekly.

The widow was an $18-a-week switchboard operator in Gore Bay, Ont., when she met young Dodge.

Daniel Dodge's will left his estate, except for a few minor bequests, to his mother. The widow was to have received $250,000 under a pre-nuptial agreement. Under Michigan law, the widow may elect to disregard her husband's will and take a one-fourth statutory share of the estate. She so elected.

Convalescing in Florida.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Jan. 10 [Canadian Press].—Mrs. Annie Laurine Dodge, 31 years old, widow of Daniel D. Dodge who was awarded one-quarter of her husband's estate by a Detroit court today, is convalescing from a slight injury received in athletics at Alma college here and is believed to be in Miami, Fla., college officials said today. Mrs. Dodge injured her back shortly before Christmas. She is expected to return to Alma, a college for girls, next week. She enrolled for a two year commercial course last fall and has taken a prominent part in school athletics.

OBITUARIES

Joseph L. Trunck.

Joseph L. Trunck, vice president of McDonald and Trunck, a heating and ventilating company, died yesterday in his home at 3722 North Harding avenue. He was 59 years old. Born in Freeport, Mr. Trunck came to Chicago in 1900. He supervised the installation of heating and ventilating facilities in many of Chicago's largest buildings, among them the Union station, the Merchandise mart, and the Field building. He was a member of the Chicago Master Steam Fitters' association and of the Steam Fitters' Protective association. Surviving are his widow, Augusta E.; a son, Joseph D., and a brother, David.

Mrs. Marie E. Albrecht.

Mrs. Marie E. Albrecht, a resident of the Irving Park district for 35 years, died last evening in her home at 4222 Tripp avenue. She was 77 years old. She had been ill for more than five years. Mrs. Albrecht's husband, who, like her, was a native of Germany, died 15 years ago. Surviving are three daughters, Elizabeth and Gertrude and Mrs. Vera Meineke, and a son, William Albrecht, employed in the composing room of THE TRIBUNE. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 3918 Irving Park road. Burial will be in St. Lucas cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baer, a resident of Chicago for 60 years, died yesterday at the age of 69 in the Ravenswood hospital. She lived at 7730 Eastlake terrace with her daughter, Adeline, wife of Benjamin Bloomfield, manager of the Uptown theater. Mrs. Baer's father, Joseph Harris, was a pioneer clothing merchant on the west side. Besides her daughter, a son, Arnold C. Baer, a policeman, also survives. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the chapel at 5206 Broadway, with burial in Jewish Waldheim cemetery.

Frederick H. Rawson Jr.

Frederick Holbrook Rawson Jr., 31 years old, died yesterday of heart disease in his home at 1350 North State parkway. He was the son of the late Frederick H. Rawson, chairman of the board of the First National bank. Mr. Rawson attended the Fay school at Southborough, Mass., and was graduated from Northwestern university. He was interested in aviation and received his private pilot's license in 1937. His mother, Mrs. Edith Kennett Rawson, and a brother, Kenneth L. Rawson of New York City, survive.

Mrs. Augusta Kolloch.

Services for Mrs. Augusta Kolloch, 76 years old, a resident of the Logan Square district for 42 years, will be held at 10 a. m. today in St. Hyacinth's church, with burial in St. Adalbert's cemetery, Niles. Mrs. Kolloch died Monday in her home at 2852 North Spaulding avenue. She was the widow of John A. Kolloch. Surviving are two sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Jessie Dalton Potter.

GENEVA, Jan. 10 (AP).—Mrs. Jessie Dalton Potter, Geneva representative of the American Women's League of Voters, died yesterday at her home here. She was born in Long Branch, N. J., and was 48 years old. Her husband, Pittman B. Potter, is a director of the Geneva Research center.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

The Observation Post.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10.—If you don't think this is a fickle old profession, consider the unseemly haste with which Robert Donat has been dropped from Academy Award discussion. . . . Yet on the night "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" was previewed actors in the audience swore that this performance by Donat was the most magnificent bit of make-believe that cinema ever had recorded. . . . Perhaps the Academy dinner on Feb. 29 will not be so short of memory.

Beatrice Lillie's Christmas card has just arrived at this desk. . . . It was mailed from London on Dec. 18. . . . Pasted along one end of the envelope: "Opened by censor." . . . Wires, letters, and phone calls have besieged this desk since the recent observation that the S. S. Leviathan did not get that name until AFTER the world war. . . . Well, all right: I just wanted to see if the class was paying attention.

When Tony Martin was dropped by 20th Century-Fox this space went to bat for him, arguing that the youngster's grand talent should not be ignored. . . . I was so convinced he had plenty on the ball that I tried to land a Universal contract for him.

Martin, free-lancing on the radio and on vaudeville stages, today is one of the top names of his group. . . . Hollywood, I'm afraid, never will learn! . . . Tony was very appreciative of this column's efforts and his letter is a witty expression of that appreciation: "Dear Ed: Alice and I have agreed that you've been so exceptionally nice to us that you'll be the first one we'll tell if we ever get a divorce, God forbid."

No youngster got away to such a flying start as Betty Field, in "Of Mice and Men." . . . There is one veteran in this town who has taken time by the forelock to make certain that no benefits ever will be staged in his behalf. . . . He is British Actor Reginald Denny, who has a factory that manufactures airplane models, electric trains, and other gadgets.

Denny designs miniature planes and recently got an order from the United States army to supply radio controled miniatures for target practice. . . . One of his best customers, in the profession, is air minded Jimmy Stewart.

Denny takes his business with the utmost gravity. He speaks of his miniature planes as seriously as tho he were discussing the design of an Atlantic Clipper, and he keeps up a voluminous mail with his customers all over the country, to find out how his planes are performing. . . . More power to him.

Frances Faye, who penned "Well, All Right," is a smash click at the "41" club out here. . . . The Faye girl is a genius of piano rhythm and performers like Crosby, Benny Goodman, and Tommy Dorsey would travel miles to hear her delivery of a song.

In the "swing" coterie there have been performers like Miss Faye who are "performers' performers." . . . Crosby was one of them, selected by Paul Whiteman, who was perhaps the finest judge of talent popular music ever has produced. . . . Bee Palmer, Mildred Bailey, Ramona, Hannah Williams, Connie Boswell, Blossom Seeley, Marion Harris were others.

The public liked them, and in addition, their fellow craftsmen rated them in the top brackets, which is the most signal honor that professionals can achieve. . . . Frances Faye is one of that group. Like Connie Boswell, she's won her success the hard way, because for a long time she was crippled by arthritis and unable to work.

Ironic that "Stage Door," the picture, instead of opening doors to the stage, actually seems to have closed it to a lot of people who appeared in it. . . . Pan Berman, who produced it, is out of RKO. . . . Katharine Hepburn has been out of pictures too long. . . . Andrea Leeds chose marriage to a career. . . . In particular, little Phyllis Kennedy, who scored such a spectacular success as the slavey, has worked only two weeks in the intervening 18 months. . . . The Kennedy girl was guilty only of loyalty. . . . Immediately after "Stage Door," five studios tried to get her to sign term contracts. Because RKO had given her the break, she stuck with that studio. . . . In the changes that occurred at that lot, she was overlooked and is now out of a job.

She's a fine performer, this youngster. . . . I'm interested in her particularly because of her grittiness. She was the Fanchon and Marco girl who sustained a broken back in an accident in a Denver theater, and refused to believe the doctors who told her she could never work again. . . . You've got to like kids like that.

The bow oar of Columbia's varsity crew of 1920 writes a chiding letter: "I like the way you try to put across the idea that you are just 37 years old, Edward. But if I remember correctly when you were reporting on our 1920 crew, in which Paul Gallico rowed [remember] you were at least 22 or 23 then. So if my arithmetic is correct, you are no younger than 41 or 42. Regards, Anthony."

His arithmetic is correct, but at the time I was 17 years old and if I looked as tho I were 22 it was because of reportorial grief over the three Columbia crews that finished dead last at Poughkeepsie that spring. . . . What made it worse was that Columbia had been picked to win the regatta hands down.

As if that were not damaging enough, now the bow oar of that 1920 crew turns on me like a cobra and tries to add four years to an already ripe old age of 37. . . . That, my countrymen, is the last straw.

Holm Dancers Give Program of Real Merit

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Hanya Holm and her company of ten girls presented in the Goodman theater last night a dance program marked by vigor, sureness, imagination and humor.

The bill's first item was "Dance of Introduction," a gracious, sunny series of nonrepresentative dances. Following it came "Tragic Exodus," a reference to the present movements of peoples under the lash of tyranny. Besides the dignity and strength befitting its subject, the piece had a freedom and momentum calculated to increase greatly its impact on the audience's minds. Instead of remaining more or less formal, it became human and direct and moving.

"They, Too, Are Exiles," the third item, was another attack on the totalitarian regimes [no form of government has ever been danced against so persistently as the Nazi-Fascist]. In its picture of lighthearted gayety being stamped out in one national group after another by the terrible seriousness of totalitarian government, this dance stressed something about the Nazi-Fascist theory of society which has never yet been sufficiently stressed. That something is its utter humorlessness.

Two primitive rhythms done to percussion accompaniment only led to "Metropolitan Daily," a representation of the various fields of interest in which big city newspapers work. There was "Financial Section," with a big board on which stocks presumably dropped lower and lower; "Society Section," with its eager to be photographed ladies; "Comics," where the dancers represented the antics if not the individual personalities of the folk in the colored supplement, and "Sports," in which there appeared cheer leaders, ball players, and others of those puzzling charges of the sport department. It was annoying that "Music and Drama" had no place. Here surely is a rich vein of untapped comedy.

Much of the excellence of Miss Holm's company springs from the fact that she does not insist that each member submerge her personality. Instead, ten emphatic, eager, vital, differing characters are added up into something which can become on occasion almost volcanic.

Substantially the same program will be given tonight, tomorrow, and Saturday. The series is under Art institute auspices.

Winter Trips Hold Interest of Chicagoans

BY JUDITH CASS.

"AND where are you going this year?" is the question being asked these wintry days of those who annually take winter vacations. The answers are many and varied, for there are so many delightful places.

Once in a while the question is "How was the weather?" for already quite a number have come home from their winter vacations, holiday trips that took them to a land where the sun is supposed to shine every day and where snow and ice theoretically are unknown.

Most of these early travelers have no sun tan, however, and their tales of snowy and icy roads between home and the far south are almost fantastic. "We went south for sun and warmth," one said, "but instead of bathing suits we should have taken skates and skis. The roads were so bad coming home that we finally took the train at Nashville and shipped the car home."

Every one knows, though, that a period of bad weather in the south usually is followed by idyllic days and that Chicago probably will have real winter from now on, so plans for going south go forward at high speed. For going west, too, and southwest, for the desert, the Pacific coast, and the snowclad mountains around Sun Valley and Yosemite Valley lure many.

Group Vacation at Sun Valley.

Miss Kathleen Kelly, her sister, Mrs. John L. Irving; Mr. Irving, and Miss Mary Lou Laird are leaving on Jan. 19 for a two weeks' holiday at Sun Valley. The foursome will join a group of about 40 friends for luncheon in Omaha on the 20th, and then continue to the resort in two private cars. While in Sun Valley the group will occupy Aspen House, a sort of Swiss chalet. It will be the third time that the same group has visited Sun Valley. Charles Carey Jr. of Omaha instigated the trip two years ago.

William Ogden Coleman III. has returned after a week's vacation at Sun Valley. He is a student at the University of Chicago. His brother, Randolph Coleman, has returned to Colgate university. Their grandmother, Mrs. Randolph Buck, is leaving for New Orleans Jan. 15 after having been with her daughter, Mrs. Coleman Jr., in Winnetka since last summer.

More News of Winter Travel.

Miss Ethel Johnston and Mrs. Robert S. Pirie will be Sun Valley bound next week. Miss Johnston's sister, Mrs. Conway Olmsted, is in Arizona for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Hollis are arriving at home today from the Remuda ranch at Wickenburg, Ariz. They went west to spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Hollis Kirk, who is remaining in the west.

Prof. and Mrs. William A. Nitze, who had started on a three month trip to Mexico and the Virgin Islands, only got as far as the Champie ranch at Castle Hot Springs. They are returning because of the serious illness of Prof. Dargan and the inability of another teacher in the romance language department of the University of Chicago to return from Europe.

Mrs. Frederic C. Woodward will attempt to shake off a case of whooping cough she has had for eight months by a holiday in Palm Springs, Cal., where it usually is hot and dry. Mr. and Mrs. Woodward will start west next Tuesday. Before returning they will go on for a visit with her father, Lyman Walton, in Del Monte, Cal., and to see Mrs. Woodward's daughter, Miss Nancy Freund, who is a student at Leland Stanford university.

Mexican Resort Gaining Favor.

Guaymas, in Mexico, is rising in favor as a resort for Chicago's hunting and fishing enthusiasts. Mrs. Alan C. Dixon and her niece, Miss Judith Miller, of Milton, Mass., will be there until late next week.

Edmund J. Doering was in Guaymas just before Christmas. Shortly after his return he and Mrs. Doering

Quilt Designs Make Smart New Handbags

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Must have been some serious quilting parties with the bag makers making up the audience . . . for new handbags ready for the midseason wardrobes boast some of the most effective quilted patterns ever used for such feminine decoration.

Dull fabrics are ideal textures for this high fashion quilting decoration . . . thin soft wool, felt almost as thin as wool, heavy crêpes in silk or mixtures, and a few satins.

Dache features a beautiful navy blue combine of hat and bag in a soft duvetyn finish fabric. The sleek, high hat has a trellis pattern snood and the huge bag is smartly shaped and completely fitted with navy blue extras. Both hat and matching bag are quilted in a small exquisite design.

Another showing of new quilted bags features slim, distinctive envelopes with the decorative quilting on the outside flap. These come in black, brown, dull green, navy, and a few high colors. Tucked, matelasse fabrics, blistered effects, ribbed formations, diagonal and chevron patterns are used on the outside fabrics of these models.

Also new . . . the dashing colored alligator bags for street tweeds and wools. Flame red, emerald green, carbon blue, burnt sugar tan, coffee brown, the blacks and navy offer just what you need as a color contrast.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

A professional model we know has completely mastered the trick of typing herself well. And, we might add, of changing her type frequently, with no false notes attendant on the changes.

Her advice on how it's done is short and snappy. Every once in a while, she says, you should "look at yourself in a mirror as you would at a total stranger." Just forget all your old acceptances of your flaws and your good points and decide what you would do if you'd never seen that face before. The face that is as familiar and comfortable as an old shoe gets neglected the way the shoe does.

Playing with an eyebrow pencil and a lipstick is most important. By changing brow and mouth lines you can get any number of different effects; then pick the one you like best. Arrange your hair in a fashion that's flattering and in keeping and see that the makeup you adopt is just as compatible. You'll be a changed woman. Perhaps most important, you'll find any change refreshing.

It will pep you up just to see an unfamiliar image in your mirror.

Right now, in this midwinter dullness, when you lack a spring hat or e peppy print dress to brighten up your spirits and your ensemble, try a makeup that's decidedly lighter than the one you've been wearing.

Use a lighter, creamier foundation, a lighter powder, and a lipstick that makes the skin look whiter. With winter clothes a delicate, radiant complexion is effective by contrast.

Another advantage of changing yourself occasionally is that you'll take more pains about the details of grooming than you will when you do exactly the same things habitually. You'll be less apt to slip up on those little touches. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Women's Salon Has the Best of Many Artists

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Chicago women's salon at the Findlay galleries, 424 South Michigan avenue, is most interesting. The exhibit is becoming an annual. This, unless our reckoning is far out, is the third salon to be held at the galleries.

It is a far better show than that of last year. For one thing, modernism is less rampant, and for another, each painter seems to be represented by an excellent example of her particular kind of painting.

Techniques are as varied as subjects. They run the gamut from the delightfully cool handling of Flora Schofield's "The White Hat" to the orgy in gaudy colors supplied by Florence Arquin with "Rocco-Flower Shop Series."

The most sensitive painting in the show is "Her Back," by Ruth Llewellyn Baird, a new member of the group and a talented painter. The jolliest canvas is the intriguing "Dramatis Personæ: Little Black Sambo," by Edithe Jane Cassidy, a study of puppets wonderfully done.

"After the Frost," by Lucie Hartrath, is an attractive landscape, and "Composition," by May Gilruth [rewarded by a blue ribbon], is subtle, clever, amusing, absurdly modern, and altogether convincing. Such modern painting is a boon to any show.

At the Chicago galleries, 215 North Michigan avenue, another exhibition of interest and importance has opened. In the first room are oils and water color sketches by Leonore S. Jerrems which heave up and down in a convulsive new technique that is disheartening. Her white turkey farm is well drawn and well handled, but the rest of the sketches are more or less indigestible.

In the large gallery are paintings by Walter Krawiec and his wife, Harriet Krawiec. These pictures make a glorious exhibit. Mr. Krawiec has painted landscapes and a series of scenes at the stockyards, each one of which is worth studying. His account of hogs, sheep, cattle, the men that care for them, their pens, and the various activities associated with the yards is thrilling.

"Music," "Canaries," "Pitcher with Flowers," "The Cathedral," and "Birds" are a few titles taken at random from a show in which each picture is unusually fine. The exhibitions will run thru January.

Fluttering snowflakes, and a hedge of white tulips in a florist's window. . . . While she was in town Miss Crawford received the script, air mail, of Susan and God. Raymond Massey and Mrs. Massey, the former Dorothy Ludington Whitney, supping together at the Pump room after his Abe Lincoln in Illinois opening. . . . Constance Bennett, wearing a white feather hat and pearls with a dark dress and a fur wrap, at a fashion show with her son, Peter, a handsome lad in military school uniform. . . . Moss Hart, Clifton Webb, and Irene McLaughlin eating after the theater supper. . . . A young woman darning socks in the balcony of the First M. E. church Sunday while waiting for the service to begin.

Gods and Goddesses.

It was at a costumer's. A sudden rush of customers in search of costumes for the architects' Call Out the Gods ball tomorrow reduced their stock considerably.

"We're getting short. We'll have to run up a few goddesses," said one of the staff.

* * *

The costumes worn tomorrow night won't all be Greek or Roman in inspiration. There will be a god of backgammon, for instance, with backgammon board markings on his trouser legs and dice at double sixes on his jacket. There will be a god of the bathroom in a Turkish toweling toga and bath brushes in a quiver on his back. There will be a goddess of the dishpan, in gingham, with a dishpan halo and amulets of sparkling pan cleansers. There will be any number of old evening dresses brought out and adorned with gold trimming for the occasion. And some Polynesian gods, in flowered pareus, will enliven the scene.

* * *

The best pun of the preball conversations was Artist William Welsh's. When a Lake Forest woman said she was going home to look in her garret for something to wear he commented: "Something Attic, no doubt."

On the House

If there are surfaces around a house which need a new coat of enamel, the proper preparation of the old enamel coat cannot be too carefully stressed. First it should be washed thoroly and then, when the surface is dry, it should be gone over with No. 1 sandpaper. This treatment is to break the gloss so that the new coat will cling—and not peel! To insure for the final finish a smooth coat, an enamel undercoater may be applied, and then when this undercoater is dry, it may be slightly sanded with 00 sandpaper and wiped clean.

The Girl in the Shadows

SYNOPSIS.

On the eve of her marriage, Cynthia Brentiford, fashion artist, is sentenced to 18 months in prison under the name of Clara Brown. A casual date with Rory Clark has made her, unknowingly, an accomplice—in robbery and murder. Unaware of the disaster, her fiancé, Michael Alloway, is on his way from Malta for the wedding. At Honeybyker, Cynthia's childhood playmate, Bessie Stockley, is a prison wardress. Bessie manages to take Cynthia's place and let Cynthia slip out in the guise of a wardress on a two weeks' leave.

INSTALMENT IV.

LOVERS' MEETING.

Cynthia knew that Michael would believe her and insist on marrying her if she told him the truth, but then he would have to endure the ghastly misery during the next year of knowing that she was in prison.

"But if I could find some reason for not going back to Malta with him for the year—why, it is only a year, with remission for good conduct!"

Breaking prison for a fortnight in conspiracy with a wardress might not be considered good conduct. But she was more able now to believe Bessie's assurance that they would not be caught.

"I wonder how many people have really noticed that I've not been here for three weeks?" At her bedside was a telephone. She hesitated, then dialed one of her friends.

"Hullo, Marjorie! This is Cynthia. I've been out of town and nobody's missed me."

"O, darling, you liar! I rang you last week, and I was just going to ring you again. Don't say you've got a date tonight."

"No. I've only just got back and I'm all grimy."

"Then hurry up and get pretty. Jack will be here soon and he's bringing Leonard and I've no one for him. You can have a scratch meal here and we'll go on to the Bonhams. They're married and proud of it and throwing their first party."

"I'd love it." At that moment the physical life reached out and snatched her. She had never, before that moment, suspected that her flat could be called luxurious. It actually had a bath of its own with unlimited hot water which really was hot. And real soap that would lather and bath salts. She bathed and then dressed in her prettiest evening frock. A trousseau frock.

The rest of her outfit still lay in cardboard boxes piled in a corner. She had intended to buy as much again, but that would not now be possible and, indeed, for a fortnight there was enough.

"And I never knew before that I was anything to look at," she said as she gazed at herself in a full length mirror. "But now I can see that I'm ravishingly beautiful."

She didn't really believe it, but there was some ground for this exaggeration. Prison fare had slimmed her to a frail grace that was infinitely appealing. The danger of the last three hours had given her face back its color and brightened her eyes to deep blue stars. The moonlight-blue dress, cut very low, threw up the fine texture of her skin.

Marjorie, like most of her kind, cooked with a can opener, made extensive use of cardboard plates, but could produce a dainty, tasty little meal, while Jack saw to cocktails. Jack and Marjorie would marry as soon as they could afford to do so, and their friend Leonard professed an immediate infatuation for Cynthia, who as promptly and dramatically accepted his devotion.

"She's no use to you really, Leonard," said Marjorie. "She's got a strong silent man in the east somewhere—or is it the west?"

"Neither," said Cynthia. "He's turning up tomorrow, and we're going to be married either then or the next day. None of you will be asked because it's a specal license affair, and he has only a fortnight's leave."

"This is sheer tragedy," said Leonard. "I've heard he's a fearfully respectable chap—not a writer or an artist."

"You oughtn't to have heard of him at all by the things you've been saying to me," said Cynthia.

"It will mean giving up your sweet wild ways and running a house and servants and a large number of babies."

"And you'll have to call her 'Mrs. Alloway' and it'll do you good," cut in Marjorie. "Come on, folks! Let's go and rag the Bonhams."

It was nearly midnight by the time Cynthia was back in the flat, after a typically light hearted evening. And she had been as light hearted as any one else. Almost she had forgotten the prison and Bessie. But somehow under all the gaiety her mind had settled the most serious question of her life. She knew now that she was going to marry Michael without telling him anything at all.

She was awakened the next morning by a telegraph boy, who brought her a radiogram.

"Traveling with archbishop's secretary who will fix it for us this morning. We can be married about half past one."

"Today!"

By 11 o'clock she was at Waterloo. In her mind then was no other thought than that she was about to meet and marry the man she loved, that she looked almost as beautiful as on the preceding night and that he had not seen her for 18 months.

"Cynthia!"

"Why, Marion, this is marvelous!"

Marion Alloway, Michael's sister! Cynthia knew her less well than any of Michael's relatives, for only once had the girl happened to be at home during one of Cynthia's periodical week-ends to the Alloway home in Devonshire. Dark, tall, handsome in a commanding, patrician way that rather intimidated Cynthia, she was reputed to be deeply attached to her brother and resentful, possibly even jealous, of the girl he loved.

"Mrs. Alloway wrote that there was very little hope of her being able to come," Cynthia continued nervously. "I do hope this means she's better?"

"Well enough to make the journey. She's waiting at the Gulverbury. Look, the train's signaled! I'll wait here. You go on the platform and meet Michael."

When the train came in, Michael was leaning out of the window, waving. They touched hands and she walked by the side of the train as it slowed.

"I'm not going to kiss you on the platform—it's sheer waste," Michael told her. "On the other hand, my power of waiting any longer has suddenly collapsed."

He drew her into the carriage and held her in his arms while she thought how she loved him and how much nicer he was than the artists and other men she worked with. Michael never had any doubts about anything. He was so reliable.

At the barrier he greeted Marion in true brotherly fashion.

"You're the best of sisters and you know it, old thing."

"What do you want me to do, Michael?" the girl smiled back. Her proud face softened as she looked at him.

"Take all my luggage to the Gulverbury and tell mother that Cynthia and I will be along as soon as we've fixed the license. I radioed George Rennington to stand by and marry us and not to have any lunch or anything in case we're a bit late. Come along, darling."

He thrust Cynthia into a taxi and drove her to Doctors Commons—the office in the neighborhood of St. Paul's where application is made for a special license.

Here, in spite of the preparations made on their behalf, they were detained for more than an hour. By 1 o'clock they were at the Gulverbury and being rapturously welcomed by Mrs. Alloway.

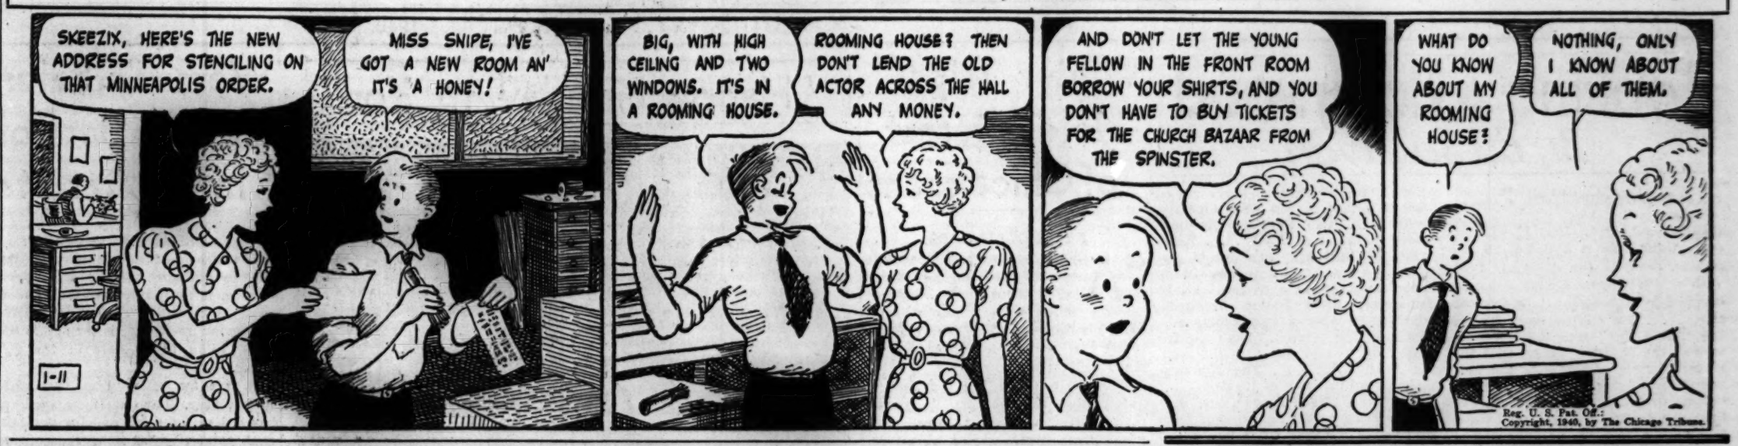
GASOLINE 'ALLEY—COME ONE, COME 'ALL



Here's How You Can Help Child to Be Orderly

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A friend and I have a perennial subject of argument. She thinks a small house easier to keep clean and orderly, and I am absolutely convinced, by experience in both, that a large house is easier to keep clean and orderly.

To my mind, the woman with children at the "doing" age, is in luck if she has a large house or apartment. The spaciousness alone tends to lessen the look of disorder, and then, too, it is possible to have a place for everything, including those things which aren't in current use like extra blankets and summer clothes, and so on.

But large or small, some degree of order is essential to one's peace of mind and to the attractiveness of a home. To achieve this, it is necessary to gain the children's coöperation to a reasonable degree, otherwise you spend all your odd moments "picking up the house."

One of the greatest helps in the formation of habits in orderliness is to provide, as much as possible, places for the children to keep their clothes and other possessions; not only that, but cupboards, shelves, and closet poles or hooks conveniently placed and within their reach as regards height.

Next, if you want your children to be orderly, you must set them some sort of example. You can't legitimately object to their leaving things around if they see the rest of the family doing it, or if you yourself are a disorderly person and they see the whole house in that state most of the time.

And besides setting them an example of orderliness, we need to keep in mind another fundamental, which is that the building up of the habit of orderliness must be a gradual thing, like all other constructive work with children.

At first there will be a great deal of reminding. This should be done in a friendly, helping way, not by fault finding.

When the habit is started young, tiny boys and girls love to put away things with the idea of helping mother. Doing it with her also makes a chummy little affair of it. Praise at this time and later, too, is one of the greatest helps in forming the habit.

There are two motives we can arouse in children for orderliness. These are:

First, when they're little, the feeling that by being orderly they are helping us.

Second, when they are older, especially as they reach the boisterousness of 10 or 12, or the dreaminess and occasional irresponsibility of the teens, we can make them see that it is only fair and their share of the life of the family to be orderly. They can easily be made to see that it is not right to expect one person to disperse the disorder caused by another.

If you expect certain things done at certain times, allow plenty of time for it. Children, especially little ones, simply can't hurry, but if you try to hurry them you'll get very poor results and often unhappiness or disobedience.

By Evelyn Holmes

Jan. 11, 1940.

Come out and take what you want, but be sure you are just and fair. The 11's are dreamers, but with a 1-month and a 5-universal year, those born on Jan. 11 won't have much chance to dream. They must make good use of every waking moment. They should make every effort to be practical and to try to translate their dreams into practical realities. This is their big year if they keep awake!

What's in a Name? Ask These London Showgirls

LONDON, Jan. 10 (AP).—Twelve showgirls went on strike today against wearing costumes intended for the first act finale of a West End revue and delayed the opening a week. The name of the show—"Fig Leaves."

Well Chosen Clothes Can Disguise Fat

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you've a tendency to more avoirdupois than you relish, and have found out that it is true what "they" say about it being easier to put on weight than it is to take it off, you have a trick up your sleeve you can employ to good advantage. To best illustrate this trick, which is wearing clothes with lines that slim your silhouette, we want to ask you if you have noticed that some dresses you wear win comments from your friends, who remark that you are a little thinner than you were. From experience you may know that getting on the scales proves disappointing, for invariably there is no indication that actual weight loss has been achieved.

The answer to this puzzle is that, at the time you've rated such pleasing compliments on your more streamlined figure, you've probably been wearing a dress that was more flattering to your figure than other dresses you possess.

By following simple rules in dress, your figure can be more trim looking. These rules are: Don't wear clothes that fit tightly; don't wear clothes that are loose and bulky; don't wear big hats; don't clutter up your neck with fussy accessories and trimmings. Colors which make you appear slimmer than you are, are black, dark blue, very dark red, dark green, dark brown. Plain, loose sleeves, that widen from the armholes to the wrists, are the sleeves which best camouflage fat arms. Dresses with contrasting colors in the skirt and blouse tend to make you look larger.

If you want to enliven your ensemble with color, wear it at the neckline and wrists, but not in your belt or sash. Colored accessories are very chic. Rather long circular skirts do much to disguise large hips and thighs. If you like plaits, wear them flat. Soft materials, such as lace, chiffon [in tailored styles] are flattering for evening wear. For daytime wear flat firm silks and wools, without bulk, are best.

Vegetable salads, especially the raw and crisp ones, are more welcome in cold weather menus than at any other time of the year, for they seem to defy winter weather by bringing the breath of spring into the menu.

There was a time, and not so long ago, either, when vegetables were few and far between in the winter months. Potatoes, onions, and turnips, and a few other hardy vegetables could be stored in the cellar, but the fresh, crisp greenery was absent. Winter tomatoes, fresh green beans and peas, and tender young carrots couldn't even have been considered in the menu.

We should, then, appreciate modern markets, which now are lush with edible greenery, bright with crisp, fresh vegetables, winter as well as summer. And we should pause now and then to be thankful for salads such as these, which may be tossed together the year around:

Mixed Vegetable Bowl.
1 small head lettuce, cut in small sections
2 tomatoes, peeled and cut in wedges
1 cup raw cauliflower cut in slices
Rings of green pepper
Rings of onion
½ cup crisp carrot slivers
French dressing

Arrange lettuce to cover salad bowl. Group vegetables over the lettuce. All vegetables should be very cold. At the table add French dressing and toss the salad together very lightly until all vegetables have a coating of dressing.

A teaspoonful of horseradish added to plain French dressing is a good idea for this salad. Roquefort cheese may be crumbled into it upon occasion. Do not use horseradish when cheese is added.

Cabbage and Carrot Salad.
[Serves six.]
1 cup shredded cabbage
1 cup shredded carrots
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¾ cup sliced radishes
Chicory
French dressing with catsup and onion

Break chicory, after cleaning, into pieces. Combine with other vegetables in salad bowl lightly rubbed with garlic [or not, as you wish]. Add a few drops of onion juice and a tablespoonful or so of catsup to French dressing, pour over the vegetables and toss lightly.

RAW VEGETABLE SALAD.

Marinate separately for 30 minutes in French dressing equal amounts of thinly sliced crisp cauliflower, cooked beets, and cooked string beans. Arrange on lettuce in groups, using individual salad plates, or place in three small lettuce cups on each plate. Serve more dressing with the salad. Vegetables should be well drained before they are arranged on the salad plate.

Spinach and Apple Salad.
[Serves six.]
1 quart fresh, cleaned spinach
1 unpeeled red apple, chopped
1 small onion, chopped
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped
French dressing and mayonnaise

Chop spinach coarsely and mix lightly with apple, onion, and eggs. Chill in French dressing for an hour and drain. Serve with mayonnaise. A little extra salt and a tablespoon of vinegar may be added during chilling, if the French dressing isn't quite highly seasoned.

The St. Mary's of Notre Dame Chicago club will sponsor its annual bridge luncheon Saturday in the Gold Coast room of the Drake hotel. There will be a fashion show. The party will benefit St. Mary's college.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Thursday, Jan. 11.

Mixed tendencies today. Avoid the sudden, the too new, the untried. But see what constructive progress can be made on the social side of your affairs. Plan to take it easy with all superiors during the balance of this week.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead becomes more opportune, harmonious, from August, if born on this date. Until then, build estate, home; from then, realize on old interests, association. Danger: Jan. 27-Feb. 6; June 4-24; Oct. 29-Nov. 10.

Tomorrow.

Early morning ideas may be good; then linger with the familiar.

Do you want an individual interpretation for your own personal date? Every important period is indicated for you, according to the laws of astrology. Send 10 cents to Wynn, Tribune Astrologer, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Write plainly your name, date of birth, and address.

Style for the Schoolgirl

FROCK IN JUNIOR SIZES.

The new session of the school term calls for new clothes, and we think this simple model is fashion wise enough for the young scholars and practical enough to meet the approval of mothers. The dress has a buttoned bodice, puffed sleeves, and shirtwaist collar, which is matched by the sleeve cuffs. The waistline has a dip up into the bodice and the skirt is fashionably flared. With this costume may be a bolero jacket that has long sleeves.

Woolen, silk, and even cottons may be used for this practical model.

Style No. 3168 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, and 17. Size 15 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of contrasting for short sleeved dress; 3½ yards for long sleeved bolero and skirt, with 1¼ yards of contrasting for top.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is better to play the cards well and quickly than well and slowly. The reason for this is not only that you have time enough to play more hands, but also that the opponents are thereby encouraged to make mistakes. There is nothing in the least unethical about this. The opponents have the right at any time to deliberate and slow up the play. If they choose not to do so, it is their own lookout if they make mistakes.

It should not be gathered from the foregoing, however, that the whole art of playing bridge well consists in playing quickly. This seems to have been the opinion of the East player in today's hand, judging from the horrible misplays he made.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	3 clubs	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

The final contract was hardly a good one, since it could not be made against even an approximately accurate defense, whereas five clubs was almost a laydown.

West opened the six of spades. East's ten forcing out the king. South knew it could do no good to knock out the ace of clubs, since one opponent must have started with at least five spades. His best chance for his contract lay in a 3-3 break in the heart suit. He therefore cashed the king, the ace, and the queen, and was disappointed when East discarded on this last trick. But East very unwisely chose to discard from his "worthless" diamond suit.

Declarer had one more hope. If the discard had been from the four card diamond length, he could run the diamonds, but this still would give him only eight tricks. One desperate expedient remained. If East had started with the ace of clubs, he might be caught napping. The ten of clubs was therefore led from dummy to make it appear to East that a finesse was contemplated. Still under the impression that speed was the watchword, East immediately dropped a low club and declarer romped home with nine tricks.

Of course, East should have known that the contract was doomed to defeat. The rule of eleven should have told him that South had only one spade higher than the six and that after the first trick the spade suit was solid. The abandonment of the heart suit should have told him also that his partner had an established heart. Had he taken the ace of clubs he could have been sure of at least three more spades and his partner's heart winner.

and their infant granddaughter, Edna Cassinerio, left for Jupiter Island, Hobe Sound, Fla., where they have taken a house for the winter. Their other grandchildren, the R. Martin Stevensons' boy and girl, and their mother probably will go down later.

Little Edna's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Ambrogio Cassinerio, and her sister and brother-in-law, the Harold Hartogs, spent the holidays together in Florence, Italy, where the Cassinerios live. The Hartogs are living in Paris, having taken an apartment at the Ritz hotel when the French government commandeered their apartment building as an antiaircraft gun base.

Mrs. J. Glen Sample left yesterday for Florida, where Mr. Sample, who is in New York, will join her later. The Samples will occupy their new home in Naples.

Charles A. Tilts Go to Palm Beach.

The Charles A. Tilts, who have a lovely home at Sea Island, Ga., have gone further south for the winter months. They have taken a house at Palm Beach. They will charter a boat for deep sea fishing.

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Cary spent the holidays in Sarasota, Fla., with his mother, Mrs. Frank Cary. They hope to go to Arizona in March for another vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer P. Hargrave and their two children returned on Sunday from having spent the holiday season with her father in Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Austin H. Niblack is leaving about Jan. 20 for her home in Aiken, S. C. Mr. Niblack will go south later.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell are leaving tomorrow for Santa Barbara. They plan to remain in the west only nine days.

Last Prenuptial Party for Elizabeth Smith.

The last of the prenuptial parties for Miss Elizabeth Smith and Gardner Brown, who are to be married tomorrow, is a small dance this evening in the House on the Roof of the Hotel Sherman. The hosts will be Miss Smith's brother and sister-in-law, the Harold B. Smiths; and her two sisters and brothers-in-law, the Morrison Wauds, and the Corwith Hamills.

Mrs. Waud and Mrs. Hamill are to be the bride's only attendants at the marriage, which will be performed by the Rev. Dudley Stark at 4:30 o'clock in the chapel of St. Chrysostom's. The ceremony will be followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Harold Cornelius Smith.

Keith Brown will be his brother's best man. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Brown of Wheaton. Ushering will be the bride's cousin, Solomon B. Smith, Frank Woods, and Irving Peck.

Miss Smith will wear her mother's wedding gown, which also was worn by her two sisters, and a cap made of lace which belonged to her great-great-grandmother.

After a short wedding trip to the west, Mr. Brown and his bride will be at home in Wayne for about two months. They have not yet decided where they will make their permanent residence.

Mrs. Lewis Durand Miller and Mrs. John G. McDonald are entertaining the Tower Town Friends of the Chicago Junior school this afternoon at the McDonald home, 1120 Lake Shore drive.

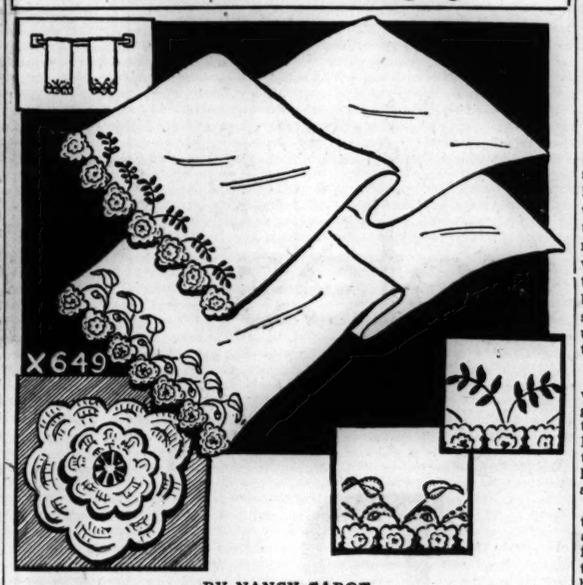
Medallion Towel Edging



BY NANCY CABOT.

Crocheted rose medallions are sewed together to form the lace edge for linen towels. The embroidered stems and leaves simulate a vine in full bloom. The hot iron transfer pattern contains eight motifs, color chart, and detailed instructions for crochet and embroidery.

For the towel motifs in crochet and embroidery, No. X-649, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Three Chicago Groups Add to Help for Finns

Further help for Finland was announced from three sources yesterday. James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, reported that within a week the national society would ship garments for 10,000 persons, surgical dressings to care for 7,500 wounded, 10 ambulances and large quantities of drugs procurable only in the United States. Toward all of this the Chicago branch has made substantial contributions in work and money.

At the Finnish Relief fund office at 200 South La Salle street, Philip R. Clarke, Chicago chairman, said that contributions now total $77,761. The goal is $100,000.

The American Scandinavian alliance, with headquarters at 624 Wrightwood avenue, renewed an appeal for used clothing to be sent to Finland. A first shipment of 2,000 pounds was dispatched last week. Mrs. Carle L. Becker, who is directing the clothes-collecting project, assisted by Mrs. Elmer A. Forsberg, wife of the Finnish consul in Chicago, reported that shipments would be sent each week.

The organization will call for bundles of clothing upon request. Dry cleaners are cleaning garments without charge. Mrs. Becker's appeal called also for more volunteer home workers from the affiliated Scandinavian societies to do knitting and sew new woolen garments which are being cut out at headquarters.

Among the larger subscriptions acknowledged by the Finnish Relief fund were: $500 from the Inland Steel company; $250 each from M. J. Spiegel Jr., Spiegel, Inc., and the Household Finance corporation; $200 from Charles Y. Freeman, and $100 each from Edward J. Doyle, Britton I. Budd, the Bradshaw-Praiger, the Central Scientific, and the Florsheim Shoe companies.

The Housewife

One of the neatest and most efficient gadgets we've come across in a long time is a drink mixer. It does the work in a jiffy and can be operated with one hand, if you want to use the other for pouring in ingredients. It's shaped a little like an egg beater, but instead of turning a crank to work it you simply push down on the handle. A metal disk keeps liquids from splashing upward. This handy contrivance whips up a drink in no time and its price is small.

Social Life of Minor Guided by Parents

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

An impatient 13 year old miss, who signs herself "Blue Eyes," writes that her mother will abide by whatever we advise about letting her do the things other girls her age are permitted to do. This growing-up girl wants to be allowed to go at night to parties, dances, movies, etc., with boys, yet her mother tells her that she thinks her daughter should wait until she is 16 before she starts going to these affairs.

Sorry to disappoint Blue Eyes, but we think her mother is right. The girl has lots of time to have the good times she feels she is missing. We know how impatient she is. The thing which makes it so hard for her is that other girls she knows are allowed so much freedom.

But, of course, every one does not think alike, so Blue Eyes feels abused and unhappy when she hears her friends talking about the good times they have. It is only natural for her to want to be included in these good times, for she is at the age when boys are beginning to interest her.

This urge should be encouraged, but in the right way. A nice party now and then would do no harm, but too many parties would interfere with her school work. As she should have boy friends, as well as girl friends, her mother should encourage her daughter to bring small groups of her boy and girl friends to the house, where she could meet them, and keep an eye on what they are doing.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

Today's menu is quite a substantial one, you will notice. That is because, unless the weather man is in a prankish mood, the thermometer is on the drop, and during cold weather I am a firm believer in stoking the inner man along with the family furnace. There is no point to wrapping warm clothes around us unless at the same time we wrap ourselves around plenty of warm, stay-by-you food such as Wilson's Tender Made Ham and the other good things to eat that I have planned for today.

HAM STEAK with all the trimmings

Personally, I find a Wilson Tender Made Ham Steak, grilled to perfection under the broiler, is just about tops in good eating, but for those who want their ham steaks dressed up a bit for a change, here is a dish divine enough to make even the most world-weary forget about war and taxes:

Rolled Ham Steak

2 WILSON TENDER MADE HAM STEAKS, bone in, center cut, ½ inch thick
2 tablespoons minced onion
4 tablespoons Clear Brook Butter
2 cups white bread crumbs
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Pepper to taste
Milk to moisten
No. 2 can of tomatoes

Brown the minced onion in a skillet, with half the butter. Add crumbs and stir till lightly browned. Add seasonings and rest of butter and enough milk to moisten the dressing. Spread evenly on the ham slices. Roll each slice and fasten with skewer, toothpicks or white twine. Place in baking dish, cover with the tomatoes, cover dish and bake in a moderate oven (350°) for 50 minutes.

DRIED BEEF DE LUXE

Creamed dried beef is an old standby in most households. I have three suggestions for improving the traditional article. First, use only Wilson's Certified Dried Beef—it's tender, delicately flavored and ready to use. Next, be sure you use a rich cream sauce—not just a flour and milk mixture. Blend it well and use plenty of butter. Finally, before putting in the beefy fragments, add ½ package of Wilson's Certified Pimento Cheese, put through a ricer, for each 2 cups of sauce. Stir until blended. Then add the dried beef. Serve with baked Idaho potatoes.

IT'S A DEEP SECRET!

There is a secret to frying potatoes in deep fat so that they come out mealy and fluffy and without the least trace of greasiness. Select good size Idaho potatoes, peel, and cut in the usual strips. Soak in ice water at least an hour. Drain and dry well between folds of a clean towel.

Use Wilson's Certified Lard

Put 2 lbs. of Wilson's Certified Lard in a 2-qt. kettle. Heat slowly to 370° F. Place a small quantity of the potatoes in a wire basket and lower slowly into the hot lard. Cook a few minutes until potatoes just start to turn yellow. Drain and turn onto absorbent paper. Continue until all the potatoes have been so cooked. Then increase heat to 390° F., put all the potatoes in the basket and fry until they are a rich golden brown. Turn out onto absorbent paper and salt to taste. The secret of their perfection lies partly in the chilling and partly in cooking at the two different temperatures.

Chicago votes

On Business Reply Cards like this, and in telephone interviews, hundreds of Chicago women voted on "What's the best bacon?" Swift's Premium won overwhelmingly!

Swift's Premium Bacon

OVER TWICE AS MANY VOTES AS NEAREST COMPETITOR IN CITY-WIDE POLL

Chicago families go strong for Swift's Premium Bacon. A city-wide poll gave Swift's Premium over twice as many votes as the runner-up. It actually got more votes than the next five brands combined!

Homemakers' votes have proved it—Swift's Premium Bacon is far and away Chicago's best-liked brand!

Votes were taken in a city-wide poll, conducted by independent research workers. Hundreds of women, throughout the city, were interviewed over the telephone; Business Reply Cards were mailed out to many more.

In every case, the question asked was simply—"What brand of bacon do you think is the best?"

Returns showed Swift's Premium Bacon polled over twice as many votes as its nearest competitor. It led the next brand mentioned eight to one.

Finer flavor — that's why! This landslide vote for Swift's Premium Bacon was a landslide vote for flavor . . . for the delicious "sweet smoke taste" you get in Swift's Premium alone. No other bacon has this mild delightful flavor, for no other gets Swift's secret Sugar Cure and special Smoking in Ovens.

Tomorrow, serve Swift's Premium Bacon. It's either your family's choice now . . . or it will be!

Copr. 1940 by Swift & Company

BACON BAKE HAWAIIAN
(A Martha Logan recipe!) Arrange bacon on a rack in a shallow pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (425°F.) until browned, 10-12 minutes. No turning is necessary. Dip well-drained pineapple slices in juice from maraschino cherries and place on a greased baking sheet. Beat 1 egg, 2 tbsps. brown sugar and ¼ tsp. salt into 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes, and heap on pineapple. Brush with melted butter and place a half cherry in the center of each pile. Brown in oven with bacon.

TONIGHT'S GAMES.

Chicago at New York Rangers.

New York, Jan. 10 [Special].—The Chicago Blackhawks arrived here late today from Montreal where they defeated the Canadiens, 2 to 0, last night. Tomorrow they meet the Rangers, who have not been defeated in their last 17 starts, one less than the National Hockey league record established by the Montreal Canadiens in 1927-'28.

The Canadiens' roster that year included Howie Morenz, Aurel Joliat, Art Gagne, Leo Gaudrelaut, Pit Lepine, Wildor Larochelle, and Gizzy Hart, forwards; Sylvio Mantha, Battleship Leduc, and Herb Gardiner, defense, and George Hainsworth, goal tender.

Rosters Were Smaller.

When the Canadiens rolled up the present record teams carried only three defense men, two lines, and an extra player. Morenz, Joliat, and Gagne made up one line and the other consisted of Lepine, Larochelle, and Gaudrelaut.

Morenz led the league that season with 33 goals and 18 assists. His tiny partner, Joliat, made 28 goals and 11 assists. Gagne, the third member of the great line, accounted for 20 goals and 10 assists. The Canadiens topped the league with 116 scores and slightly over two-thirds of all their goals, 81 to be exact, were made by the first line.

The Rangers have defeated the Hawks twice by overwhelming scores since the start of their streak. They won 7 to 1 in Chicago and in New York 7 to 2. They have treated the Boston Bruins worse than they did the Hawks, however, for the champions were unable to stop the Rangers in four starts.

Toronto Loses Once.

Every team in the league, with the exception of Toronto, succumbed at least twice during the Rangers' record making jamboree, and the Leafs encountered them only once.

Only three teams have been able to beat the Rangers thus far this season. The Hawks did it, 3 to 2, in New York on Nov. 16. The other teams to take the Rangers into camp are Toronto and Montreal.

FIELD OF 3,144 JOINS QUEST FOR SILVER SKATES

Three thousand one hundred and forty-four boys and girls will compete in the 23d Silver Skates Derbies which will be held Saturday and Sunday in Garfield park. In order to facilitate the conduct of the meet, preliminaries in four Derbies will be held Saturday afternoon. All other trials and, of course, the eight championships will be held Sunday.

Skaters who must report Saturday are in the following age classes: Boys' midget, juvenile, and junior classes; Girls' junior class. These skaters will receive the racing numbers in the Garfield park boat house between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. Saturday. The first preliminary race will start at 2 o'clock.

Report 10 A. M. Sunday.

On Sunday preliminaries will be held in the boys' intermediate, men's senior, and girls' intermediate and senior age divisions. These skaters report between 10 a. m. and noon and the first preliminary race starts at 1 o'clock. The number of contestants in each Derby follows:

Boys' midget	440	Men's senior	530
Boys' juvenile	557	Girls' junior	305
Boys' junior	636	Girls' intermediate	70
Boys' intermediate	545	Girls' senior	61

Each winner in all qualifying races will receive a gold medal. All skaters reporting for their trials will be awarded souvenir bronze buttons. On Sunday, in the eight championship races, 40 trophies, including 24 pairs of skates, will be presented. There are two team trophies, the winning team being awarded custody of the Walter Eckersall Memorial trophy and the team having the largest number of contestants in the races receiving a silver sup.

Glen Ellyn Enters 25.

The Glen Ellyn Amateur Athletic association, which has named 25 skaters for the Derbies, ranks third in team strength among clubs of the Illinois Skating association. Altho this is only its second season in the sport, Glen Ellyn has become one of the most skate conscious towns in Illinois. Last Sunday more than 20,000 fans lined the banks of Glen Ellyn lake to see the home team roll up 180 points.

In numbers the Glen Ellyn entries will be dwarfed by such clubs as the Tilden Skating club, Catholic Youth organization, Northwest Skating club, and the George Barrett A. C., but the west suburban city contends its speedsters are amply distributed in each class and that when the Silver Skates are presented several of the coveted blades will be in possession of the color bearers of the Glen Ellyn A. A. A.

11 Year Old Is Star.

Dave Roll, 11, their midget entry, is the star of the team and has displayed such speed this winter that he will go into this event Saturday with a perfect record. He has won all four of his races this season, including the state title. Dave is an all-around athletic star. He wins swim meets, track events, horse show blue ribbons, and he made two touchdowns that brought victory to the Main street school football team last fall.

Dave's brother, Fred, will be the intermediate Silver Skates hope; the Catlin sisters, Shirley and Marge, are the junior girls' candidates, and Paul Johnson the men's senior choice, with Jim Ebert, the most improved senior prospect. Jim made the best time for the half mile, 1:26.6, in the state meet.

St. Louisian Enters.

Barbara Starrett, 7, is the youngest member of the Glen Ellyn team, and the home folks are looking forward to the day when she will be their Silver Skates winner in the girls' events. One of the last entries to be accepted came from Dean Brands of St. Louis, Mo., who placed third in that city's championships. Dean is 16 and will compete in the intermediate division.

To W9-GVJ.

Tho my husband's always home;
But he seldom speaks a word to me
Unless its thru a microphone.

His affections go to tubes and wires
And to a meter, band or two,
Where he sits and dials, day and night,
While h. calls out: "CQ, CQ!"

He calls me his little XYL—
That's code for wife I'm told—
And he broadcasts everything I do,
Even whe: I catch cold.

A QRX means "Wait a minute."
It is usually meant for me,
If I tell him to fix the furnace
When it is cold as it can be.

So now you know the reason
And the kind of widow I am.
Since my husband has his license
And officially is a HAM.

CONN DEFEATS COOPER; TAKES 11 OF 12 ROUNDS

Savold Scores Knockout Over Robinson.

New York, Jan. 10 [Special].—The first heavyweight battle of the new year for Billy Conn tonight in Madison Square Garden was a howling success from an artistic standpoint and as a vehicle for exercise.

Financially it was a disappointment, only 5,658 paying $14,400 to see the flashy Pittsburgher and world's light heavyweight champion give rugged Henry Cooper of Brooklyn a beating thru 12 desultory rounds. Conn received the unanimous decision of Referee Arthur Donovan and Judges George Le Cron and Bill Healy. It was obvious that no other verdict was possible—the bout was so one-sided as to be lacking almost entirely the element of competition.

He's Not Ready for Louis.

But as a test to determine Conn's fitness for consideration as a prospective foe for Joe Louis this year the bout was still just a good workout for Conn. It appeared from his performance that Conn will be too light this year for Louis, too open to fire, and too light as a puncher to cause the champion much alarm or worry.

Conn won 11 of the 12 rounds against Cooper, who licked Wild Bill Boyd and Buddy Knox in recent months and gave Gunnar Barlund a serious argument for eight rounds. Against Conn, however, Cooper was like a dray horse against a thorobred and Conn was able to do about as he pleased. Cooper won only the sixth, a session in which he rushed and roughed Conn considerably and punished the Pittsburgher with solid digs to the body.

Conn's Jabs Only Annoy.

In every other round Conn had things his own way and gave a nice exhibition of masterful boxing against a heavier foe—peppering Cooper with jabs that were more annoying than painful. After Cooper's outburst of recklessness in the sixth Conn came back in the seventh to hammer him all over the ring.

Conn weighed 173½ pounds and Cooper 190.

Lee Savold, Des Moines heavyweight, scored a four round technical knockout over Jim Robinson of Philadelphia. The fight was stopped after an examination of the beaten fighter when the third round ended. He was suffering from a cut right eye. Eddie Anderson, University of Iowa football coach, and Nile Kinnick, his all-American quarter back, watched the bouts.

Another Vote for Football

Sox Send Two to St. Paul for Jimmy Webb

The White Sox last night traded two infielders for one to St. Paul of the American association, according to an announcement by Harry Grabiner, secretary of the Chicago club.

They obtained Jimmy Webb, shortstop who was sent to St. Paul of the American association recently by the Cleveland Indians, for Ollie Bejma, veteran infielder, and John Gerlach, University of Wisconsin infielder who was optioned to Shreveport last year. It was a straight trade, with no cash involved, according to Grabiner.

Webb appeared in 81 games with the Indians last year and hit for .264. His extra base hits included 14 doubles, one triple, and two home runs. Bejma, in 90 games for the Sox, hit .251, getting nine doubles, three triples, and eight home runs.

WRIGLEY RE-ELECTED

No changes were made in the official family yesterday at the annual meeting of stockholders of the Chicago National League Baseball club. Philip K. Other officers reëlected were Charles Weber, vice president and treasurer, and Miss Margaret Donahue, secretary.

Directors were renamed as follows: P. K. Wrigley, Mrs. Ada E. Wrigley, Charles Weber, Paul Harper, Frank Ellis, R. A. Cavanaugh, Gilbert Scribner, George Frazer, and George Getz Jr.

NEELY, CLEMSON COACH, QUITS TO TAKE RICE JOB

Houston, Tex., Jan. 10 (AP).—Jess Neely ended Rice's hunt for a head football coach today by accepting the institute's offer of a five year contract. The salary was not disclosed. The Clemson coach spent two days in conference here with Rice authorities, then went home last night for consultations with his family, friends and Clemson officials. Today he notified the Southwest conference school he would accept.

J. T. McCants, chairman of Rice's committee on outdoor sports, would give no features of the pact with Neely, but the coach revealed that he was given a five year contract and power to name his assistants. The most reasonable guess at salary appeared to be $7,500 annually.

No Contract Signed Yet.

The 42 year old coach has had fine success the last two years. His 1939 team shared the Southern conference title with Duke and defeated Boston college, 6 to 3, in the Cotton bowl game in Dallas, Tex.

Succeeds Jimmy Kitts.

Neely succeeds Jimmy Kitts, who won Rice's only two Southwest conference championships during a six year stretch. Kitts was fired after two successive poor seasons.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 10.—Tall Arthur Cutts Willard is not concerned about intercollegiate football at the University of Illinois, either as to its future or to the place it now holds in the hearts of thousands of Illini faculty men, alumni, and students.

To Dr. Willard, president of the university since July 1, 1934, the best answer to what all Illinois men think of football is contained within the steel and stone of a huge structure on the southwest corner of the campus. It is the University of Illinois Memorial stadium. There are other large stadia thruout the country, but Dr. Willard feels that few of them can point to an impetus such as led to the construction of Illinois elevens' home.

Chicago's Own Problem.

"Why worry about football at Illinois?" asks Dr. Willard. "Take a walk over to the stadium and look at it. There's your answer, as good a one as I know, of Illinois' viewpoint on intercollegiate football. No, I don't think we'll have to fret about football's place at Illinois as long as it stands, and that should be for a good many years to come."

Dr. Willard went on to explain the background of the unusual movement which led to the building of Memorial stadium, but not until he had made himself plain on the university's conduct of intercollegiate football as a member of the Western conference. As for his reaction to the University of Chicago's abandonment of the sport, he said he looked upon that as a result of a problem which was Chicago's own, and therefore its solution, if any, belonged to Chicago.

Defends Big Ten Ethics.

He thought that the statement of the anonymous Maroon spokesman who said that no school can play football of Big Ten caliber without violating conference rules on subsidization and recruiting was a "bit strong," but if that were his opinion, he was entitled to it.

"I am satisfied that the board of directors of the University of Illinois Athletic association are conforming strictly with the rules of the Western conference not only in football, but in all other sports as well. In fact, I am certain that all member schools of the Big Ten are handling their athletic affairs similarly. The problems confronting one school are no different from those in others."

Dr. Willard then returned to the subject of Memorial stadium and its place in football. For years, the late George Huff, athletic director at the university for 35 years, had planned for better facilities for athletics than were offered by old Illinois field. After the world war he conceived the idea of a memorial stadium with columns on which would be inscribed the names of those Illini who died in the war.

21,000 Contribute for Stadium.

The first mass meetings of students in starting the drive for funds were held in April, 1921, and in following months alumni meetings were held thruout the country for the same purpose. Ground for the stadium was broken in September, 1922, and the first football game in it was played on Nov. 3, 1923. It was dedicated on Oct. 17, 1924.

"That is the record of the planning for and building of the stadium," Dr. Willard said, "but to me, the most interesting argument in favor of football at Illinois was the raising of the funds for it. More than 21,000 faculty men, alumni, students, and friends of the university contributed $1,735,000. That was cash on the counter, and a considerable sum, but there were other important contributions, also. There was the $184,210 turned over from the football funds of the athletic association for expenses of the fund campaign, and there was an additional $509,805, also from the association's football funds, expended for the full completion of the stadium.

Points Out Benefits to Students.

"The stadium, of course, was primarily intended as a memorial to the war dead of the university, but back of this fine thought was another that cannot be overlooked, and that was the ultimate disposition of the ground and the structure as a place for intercollegiate football. The thousands of personal expenditures by Illini and their friends, resulting in the total of $1,735,000, more than justify to me the place of intercollegiate football

MAETALL WINS INAUGURAL IN HIALEAH PARK

Record Crowd of 16,298 Sees Opening.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP).—Dewitt Page's 5 year old Maetall, a longshot, came driving home in a photo finish today to win the $5,000 added Inaugural handicap in Hialeah Park.

A record opening crowd of 16,298 saw Maetall run the favorites into the ground to pay $38.40. The bay horse, which had finished second in his previous six starts over a three year period, was a head in front of P. L. Kelley's Cardinalis at the finish, with Mrs. E. Graham Lewis' Great Union three lengths back, in third position.

Circle M ranch's Speed to Spare, the 3 to 1 favorite, tired in the stretch after setting the early pace and finished fourth, a nose behind Great Union.

Supremador Runs Away.

Maetall, in earning $4,990 for his owner, ran the six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 over a dull track and paid $16.40 to place and $9.10 to show. Cardinalis, grouped with four others in the field, paid $6 and $3.80. Great Union returned $8 to show.

The start was delayed eight minutes while handlers chased W. E. Boeing's Supremador, which threw his rider, Ronnie Nash, and ran away for several furlongs. Nash, unhurt, remounted Supremador and rode him in the race.

Jockey Don Meade, the country's leading rider last season, took Speed to Spare out in front at the start, but the 7 year old gelding yielded the lead to Maetall entering the stretch. There Porter Roberts kept Maetall ahead in a battle with Cardinalis, which was given a fine ride by Maurice Berger.

The parimutuel handle on the eight races was $449,902, a 20 per cent increase over last year's opening day.

KEIPER SCORES DOUBLE.

Polaris made his bid in the stretch and just managed to head off Mascot, with Carnarvon third. The winner's time for the six furlongs was 1:13 2-5. Polaris paid $7.40.

Keiper also was up on Pop's Rival, winner in the third race, and shared the day's honors with R. L. Vedder, who triumphed on Fancy That in the First and Nemont in the fifth.

Power House Ties for 3d in Classic League

The Power House bowling team tied the Monarchs and Michelobs for third place in the Wednesday division of the Classic league last night in the Chicago Recreation. The Monarchs dropped three games to the leading Pabsts and the Power House took three from the Michelobs. Schlitz won three games from Koenig-Braus, and the Ambrosias swept their series from the Pragers. This is the first time in the history of the league that each winning team took all three games from its opponent.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Bay Carse, $13.10 straight, $6.20 place, $3.30 show; Sack, $23.90 place, $7.80 show; Stagefright, $3.00 show.

BAY CARSE began to move up around the turn, slipped thru on the inside, and drew away at the end. SACK, away very fast, showed good speed and held on well. STAGEFRIGHT moved up very fast around the turn, handled his weight well, and is sure to improve over this effort. LITTLE BOLO made a game effort. HARD LOSER was never a factor.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs and a half. Purse, $1,100. (Claiming prices, $4,000 to $5,000.) Four year olds and up. Start good. Won easily, place same. Went to post at 3:30. Off at 3:31½. Two dollar mutuels paid: Floragina, $19.80 straight, $7.50 place, $6.00 show; Indian Lodge, $4.40 place, $3.80 show; The Thrush, $16.00 show.

FLORAGINA, showing good speed, assumed command early, was kept in the best going all the way and won nicely in hand. INDIAN LODGE moved up gamely, made his bid in the stretch and was next best. THE THRUSH closed a big gap. BUCKING lacked speed and never was prominent.

FIFTH RACE—Seven furlongs. (Out of chute.) Purse, $1,200. Four year olds and up. Start good. Won handily, place driving. Went to post at 4:00. Off at 4:02. Two dollar mutuels paid: Count Morse, $3.20 straight, $2.50 place, $2.10 show; Mar Le, $7.50 place, $5.90 show; Dolly Val, $2.90 show.

COUNT MORSE got away well, was sent to the front, and under steady restraint saved ground and won nicely in hand. MAR LE moved up determinedly in the stretch but could not close on the winner. DOLLY VAL came thru on the inside and finished fast. EASY MON ran an even race.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. The Hialeah Park Inaugural handicap. Purse, $5,000 added. Three year olds and up. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 4:32. Off at 4:38½. Winner, b. h., 5, by Tall Timber-Duley, by Light Brigade. Owner, Maemere farm. Trainer, G. E. Phillips. Net value to winner, $4,990; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $250. Time, 1:11 4-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Maetall, $38.40 straight, $16.40 place, $9.10 show; Cardinalis, $6.00 place, $3.80 show; Great Union, $8.00 show.

MAETALL, away very fast, was kept close to the early pace, began to move up around the turn, caught SPEED TO SPARE in the last furlong, drew away, but tired at the end and just lasted to win. CARDINALIS was hustled along from the start, closed with a good burst of speed, and would have won in another stride. GREAT UNION, unable to keep up in the early part, finished with a rush. SPEED TO SPARE displayed keen early speed but tired in the last sixteenth. SUPREME SPEED finished gamely. LADY MARYLAND trailed far back. SUPREMADOR broke thru the gate and ran away half a mile before the start. He was placed on the outside of the stalls. DUNADE was never a factor. MANY STINGS ran a good race.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and a sixteenth on the turf. Purse, $1,000. (Claiming prices, $2,000 to $2,500.) Four year olds and up. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 5:08. Off at 5:08½. Winner, ch. g., 8, by Hourless or White Satin-Sarah Ginger, by Spanish Prince II. Owner, Calumet farm. Trainer, B. A. Jones. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. BRUINS BEATEN BY INDIANAPOLIS KAUTSKYS, 47-45

Free Throw Proficiency Wins for Hoosiers.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

If basketball free throws were rated on a scholastic basis, the Indianapolis Kautskys would be told to step to the head of the class and the Chicago Bruins would be made to stay after school. That would be the natural situation after the manner in which the Kautskys defeated the Bruins, 47 to 45, in their National league game in the 132d armory last night.

Altho outscored in field goals, 14 to 20, the Hoosier lads connected on 19 of 23 tries from the penalty line, while the Bruins could make good on only five out of eighteen. The Bruins are now in danger of flunking out completely in the free tossing class, for they have made only 8 of their last 33 efforts, blowing 12 of 15 in losing a 20 to 19 game to Sheboygan Sunday night.

Chicago, Oshkosh Now Tied.

The Bruins' defeat, their second in six games at home, dropped them to a .300 rating and permitted Oshkosh, which last night defeated the Akron Firestones, to join them in a second place tie. The Chicagoans invade Hammond Sunday afternoon and play Detroit on the armory floor next Wednesday night.

The game was a thriller all the way, having been given the proper overture by a close fight between Elmhurst and Armour Tech in the first of a series of college preliminaries to Bruin games. Elmhurst, which led, 12 to 11, at the half, had to stand off a spirited Tech rally before winning, 28 to 26.

Score Tied 11 Times.

The score in the Bruin-Kautsky game was tied 11 times. The Indianapolis team led at the quarter, 12 to 9, but a basket by Elmer Johnson late in the second period gave the Bruins a half time margin of 23 to 22.

A long shot by Solly Suddith, late of Indiana, brought the Hoosiers out of the third quarter with a 34 to 32 lead. The Bruins then unveiled a new star in Stan Zadel, who promptly tied the score and presently sent the Chicagoans ahead, 39 to 36. They were ahead, 41 to 38, until Ernie Andres, former Indiana U. captain, made 3 points for Indianapolis.

Young Scores 16 Points.

Zadel's third basket was matched by Hugh Compton's two free throws and then Andres fired in a one hander and Suddith added another before George Hogan made the final Chicago basket.

Jewel Young, one time Purdue sharpshooter, led the scoring with six baskets and four free throws, delivered before a fifth foul eliminated him with six minutes still to go. Mike Novak, with five baskets and three penalty tosses led the Bruins, altho Frank Linskey, rapidly becoming one of the best spot shots in the league, contributed six baskets. Lineups:

CRISLER SEEKS TO FILL THAT DATE LEFT BY CHICAGO

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 10 (Special).—Fritz Crisler today returned from the coaches' meeting on the west coast and set to work on the job of filling the Michigan football team's open date, Nov. 2, which once was occupied by Chicago.

"Inasmuch as some schedule juggling will be required," he said, "it will take time to reach a decision. However, I hope to fill the date within a week."

Crisler indicated that all possibilities will be considered before any plans are made. Noble Kizer, Purdue athletic director, yesterday suggested that his team be scheduled, since they also were to meet Chicago. A game with Tennessee or a second game with Ohio State also are possibilities.

SMYTHE DRAWS LIGHT REBUKE FOR RAZZING BRUINS

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—Censuring Connie Smythe, president of the Toronto Maple Leafs, for his newspaper advertisment in Boston, the National Hockey league board of governors today left themselves one incident still to settle.

Charges against Ernie Savard, president of the Montreal Canadiens, accused of shoving Referee King Clancy in protesting a decision and making statements detrimental to the game, were tabled until the next meeting because Savard was unable to be present.

Patrick Protests Savard's Remarks.

In a recent game Clancy called back two goals scored by Montreal, which subsequently was defeated. Savard put up a vigorous protest at the time. Lester Patrick, president of the New York Rangers, also accused Savard of saying the Rangers were one of the league's poorest paid teams. Patrick said it wasn't so.

Smythe's case centered on an advertisment he inserted in Boston declaring the Bruins played defensive hockey and urging the fans to turn out to see a real team [Toronto] play.

Art Ross, head of the Stanley cup champions, had asked that Smythe be fined $1,000 under a league rule against statements prejudicial to attendance. But the governors decided the advertisment did not hurt the Bruins' attendance and tempered the censure to making a statement considered detrimental by the Boston club.

All but One to Qualify.

The governors went thru the routine of approving the Stanley cup playoffs in last year's form, which will eliminate only one club at the end of the regular schedule.

The rule limiting the goalie's stick to 3½ inches will be enforced and play will not be stopped when the puck strikes an official in the center zone.

Loyola Tries to End Losing Habit Tonight

Meeting Omaha university, the 100th school to send a basketball team against one of Coach Lennie Sachs' Loyola teams since Sachs took over in 1923, Loyola will endeavor to break its six game losing streak in the Loyola gymnasium tonight. The Ramblers, who have won three games and lost six, will face a quintet that has won four of its six contests.

Three sophomores and two juniors will start for Omaha. The sophomores are Ron Salyards, center, and Dean Hilbourne, forward, each of whom has scored 56 points this year, and Bob Matthews, guard, who has made 46 points. Frank Donahue, the other forward, led Omaha in scoring in North Central conference competition last season with 79 points, and has scored 34 this year. The fifth man is Bob Marks, guard, also a junior. Salyards and Hilbourne are 6 feet 2 inches tall; Matthews and Marks, 6 feet 1 inch, and Donahue, 5 feet 10 inches.

Loyola, lacking the height to match most of its opponents, will employ the same type of attack that it used against Kansas Monday in giving its best performance of the year. Probable lineups:

PAYCHEK KNOCKS OUT GEORGI FOR 31ST STRAIGHT

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 10 (AP).—Johnny Paychek, heavyweight title contender from Des Moines, Ia., scored his 31st straight boxing victory with a four round knockout of Pietro Georgi, rugged Los Angeles Italian, here tonight before a crowd of 2,000.

BEGIN OAKLAND $5,000 OPEN GOLF TOURNEY TODAY

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 10 (AP).—Steady rain today soaked the Sequoyah course where the $5,000 Oakland 72 hole medal play golf tournament starts tomorrow. Small lakes appeared on low level greens, but those in charge agreed the golf show must go on.

Illinois Solid for Football, Says Willard

here at Illinois. There could be no more concrete evidence of the sympathy of all connected with the university for the game.

"And as far as other benefits accruing from football in a direct, athletic manner, we can point to the university ice skating rink. It cost $366,159, paid out of the funds of the athletic association. Forgetting that this was a result of football, I must stress the fact that 'G.' Huff always insisted that athletic receipts be used only for the enjoyment and use of the entire student body, and not confined to a minority. The ice skating rink is a practical proof of this idea."

Attends Sports Events.

So much for Dr. Willard's conception of the university's attitude toward football. As an educator, he makes it quite plain that the prime function of a university is to teach and equip young men and women. As a sports follower who attends all home football, baseball, and basketball contests of the Illini he regards football as the most important part of the university's athletic makeup, but only as an extra-curricular activity. In Dr. Willard's book, the boy entering Illinois is regarded as a student primarily, and as an athlete incidentally.

Dr. Willard thinks that football is overemphasized, but this opinion is not the narrow one of the bloc who would drop the game completely. He makes himself clear on this, for he is a staunch believer in intercollegiate athletics. His point is that football occupies the center of the university athletic stage to a degree he thinks is not proportionate. The perfect university athletic setup, to the Illinois president, would be a balanced distribution of interest in all intercollegiate sports, so that the football hero and his coaches would not tower over the stars in basketball, baseball, track, and other sports in the public eye.

Phillips, Du Sable and Lindblom each gained its second straight victory in the senior division of the central section in the Chicago Public High School Basketball league yesterday, while Tilden opened its campaign with a 31 to 29 victory over Farragut in the closest game of the program.

Tilden overcame Farragut's 15 to 11 half time lead to go in front at three-quarters, 21 to 20, and added a 10 to 9 edge in the final period.

Lindblom made the outstanding rally of the day to defeat Harrison, 35 to 23, after trailing at the half, 15 to 12. Lindblom went in front at the end of the third quarter, 20 to 19, and finished with a 15 point spurt. Phillips also was forced to come from behind to beat Gage Park, 26 to 23, after trailing, 18 to 14, when the final period got under way. Phillips, however, led at the half, 11 to 7. Du Sable defeated Kelly, 34 to 28, piling up a 25 to 16 lead for three-quarters. Lineups:

ASSOCIATED GAS FILES PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Dividends Forbidden by SEC Order.

Utica, N. Y., Jan. 10 [Special].—The Associated Gas and Electric company, top holding concern in a billion dollar utility network, today filed a petition for reorganization under chapter 10 of the bankruptcy law in federal court here. It is the biggest utility system to enter bankruptcy court since Samuel Insull's 5 billion dollar empire crashed in 1932.

R. J. Whiteford blames action on SEC order.

The petition climaxed a day of fast moving events. The Securities and Exchange commission cut off the company's principal source of income and the president of the company announced this action left no alternative but the bankruptcy petition.

Another Petition Expected.

Company sources said that the Associated Gas and Electric corporation, the system's biggest subsidiary holding concern, will probably also file a bankruptcy plea.

A. G. & E. company owns the entire capital stock of A. G. & E. corporation, which was forbidden by the SEC to pay dividends on the stock or $557,000 interest on a $71,805,120 note held by the parent company. The corporation controls nearly all of the system's 172 far flung operating and subholding concerns, and its dividend and interest payments are almost the only source of income of the A. G. & E. company.

Roger J. Whiteford, newly elected president of the top holding unit, said the SEC action forced bankruptcy by leaving the company no ready cash with which to pay $262,400 interest due next Monday on certain of its debentures.

Reports Larger Cash Holdings.

"The Associated Gas system has in it today more cash than at any time for several years, and the operating companies have shown a tremendous increase in earnings in the last few months," Whiteford said.

The petition listed liabilities of $444,345,050 and assets of an equal amount. J. Lee Rice, treasurer of the company who filed the petition, said that economies were wiped out by taxes which jumped from $6,000,000 in 1928 to $18,000,000 last year, and by rate reductions of $19,000,000 in the same period.

Last November the SEC ordered subsidiary companies not to pay dividends or interest to the parent company after it had rejected a "streamlined" integration plan on the grounds that it attempted to sustain too great a capitalization.

Plea Pending Nearly a Month.

On Dec. 13 A. G. & E. corporation asked permission to make the dividend and interest payments, but this was denied today.

The SEC order said that the proposed payments were "designed to benefit A. G. & E. company without regard to possible effect on A. G. & E. corporation. To pay dividends . . . would be to impair the financial integrity of the corporation."

Company officials said A. G. & E. company ordinarily keeps only a few thousand dollars on hand. It was the custom for funds to be passed up to the top unit by subsidiaries in the form of dividends or interest on borrowings.

In Washington, D. C., Jerome Frank, chairman of the SEC, and Robert E. Healy, a commissioner, said the company needed reorganizing. Healy asserted the large amount of cash now in the system meant little because of the difficulty of moving it up to the parent companies.

Trace Connection with Hopson.

Healy said that he had found Whiteford, who was formerly general counsel for the Federal Housing administration, "a very fair and honestly inclined sort of gentleman," but that he "owed his presence" in Associated Gas to two sisters and a brother-in-law of Harry C. Hopson, who headed the company until his retirement in 1935.

During the senate stock market inquiry in 1933 Hopson disclosed that he and his family drew $3,187,000 in profits from the system between 1929 and 1933. Other official investigations have been made of the system during the last 15 years.

Healy said that the receivership should be beneficial for the system, because "it ought to free the sound operating companies."

Re-elect Mayer for Third Term as A. of C. Head

Oscar G. Mayer, president of Oscar Mayer & Co., meat packer, yesterday was elected president of the Chicago Association of Commerce for the third consecutive term. The vote was the largest in the association's history. Only once before had a president served more than two years.

Oscar G. Mayer.

Donald M. Nelson, executive vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was named first vice president of the association. Ten other vice presidents were elected, including four who will fill new offices created to supervise the work of putting the Greater Chicago plan into operation.

New Offices Created.

The four new offices and the men named to fill them are Vice president, all-Chicago council, Frank A. Hecht, industrialist; vice president, education and culture, William Bachrach of the Dearborn company; vice president, special events, Avery Brundage of Avery Brundage company, and vice president, construction industries, Gerhardt F. Meyne, contractor.

The other vice presidents are Lawrence H. Whiting, American Furniture Mart; C. M. Wynne, Overseas Industries, Inc.; C. J. Whipple, Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.; Richard Hackett, Central Manufacturing district; Thomas B. Hogan, Yellow Cab company, and Guy E. Reed, Harris Trust and Savings bank. A. R. Floreen, vice president of the City National Bank and Trust company, was elected general treasurer of the association.

William R. Dawes, who headed the association from 1924 to 1928, was the only president other than Mayer elected for more than two years.

Helped Launch New Plan.

Mayer's reëlection is in recognition of his work in helping to launch the Greater Chicago plan for civic improvement, associates said.

As vice president of the All-Chicago council, Hecht's job will be to develop a city-wide council to act on all matters affecting the city's continued progress and welfare. Bachrach will endeavor to focus attention on Chicago's position as an educational and cultural center.

Brundage was named to develop Chicago events of nation-wide interest of types comparable with the New Orleans Mardi Gras for the purpose of attracting visitors to the city. Meyne will attempt to solve problems retarding the development of the construction industry in the city.

General Electric Orders Rise 77 Pct. in Quarter

Orders received by the General Electric company during the fourth quarter of 1939 totaled $112,166,535, or 77 per cent more than in the final 1938 quarter, Charles E. Wilson, president, announced yesterday. Total orders for last year aggregated $360,748,386, a gain of 43 per cent over the $252,176,223 for 1938.

MANUFACTURERS PLAN CAMPAIGN TO BOOST LATIN AMERICAN TRADE

A campaign to increase Illinois exports to Latin America by at least 50 per cent will get under way Tuesday at a meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers association at the Hotel Sherman.

Knud Nielsen, chairman of the association's foreign trade committee and manager of foreign sales of the Belden Manufacturing company, said in announcing the meeting that conditions are favorable for a large increase in Latin American trade.

"As a result of the war Illinois and other midwestern states are in a position to obtain a good share of the Latin American business which formerly went to Germany and Great Britain," he said.

"Elimination of German competition alone places the United States in a position to increase its trade in Latin America 50 per cent."

WALGREEN PICKS TWO DIRECTORS; SON PRESIDES

Stockholders of the Walgreen company yesterday elected A. L. Starshak, vice president, and R. E. Walker, manager of the agency division, to the board of directors. The annual meeting was presided over for the first time by Charles R. Walgreen Jr., president of the company and son of its founder.

Active direction of the vast drug enterprise was placed in the hands of Walgreen and another young executive, Justin W. Dart, general manager, by the recent death of the senior Walgreen. The meeting had been adjourned until yesterday because of Mr. Walgreen's death.

One of the two vacancies on the board had existed for more than a year and the second was caused by the death of Mr. Walgreen. At a director's meeting later in the day all officers were reëlected, altho the office of chairman of the board was left unfilled.

CUDAHY PACKING RE-ELECTS ALL OF ITS OFFICERS

Officers of the Cudahy Packing company were reëlected yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors in Chicago, after the stockholders, meeting in Portland, Me., had elected the directors earlier in the day.

The reëlected officers include E. A. Cudahy, chairman of the board, and E. A. Cudahy Jr., president.

The two Cudahys, William Diesing, F. W. Hoffman, L. C. Steele, and F. E. Wilhelm were reëlected directors. P. B. Thompson was elected to the board to replace A. W. Ruf, who retired after being with the company 50 years. Thompson was elected treasurer of the company last year.

Canadian Loan Is Problem to U. S. Investors

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—Canada's first national war loan, on which subscription books will open Monday, poses a serious problem for Americans with billions invested in business in Canada, important Wall street sources said today.

If Americans do not participate in the loan some fear it may not set well with Canadian customers, it was explained, but at the same time the neutrality law prevents Americans from buying the bonds.

A good part of the American stake in the dominion is in the form of Canadian incorporated subsidiaries of American companies. Washington legal experts said today such subsidiaries, incorporated under the laws of Canada, could invest their own profits or surpluses in the new Canadian bonds without violating the neutrality act.

Doubt Transfer of Funds Legal.

These experts, however, said they did not regard as legal the transfer of money by an American parent corporation to a Canadian subsidiary for such purposes.

Some Wall street sources said there was doubt among some corporation lawyers as to the status of wholly owned subsidiaries, and that the question as to whether they could invest might have to be interpreted.

Head officers of American corporations with Canadian branches and subsidiaries were said to have received word thru Canadian banks and other channels of the forthcoming loan this week with considerable uneasiness. Some said word was passed along in a manner which seemed to indicate their Canadian businesses were expected to take their share of the bonds.

Neutrality Law Is Cited.

It was pointed out that the neutrality law enacted last November makes it unlawful, under section 7, "for any person within the United States to purchase" any bonds or other obligations issued by a foreign country after it has gone to war. Many Canadian subsidiaries of American companies are incorporated in Canada, and under Canadian law, treated as Canadian corporations.

Canadian Finance Minister J. L. Ralston, in discussing plans for the loan, said it would be purely a domestic loan offered only to Canadian investors, and was not in any sense a "forced loan" in that any classes of investors were being told that they must subscribe. Announcement of the amount of the loan, the interest rate and maturity, is expected Friday.

The latest estimate of the department of commerce placed investments of United States citizens in Canada at $3,809,000,000.

LARGER OUTPUT FORCES DECLINE IN HOG PRICES

Rates Off 40c Since Start of Week.

The best grade of live hogs sold yesterday in the Chicago market at $5.50 a hundred pounds. This compared with a peak price of $9.40 reached early last September immediately after the outbreak of war in Europe.

Yesterday's break in prices, which carried top grade hogs down 40 cents from the quotations prevailing at the beginning of the week, marked a continuation of the almost uninterrupted decline which has been under way since last September. Two factors—the near record production of pork and the shrinkage in export sales—are blamed for the decline.

Feed Corn Unprofitable.

At present prices, live stock men said, it is unprofitable for farmers to feed corn to their hogs. They can realize more on their grain by pledging it to the government for loans at the rate of 57 cents a bushel or by selling it on the open market.

Hog receipts at the Chicago market yesterday totaled 29,000 head, including shipments made direct to packers. This raised the total for the first three days of the week to 103,700 head which compares with 77,909 head on the corresponding days of last year. In the corresponding period last week [which included the New Year's holiday] receipts amounted to 59,141 head.

Production Sharply Higher.

The market weakness developed as the department of agriculture made public its report on December pork production. The report disclosed that pork production last month was the largest for any month since January, 1934. In only one month since December, 1928, has domestic production exceeded last month's total.

Packers slaughtered 5,236,421 hogs in December against 4,436,799 in November, 1939, and 4,346,079 in December, 1938. The month's production was 32 per cent higher than in December, 1937.

Packers said yesterday that export demand for American pork products is not large enough to absorb the increased production which is depressing the market. The bulge in

Furniture Business Better; Chicago Shows Set Records

Buyers of furniture, pots, pans, linens, lamps, bedding, refrigerators, radios, and every other item used in the modern home are pouring into crowded exhibits at the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart this week. Officials of the markets reported yesterday that the buyers are not just "looking around," but are placing substantial orders.

The annual mid-winter house furnishings market opened Monday and will continue for two weeks. New records are being established in almost every division—sales are soaring, attendance is the largest on record, prices are higher, more quality goods is being sold, more exhibits are being shown.

Chicago Leads Wholesale Field.

Already the 14 year old furniture expositions have established Chicago as the largest wholesale furniture market in the United States. Far outstripping other centers, Chicago accounted for a billion dollars in wholesale housefurnishing business last year, or 40 per cent of the nation's total of 2½ billions.

During the current market buyers are expected to order nearly $100,000,000 in house furnishings, according to the market officials. Follow-up orders, placed after the market is over, may boost the total to two or three times that figure.

Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the American Furniture Mart, where the National Home Furnishings exposition is being held, reported that registrations of buyers last night passed the 7,000 mark or 10 per cent more than a year ago.

Number of Buyers up 8 Per Cent.

Percy Wilson, managing director of the Merchandise Mart and its International House Furnishings exposition, reported an attendance of 5,336 buyers from 47 states, a gain of 8 per cent over the first three days of the 1939 market.

The Merchandise Mart has 1,800 exhibitors, and the American Furniture Mart 1,500. More than 22,000 buyers are expected to attend the exhibitions before the end of the current market.

Wilson said that orders were being placed in substantial volume 3 days before the market officially opened. This, he said, along with an increa in the size of buyers' orders and signs that buying will hold up well for the remainder of the showing, indicate that this exposition will be the largest ever staged in Chicago.

Current Inventories Low.

Whiting said that the business pickup in the final quarter of 1939 has depleted retailers' inventories and spurred buying. House furnishings men are confident that sales will be good this year, he said, predicting that half a million new single family homes will be built in 1940. This will add half a billion dollars to the industry's volume, Whiting estimated.

Expansion of the markets to include all types of house furnishings and appliances has greatly increased their volume of business, he said. Originally only furniture was sold.

U. S. STEEL SHIPS LARGEST AMOUNT SINCE APRIL, '37

Shipments of finished steel products by subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation totaled 1,304,284 tons in December, highest since April, 1937, when approximately 40,000 more tons were shipped. The December figure compared with 1,270,894 in November, the corporation reported yesterday, and with 694,204 in December, 1938.

"Big Steel" shipped a total of 10,652,150 tons during 1939, according to the report, against an adjusted 1938 total of 6,655,749 tons.

LOSS CONVERTED INTO NET PROFIT BY N. Y. CENTRAL

The New York Central railroad reported yesterday that it had replaced its 20 million dollar loss incurred in 1938 with a small profit during the 11 months ended Nov. 30, 1939.

Net income, after charges, of railroads reporting yesterday follows:

CHICAGO BANKS MAY BE C. & E. I. BOND TRUSTEES

Reorganization Plan Approved by Court.

Kenneth D. Steere, chairman of the board of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway company, yesterday announced that Chicago banks will probably be made trustees of the two new bond issues which the reorganized railroad will issue.

Kenneth D. Steere.

[The Tribune has advocated for many years that Chicago banks be made trustees, registrars, and transfer agents for security issues of corporations whose operations are centered in this area.]

Court Makes Plain Operative.

Steere made the statement after attending a hearing at which Federal Judge John P. Barnes indicated he would approve the confirmation of the vote of security holders of the C. & E. I. Later in the day Judge Barnes signed an order approving the vote and setting in motion the machinery which will return the railroad to private management after more than six years in the federal courts.

When asked what Chicago banks would be made trustees of the bond issues, Steere said the reorganization committee appointed yesterday by Judge Barnes had taken no action on the matter yet, but that he "hoped

Chicago-Made Farm Implements Encircle Globe

EVERY agricultural nation on earth, from Siberia to the Argentine uses Chicago-made farm implements. Japan, China, Australia, South Africa, the Fiji Islands—wherever you find farms, you will find Chicago tractors, harvesters, plows or threshing machines at work. In the concentrated manufacture of agricultural implements and farm operating equipment, Chicago leads the world. The total value of farm implements made here yearly is well over $100,000,000. This essential industry has done its part to give Chicago its present position in the commercial world.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Eighth, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

New York Stocks.

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—A stock market tired of small liquidation turned around in the late trading today and enabled leaders to erase early losses and even push ahead for fractional gains in many cases.

The reversal came, brokers said, not on account of any particularly favorable new items, but because offerings failed to appear at near the bid prices, and shorts, who had counted on further decline, began to cover.

Steels, motors, aircrafts, and utilities led in the final little buying boomlet, altho all were not able to hold their slight advances thru to the close.

Some miscellaneous manufacturing specialties received support from time to time, and a few of the rails came back after a disappointing earlier performance.

Dispatches from Washington were appraised cautiously. Many traders found indications of reduced governmental expenditures in the senate's approval of a proposal for a joint congressional budget making committee, but others raised a doubt as to whether the house could be induced to go along.

Acceptance, in general, by the house appropriations committee of the President's recommendations for immediate emergency defense and neutrality appropriations was about in line with what had been expected.

New York Bonds.

New York, Jan. 10 (AP).—Finnish, Norwegian, and Latin American government issues led a forward movement in the bond market today while most corporate loans fluctuated uncertainly.

Altho utilities in general gained slightly, bonds of the Associated Gas & Electric company, listed on the Curb, slumped 2 to more than 7 points on a voluntary reorganization action in Federal court and a Securities and Exchange commission decision forbidding Associated Gas & Electric corporation, a subsidiary, from paying or declaring dividends on its capital stock and interest on its 5 per cent cumulative note. Both stock and note are held by Associated Gas & Electric company. United States government loans were quiet, ending 10-32 point higher to 6-32 lower. Gains of around a point were common among the Finnish and Norwegian bonds. Dollar loans of Uruguay, Buenos Aires, Brazil, and Peru, were almost equally strong. .

Chicago Stocks.

A mixed trend prevailed in slow trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday with only one of the 95 issues reaching a new high. Declines outnumbered advances, but volume totaled only 29,000. Central and Southwest Utilities preferred again reached a new peak, climbing two points to 76. Volume leaders included Middle West corporation, up ⅝ to 9¾, and Commonwealth Edison, up ⅛ to 32¼.

Bank Stocks.

American National stock erased its Tuesday decline in bank stock trading yesterday, climbing back two points to 212. Chicago Title closed a point higher to 122 bid and Continental Illinois was half a point higher at 93 bid. Other issues were steady.

HARRIS TRUST APPOINTS TWO NEW DIRECTORS

Drever and Templeton Named to Board.

Several additional meetings of stockholders and directors of banks in Chicago and Cook county were held yesterday, and in most cases the boards and executive staffs were retained for 1940 with few changes.

Harris Trust and Savings bank shareholders reëlected all but two of the directors. The two, David A. Crawford, president of the Pullman company, and John P. Wilson of the law firm of Wilson & McIlvaine, withdrew their names in accordance with a revised provision of the Clayton act which will become effective Feb. 1.

Forbids Dual Directorships.

The act forbids an individual to be a director of more than one member bank of the federal reserve system in one city or contiguous territory. Crawford is a director of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago and Wilson is a member of the board of the First National bank of Chicago.

Crawford and Wilson were replaced on the Harris bank's board by Thomas E. Drever, president of the American Steel Foundries company, and Stuart J. Templeton of the Wilson & McIlvaine law firm.

Albert W. Harris, chairman of the board, told stockholders the bank had had a "most satisfactory" year, considering general business conditions, and complimented the officers for "doing a good job."

He said that 1939 net operating profits of $1,235,128 were equal to 7.15 per cent on invested capital, compared with the 6.52 per cent return represented by 1938 profits of $1,083,840.

Fenton and Others Reëlected.

At the meeting of the new board Howard W. Fenton, president, and the other officers were reëlected. Harold B. Bray, formerly assistant cashier, was promoted to assistant vice president, and James R. Webster was elected assistant cashier. William H. Froembgen was elected assistant secretary.

Stockholders of the First National Bank of Winnetka elected Gregory Durham, attorney, to the board of directors to fill a vacancy created by the death of his father, Raymond E. Durham. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Frederick W. Copeland was not filled, but all other directors were reëlected. The directors reelected the officers.

All directors and officers of the Mid-City National Bank of Chicago were reëlected. The board vacancy resulting from the death last year of Joseph Ott was not filled.

Bank Makes Promotions.

Howard E. Robertson was elected vice president of the Central National bank. William B. Gardner was advanced from assistant cashier to assistant vice president. Trevor L. Davies was named a junior loan officer.

H. W. Burmeister, a truck farmer, was elected a director of the Mount Prospect State bank. He replaces G. A. Connor, resigned. William J. Busse and Albert Froemling were named assistant cashiers.

Directors of the Amalgamated netka Trust and Savings bank and of the River Forest State bank were reelected.

Directors of the Amalgamated Trust and Savings bank were reelected. The board will meet today to appoint officers.

Chester W. Kulp, an attorney, was elected a director of the Mutual National Bank of Chicago to succeed Olof Olsen, who resigned after 23 years on the board. Roger Sheehy, an undertaker, was named to succeed the late Martin J. McNally.

Two Companies to Start Making 'Nylon' Stockings

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 10 [Special].—The Phoenix Hosiery company and the Holeproof Hosiery company today announced they will start commercial production in February of "Nylon" stockings knitted of yarn manufactured from coal and lime derivatives under a process developed by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. Mill executives said the high price of silk caused the companies to take an interest in the new product.

Clearing House Governors Elected by Board of Trade

Richard F. Uhlmann, head of the Uhlmann Grain company, Archer E. Hayes, of Hately Bros., and James A. Prindiville, of Thomson & McKinnon, yesterday were elected governors of the Chicago Board of Trade Clearing House association at the annual meeting. Uhlmann and Hayes, together with A. W. Withrow, comprised the regular slate. Prindiville was nominated by petition. Officers of the exchange will be elected Jan. 12.

Business Bits

R. Cooper Jr., president of R. Cooper Jr., Inc., said yesterday that the company's exhibit of household appliances this week at 444 Lake Shore drive promised to attract 1,800 to 2,000 persons. The first day of the showing, he said, developed more business than the entire week last year. The company distributes General Electric products in this area.

Nathaniel Leverone, chairman of the Automatic Canteen Company of America, and Royal F. Munger, financial editor of the Chicago Daily News, were elected directors of the Metropolitan Trust company at the annual meeting of stockholders yesterday. Other directors were reëlected.

The Associated Fur Industries of Chicago, of which Louis E. Himmel is president, will hold its annual dinner meeting Jan. 15 at the Stevens hotel.

prices that occurred last September was based on the expectation that the war would stimulate demand for pork.

That demand has not materialized, and instead there has been a shrinkage in the export trade. It was explained that Europe was a heavy buyer of American pork products in the six months immediately preceding the war—buying apparently carried out in preparation for war. When the war began European nations were well stocked, and the demand since has been disappointingly small.

Far Below Former Level.

The United States exported 112 million pounds of pork in the first eleven months of 1939. Lard exports in the same period were 258 million pounds. In the 1920's this country found a market abroad for 300 to 600 million pounds of pork a year and exported 600 to 800 million pounds of lard annually. In the early 1920's exports of pork and lard reached peaks of more than a billion pounds each.

The increase in pork production in recent months has been one of the sharpest on record. Live stock men believe that production will be sustained again this month at the recent high level. Slaughtering of livestock other than hogs declined in December, government figures showed. Cattle slaughtering was the smallest since April.

Comparative Figures Given.

The 1939 production of pork, the government report showed, was the heaviest in five years. The following table shows comparative figures on the livestock slaughter in federally inspected plants since 1933:

	December Slaughter. Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
1938	757,557	4,346,079	1,347,422
1937	859,441	3,958,456	1,402,807
1936	986,839	4,681,100	1,573,065
1935	892,110	2,874,585	1,368,749
1934	795,844	4,196,894	1,294,896
1933	720,753	4,529,664	1,390,115
	Twelve Months. Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
1939	9,446,303	41,367,825	17,241,037
1938	9,776,037	36,186,410	18,060,136
1937	10,069,550	31,642,140	17,270,140
1936	10,971,595	36,054,968	17,215,811
1935	9,665,767	26,057,357	17,644,283
1934	9,943,086	43,876,343	16,055,475
1933	8,655,259	47,225,518	17,353,550

Lightweight and underweight hogs weakened with the best grades in yesterday's trading. Other live stock prices were irregular, some classes of cattle closing higher and lambs selling slightly below the levels of the preceding day.

SECURITY FIRMS EXPLAIN ETHICS LIMITS RIVALRY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—How investment banking ethics may operate to prevent one banker from taking business held by another was described to the monopoly committee today by a group of New York security underwriters.

Ethical considerations, they said, made some bankers reluctant to accept business customarily placed with another firm, unless the firm losing the business was first consulted or there was evidence the borrower and his former banker could no longer continue in a "happy relationship."

Lewis L. Strauss and John M. Schiff, partners of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Joseph R. Swan of Smith, Barney & Co., contended nevertheless that there was competition in the investment banking business.

However, they expressed disapproval of "shopping around" on the part of borrowers or of "price competition." That type of competition, they said, would be disadvantageous to the borrower and the investing public as well.

Canada Eases Restrictions Against Flow of Capital

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 10 [Special].—The foreign exchange control today acted toward encouraging securities trading and the import of capital by ruling that citizens of the United States and other non-Canadians with dollar credits in Canada may buy securities and secure dollar exchange upon their sale. When the European war broke out Canada imposed strict money controls. Up to now, an investor having bought securities in Canada could make switches into other securities, but could not withdraw his dollar credits from the dominion.

Nash-Kelvinator Reduces Prices of Refrigerators

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10 [Special.]—Reductions ranging from $30 to $60 on 1940 model electric refrigerators were announced today by the Nash-Kelvinator corporation. Distributors, wholesalers and salesmen attending a convention here were advised by Frank R. Pierce, general sales manager of the corporation's Kelvinator division, that economies in distribution and improvements in mass production made the price cuts possible.

CHICAGO BUILDER LAUNCHES LARGE WATERWAY TUG

The Horace E. Horton, 135 foot river tug, was launched yesterday at the Calumet Shipyards and Dry Dock company's shipyards at 9367 Harbor avenue. It was built at a cost of $135,000 for the John I. Hay company, Chicago operator of barges on the Illinois waterway and the Mississippi river.

One of the largest in the Chicago area, the tug, named in honor of the founder of the Chicago Bridge and Iron company, is a twin screw Diesel and is capable of developing 1,100 horsepower. A crew of 19 will man the tug. It will be operated 24 hours a day, towing barges loaded with gravel, coal, grain, steel and other bulk products.

Work on the tug was begun about four months ago by the Calumet company and it is expected to be completed in another 30 days. The Hay company operates five other tugs.

UNITED STATES EXPORTS GAIN IN THIRD WAR MONTH

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—The commerce department said today that in the third month of the European war United States merchandise exports increased to Canada, Latin America and Asia, counteracting a decline in shipments to Europe.

The department said that in November, Canada bought $51,262,000 worth of goods from the United States, compared with $38,517,000 in November, 1938. The month's exports to Mexico and other Latin portions of North America increased from $5,239,000 to $8,700,000, while exports to South America jumped from $23,310,000 to $38,986,000. Asiatic exports increased from $41,577,000 in November, 1938, to $53,365,000 in November, 1939.

The November exports to Europe, totaling $104,399,000, were about $6,000,000 smaller than in November, 1938. Germany's purchases were almost cut off by the allied blockade. The United Kingdom reduced purchases from $42,715,000 in November, 1938, to $31,485,000 in November, 1939. France's purchases were virtually unchanged but increased purchases were made by Russia, Italy, the Netherlands, and Sweden.

NORWAY GIVEN LARGE CREDIT BY UNITED STATES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—The United States today extended credits of $10,000,000 to Norway—a step widely regarded as another effort to bolster Scandinavia in the face of the soviet Russian invasion of Finland.

Officials compared it with $10,000,000 advanced to Finland shortly after Russia moved against her. Credits to Norway came up for discussion at the time of the loan to Finland.

Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, said the credits to Norway were being established by the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the Export-Import bank for the purchase in this country of agricultural products, manufactured goods, and other supplies.

Representative Fish [R., N. Y.] proposed in a joint resolution today that congress appropriate $20,000,000 for the purchase of food, clothing, raw materials and manufactured goods, except implements of war, for the relief of the people of Finland.

CHICAGO BANKS MAY BE C. & E. I. BOND TRUSTEES

Rail Reorganization Plan Approved by Court.

Steere explained that the two new stock issues will be handled by New York banks as registrars and transfer agents, since stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange must have registrar and transfer offices in New York. To appoint Chicago banks would cause unnecessary expense, he said.

Chicago banks and trust companies have long waged a campaign to bring business to Chicago which they believe belongs here. In addition to providing direct revenues, appointment of Chicago financial institutions as trustees, registrars, and paying agents increases the city's prestige as a financial center and brings additional new business here, they assert.

East Gets Western Issues.

Trustees for 81 security issues with a par value of $1,707,000,000 are located in New York. These 81 issues are securities of nine middle western railroads now being reorganized, including the C. & E. I., and six of the roads have their headquarters in Chicago. New York banks hold the trusteeships for all of the currently outstanding C. & E. I. issues.

The reorganization committee consists of Steere, Carrol M. Shanks, chairman of the general mortgage bond holders' committee, and John W. Barriger III., chief examiner of the railroad division of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The committee will select the new board of directors and arrange the exchange of securities and transfer of assets to the new company. Steere estimated that two or three months will be required to complete these transactions.

Bankruptcy Plea in 1933.

It was April 18, 1933, when Judge Barnes signed a petition allowing the C. & E. I. to enter a bankruptcy plea under section 77 of the federal bankruptcy act. It was the first road to enter such a plea in the Chicago district court, and will be the first in the country to emerge from the courts.

Total capitalization of the C. & E. I. is reduced from $88,831,754 to $61,000,000, and the annual fixed charges are cut from $2,274,000 to $657,000. The latter figure includes $152,000 rent for leased road. Contingent interest of $767,725 annually will be paid only if earned.

Present common stockholders will receive no equity interest in the new company. Preferred shareholders will receive one new share of common stock for each preferred share held.

CORN ON FARMS SETS RECORD FOR START OF YEAR

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10 (AP).—Stocks of corn held on American farms the first of the year were reported by the agriculture department today to total 1,930,814,000 bushels, the largest on Jan. 1 since such reports were started in 1927. Stocks a year ago totaled 1,819,710,000 bushels. The 10 year average [1929-'38] is 1,356,179,000 bushels.

The department said Jan. 1 stocks, which included grain sealed under government loans to farmers, constituted 81.8 per cent of the 1939 corn crop. Stocks were said to have been unusually heavy in the corn belt, where large supplies were carried over from the 1938 crop.

Stocks of wheat on farms on Jan. 1, were reported at 238,985,000 bushels. This included wheat sealed under government loans. These stocks were 15 per cent lower than the 280,088,000 bushels on farms a year earlier, but about 10 per cent larger than the 10 year average Jan. 1 stocks of 216,486,000 bushels.

Air Battle Over North Sea—Shoe Workers Vote Down Union—Court Awards $1,250,000 to Dodge Widow
